The Motherland:

Readings in Philippine Literature, 1994 Dancer Colum McCann, 2009-06-23 Taking his inspiration from biographical facts novelist McCann tells the erotically charged story of the Russian dancer Rudolf Nureyev through the cast of those who knew him And at the heart of the spectacle stands the artist himself willful lustful and driven by a never to be met need for perfection

No Heavenly Bodies Christine E. Evans, Lars Lundgren, 2023-11-28 The compelling and little known history of satellite communications that reveals the Soviet and Eastern European roles in the development of its infrastructure Taking its title from Hannah Arendt's description of artificial earth satellites No Heavenly Bodies explores the history of the first two decades of satellite communications Christine E Evans and Lars Lundgren trace how satellite communications infrastructure was imagined negotiated and built across the Earth's surface including across the Iron Curtain While the United States and European countries roles in satellite communications are well documented Evans and Lundgren delve deep into the role the Soviet Union and other socialist countries played in shaping the infrastructure of satellite communications technology in its first two decades Departing from the Cold War binary and the competitive framework that has animated much of space historiography and telecommunications history No Heavenly Bodies focuses instead on interaction cooperation and mutual influence across the Cold War divide Evans and Lundgren describe the expansion of satellite communications networks as a process of negotiation and interaction rather than a simple contest of technological and geopolitical prowess In so doing they make visible the significant overlaps shared imaginaries points of contact and exchange and negotiated settlements that determined the shape of satellite communications in its formative decades

The Landscape of Stalinism Evgeny Dobrenko, Eric Naiman, 2011-11-15 This wide ranging cultural history explores the expression of Bolshevik Party ideology through the lens of landscape or more broadly space Portrayed in visual images and words the landscape played a vital role in expressing and promoting ideology in the former Soviet Union during the Stalin years especially in the 1930s At the time the iconoclasm of the immediate postrevolutionary years had given way to nation building and a conscious attempt to create a new Soviet culture In painting architecture literature cinema and song images of landscape were enlisted to help mold the masses into joyful hardworking citizens of a state with a radiant utopian future all under the fatherly guidance of Joseph Stalin From backgrounds in history art history literary studies and philosophy the contributors show how Soviet space was sanctified coded and sold as an ideological product They explore the ways in which producers of various art forms used space to express what Katerina Clark calls a cartography of power an organization of the entire country into a hierarchy of spheres of relative sacredness with Moscow at the center The theme of center versus periphery figures prominently in many of the essays and the periphery is shown often to be paradoxically central Examining representations of space in objects as diverse as postage stamps a hikers magazine advertisements and the Soviet musical the authors show how cultural producers attempted to naturalize ideological space to make it an unquestioned part of the worldview Whether focusing on the new or the centuries old whether exploring a built cityscape a film documentary or the painting Stalin and Voroshilov in the Kremlin the authors offer a consistently fascinating journey through the landscape of the Soviet ideological imagination Not all features of Soviet space were entirely novel and several of the essayists assert continuities with the prerevolutionary past One example is the importance of the mother image in mass songs of the Stalin period another is the boundless longing inspired in the Russian character by the burden of living amid vast empty spaces But whether focusing on the new or the centuries old whether exploring a built cityscape a film documentary or the painting Stalin and Voroshilov in the Kremlin the authors offer a consistently fascinating journey through the landscape of the Soviet ideological imagination 'We Belong to Them' Tünde Puskás,2009

This book explores what happens with ethnic and national identifications built on the same ethnocultural grounds but under different socioeconomic circumstances Territorial and non territorial minorities have traditionally been considered not susceptible to comparison because it was assumed that groups organized on different grounds were distinctively separate phenomena In this study the comparative method is used to throw new light on how ethnic and national identifications are constructed negotiated and re constructed in territorial and non territorial minority contexts The author investigates whether the ethnic and national identification and articulation processes of Hungarians in Slovakia and Hungarians in Sweden constitute different types of Hungarianness Drawing on extensive interview material the empirical focus is on the interaction of self narratives and public narratives The author seeks to challenge the notion that national minorities and diaspora communities are fundamentally different in their understanding of nationhood and their relationship to an external national homeland That Noble Quest David M. Althoen,2000 Anthems and the Making of Nation States Aleksandar Pavkovic,Christopher Kelen,2015-10-28

Anthems are symbolic means through which nations present themselves to the world Accordingly creating seven new nation states out of the bones of Yugoslavia required new anthems Why did these new states opt for century old national songs or failing this for the anthems without words What are the images and symbols that each of these states chose as their national signatures and how were these chosen This book explores a variety of images of nationhood or the absence of them in the lyrics of the official anthems and of competing national songs and traces their historical trajectory from the time of their conception to their legal entrenchment This is the first full length study into the symbolic representations of nationhood in the recently created nation states of the Balkans

Japanese War Orphans Jiaxin Zhong,2021-11-25 After Japan s defeat in August 1945 some Japanese children were abandoned in China and raised by Chinese foster parents They were unable to return to Japan even during the mass repatriation carried out by the Japanese government in the 1950s Most of them returned to Japan in the 1980s They are called Japanese war orphans They are victims of the Sino Japanese War and have been exploited and abandoned by the Japanese government They are also border people who have lived in the interstices between two nations China and Japan and are migrants who have exploited the gap in economic development between Japan and China to seek individual happiness

Modern East Asia underwent drastic social change These drastic social changes affected the lives of the Japanese war orphans and their families in a variety of ways Over the years Zhong has interviewed Japanese war orphans their Chinese foster parents and Japanese volunteers The title is an interview based sociological study of the issue of Japanese war orphans The first half of the Japanese war orphans lives were spent in China and the latter half in Japan It brings to the fore the dramatic personal histories of the Japanese war orphans surviving in the interstices between two nation states Through analyzing the issue of Japanese war orphans the research on the subject makes the following three points 1 the powerlessness of civilians caught up in modern warfare and the long lasting effects of modern warfare on the life histories of individuals and their families 2 the nature of the modern nation state which exploits and abandons its citizens as though they were expendable and 3 immigration as a product of modernization gaps Scholars pursuing studies in both Japanese society Chinese society and historians of the Sino Japanese war would find this an ideal read Discussing Trump's America

Online Vera Slavtcheva-Petkova, 2023-03-03 This book offers a novel grounded theory approach to the study of online comments about Donald Trump and the USA in countries with a turbulent relation with America China Mexico and Russia Slavtcheva Petkova advocates for a departure from Jürgen Habermas's public sphere and democratic deliberative framework introducing instead the concept of post deliberative public spheres The book provides a qualitative thematic analysis via the constant comparison method coupled with quantitative content analysis of more than 2200 social media comments posted from Trump's election in 2016 until July 2020 Three empirical chapters are devoted to the countries under study showing how it is possible to map the comments onto a spectrum of authoritarianism censored media to democracy free media Slavtcheva Petkova argues that existence and strength of an underpinning ideology and the scope that ideology leaves for constructive political discussions online is of key importance exploring themes such as identity patriotism and populism democracy power and responsibility Timely and innovative Trump's America Online astutely displays how post deliberative public spheres are valuable spaces for political talk despite the challenges they face across the globe Daily Report United States.
