The Musical Arts of Ancient China Mei Xiao, Bell Yung, Anita Wong, 2001 The Musical Arts of Ancient China Xiao Mei, 2001 The musical arts of ancient China Junying Fan, Chen Lin, Chinese Musicians' Association, Zhongguo Yishu Yanjiuyuan Yinyue Yanjiusuo, University of Hong Kong. resources in particular geographical regions While the papers at the colloquium focused on sound production they also explored the role of ethnomusicology as a discipline in guiding local decision making and interregional research co operation

The Oxford Handbook of Asian Philosophies in Music Education C. Victor Fung, Leonard Tan, 2024-07-30 This volume focuses on the collective wisdom of Asian philosophies and their implications for music education All twenty chapters are written by highly regarded philosophers and music educators steeped in various Asian traditions These chapters will include an explanation of a prominent philosophical tradition evidence in a contemporary music teaching and learning settings including its inception and historical development along with an explanation of how the philosophical tradition works in contemporary music education and suggestions for potential directions in the near and distant future The book is organized into five sections Section I is based on Chinese philosophical traditions which have the longest history and are some of the most influential across Asia and beyond Chapters in Section II present a snapshot of Japanese and Korean views beginning with the musical practices in the Joseon Period 1392 1910 that are still being practiced in South Korea today to Western influences in 19th century Japan A collection of philosophical traditions from South and Southeast Asia are contained in Section III ranging from the insights of King Bhumibol Adulyadej King Rama IX of Thailand an accomplished jazz musician to the Balinese notion of taksu a form of supreme energy and divine power crucial for compelling performances in the performing arts We venture into the Islamic and the Middle Eastern world in Section IV where the dance practices of the Hadhrami Arabs in the Malay Archipelago to traditional sharah music are contextualized within Islamic philosophy This section also describes the philosophical ideas of the 12th century Persian philosopher and founder of the Illuminationist Ishraq philosophy Shihab al Din al Suhrawardi arguing that his ideas have much to recommend music education as this approach requires students to listen in deeper ways absorb more abundantly and move beyond arts education to encompass the education of the whole person Section V concludes with a metaphorical view on a New Silk Road in music education in the 21st century where ideas are traded for mutual benefit and the development multicultural philosophies of music education While there are numerous publications on the philosophy of music education rooted in the Western philosophical traditions of ancient Greece the Asian philosophical voice is virtually silent outside of Asia and this volume aims to begin the long process of redressing this imbalance This volume will open readers to the richness of Asian philosophical sources and hopefully stimulate dialogues that could generate new insights and directions for further development cross pollination and application of some of the world s earliest philosophical traditions

Ethnomusicology Jaap Kunst, 2012-12-06 This booklet hardly needs a preface the contents I think speak for themselves It contains a short and carefully brought up to date resume of all that I as a private University Lecturer in Amsterdam have tried to teach my pupils It is intended as a general introduction to ethnomusicology before going on to the study of the forms of separate music cultures I sincerely hope that those who wish to teach themselves and to qualify in this branch of knowledge will find a satisfactory basis for self tuition in the matter here brought together Regarding the possibility of a new edition any critical remarks or information as to possible desiderata would be very gratefully received J K PREFACE TO THE SECOND EDITION My request for critical remarks and desiderata has not been ignored My sincere thanks to all who took the trouble to let me know what they missed in my booklet Through their collaboration the contents have undergone a considerable improvement and enlargement as compared to the original edition issued in 1950 by the Royal Tropical Institute Amsterdam under the title Musicologica I have taken care to add many particulars from non European sources with the result that now the book is no longer so Europe centric as it was
