The Music Of Solid Objects:

The Music of Solid Objects John W. Dickson, 1997-01-01 Proceedings of the Musical Association Musical Association (Great Britain), 1900 Edinburgh Companion to Ezra Pound and the Arts Preda Roxana Preda, 2019-01-22

Showcases Ezra Pound's close involvement with the arts throughout his career. The present volume of new interdisciplinary scholarship investigates the arts with which Pound had a lifelong interaction including architecture, ballet, cinema, music, painting, photography, and sculpture. Divided into 5 historically and thematically arranged sections, the 28 chapters foreground the shifting significance of art forms throughout Pound's life, which he spent in London, Paris, Rapallo, and Washington. The Companion maps Pound's practices of engagement with the arts, deepening areas of study that have recently emerged, such as his musical compositions. At the same time, it opens up new fields, particularly Pound's interaction with the performing arts, opera, dance, and cinema. The volume demonstrates overall that Ezra Pound was no mere spectator of the modernist revolution in the arts; rather, he was an agent of change, a doer and promoter who also had a deep emotional response to the arts.

Key Features: The first book to gather together all the different aspects of the subject of Pound and the arts. Chapters are devoted to topics never covered before: cinema, political anarchism, early music, Agnes Bedford, the artists Munch, Lekakis, Martinelli, Frampton. Presents the ways Pound's interests and activities in the arts change over time in a continuous story from his beginnings to his old age. Includes portraits of friendships and short biographies of artists connected to Pound, showing his personal impact in the arts world.

Webern and the Transformation of Nature Julian Johnson, 1999. This book is about the way in which a society constructs an idea of nature and the role that art and specifically music may have in the articulation of that idea. It explores such an idea in relation to Webern, whose music has been almost exclusively portrayed as abstract and autonomous. In opposition to the exclusively formalist concerns of post-Darmstadt Webern reception, this book argues that abstraction in music is understood fully only in relation to the material historical reality from which it abstracts and that musical modernism is more fully understood by exposing its underground roots in the aesthetics of romanticism.

Sonic Thinking Bernd Herzogenrath, 2017-02-23. Sonic Thinking attempts to extend the burgeoning field of media philosophy, which so far is defined by a strong focus on cinema, to the field of sound. The contributors urge readers to re-adjust their ideas of Sound Studies by attempting to think not only about sound by external criteria such as cultural meaning, but to think with and through sound. Series editor Bernd Herzogenrath's collection serves two interconnected purposes in developing an alternative philosophy of music that takes music serious as a form of thinking and in bringing this approach into a fertile symbiosis with the concepts and practices of artistic research, art philosophy, and science as heterogeneous yet coequal forms of thinking and researching. Including contributions by both established figures and younger scholars working on cutting-edge material and weaving artistic responses and interventions in between the more theoretical texts, Herzogenrath's collection provides a lively introduction to a fresh debate.
