Steady Digression To A Fixed Point:

A Steady Digression to a Fixed Point Rose Hobart, 1994 Hobart writes about the first 45 years of her life including her childhood in New York the start of her theatrical career in Chautauqua her adventures as a Hollywood actress the demise of three marriages and her efforts to clear her name after being blacklisted in Hollywood Of special interest is the sane perspective that Hobart now 89 brings to her story and her attention to the connections that pull these seemingly disjointed events together into a coherent story of a life Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR Alive Elizabeth Willis, 2015-04-14 Finalist for the 2016 Pulitzer Prize in Poetry American poet Elizabeth Willis has written an electrifying body of work spanning more than twenty years With a wild and inquisitive lyricism Willis one of the most outstanding poets of her generation Susan Howe draws us into intricate patterns of thought and feeling The intimate and civic address of these poems is laced with subterranean affinities among painters botanists politicians witches and agitators Coursing through this work is the clarity and resistance of a world that asks the poem to rise to this to speak its fury Cupboards of Curiosity Amelie Hastie, 2007 Amelie Hastie rethinks female authorship within film history by expanding the historical archive to include dollhouses scrapbooks memoirs cookbooks and ephemera Archiveology Catherine Russell, 2018-03-15 In Archiveology Catherine Russell uses the work of Walter Benjamin to explore how the practice of archiveology the reuse recycling appropriation and borrowing of archival sounds and images by filmmakers provides ways to imagine the past and the future Noting how the film archive does not function simply as a place where moving images are preserved Russell examines a range of films alongside Benjamin's conceptions of memory document excavation and historiography She shows how city films such as Nicole V dr s s Paris 1900 1947 and Thom Andersen s Los Angeles Plays Itself 2003 reconstruct notions of urban life and uses Christian Marclay s The Clock 2010 to draw parallels between critical cinephilia and Benjamin s theory of the phantasmagoria Russell also discusses practices of collecting in archiveological film and rereads films by Joseph Cornell and Rania Stephan to explore an archival practice that dislocates and relocates the female image in film In so doing she not only shows how Benjamin s work is as relevant to film theory as ever she shows how archiveology can awaken artists and audiences to critical forms of history and memory An Open Window Linda C. Ehrlich, 2000-08-28 The first book in English exclusively devoted to an analysis of the films of one of Spain s most important film directors V ctor Erice Drawing on original essays reprints and new translations from an international group of writers this anthology will help open a window into a deeper appreciation of Erice s three haunting feature length films The Spirit of the Beehive El esp ritu de la colmena 1973 El Sur 1982 and Dream of Light aka The Quince Tree Sun El sol del membrillo 1992 The book opens with a wide ranging introductory essay on major themes in Erice s films and writings and an extensive interview with the director in which he talks about the strategies and philosophies behind the making of his films Translations of three of his writings on early cinema follow Award winning essayists film critics and scholars then join their voices with those of a new generation of writers in an examination of the aesthetic historical and sociological forces at work in Erice's films. This broad array of writings opens a window not only onto three unforgettable films but also onto twentieth century Spanish society and onto world cinema as it passes beyond its first 100 years. An Open Window: The Cinema of Victor Erice will serve as an important resource to mark and measure the career of this director who along with Bunuel, Saura and Almodovar has helped show the world the creative range of the Spanish Cinema. The Films of Steven Spielberg Charles L. P. Silet, 2002 Silet English Iowa State U collects critical and scholarly explorations of the works of Steven Spielberg that have previously appeared in journals and books. The majority of the contributions are roughly contemporaneous with the film discussed and they are arranged in chronological order. The papers consider ten of Spielberg's films from Jaws to Saving Private Ryan. Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc. Portland, OR

Between the Bullets Michael Bliss, 2002 Through an examination of representative films from the director's Hong Kong and American periods Michael Bliss demonstrates that Woo should be regarded as a predominantly religious director in whose films action is the vehicle by virtue of which a concern with spirituality. Rungs on a Ladder Christopher Neame, 2003-06-24 Rungs on a Ladder looks at part of the movie industry from a unique perspective. Christopher Neame, son of director Ronald, started his career in the early 1960s at the very bottom but determinedly made his way to the top. Neame fondly recalls his learning years at Bray Studios and beyond. Simply and often amusingly he recounts his days with Hammer Films and observes many of the characters both in front of and behind the camera, names synonymous with those classic tales of Gothic horror: director Terrence Fisher, producers Anthony Hinds, Michael Carreras and Anthony Nelson Keys, screenwriter/producer Jimmy Sangster and of course Peter Cushing and Christopher Lee. Along the way he encounters those less obviously connected to Hammer like Joan Fontaine, Joseph Cotten, Norman Lloyd and Bette Davis. Never the one to reserve his critical eye for others alone, Neame willingly says mea culpa when deserved. The book begins with his rude awakening to the string and sealing wax world of Dracula, Prince of Darkness and follows his journey through sixteen subsequent productions including three Frankensteins, The Devil Rides Out which American distributors thought was going to be a Western and a couple of Mummy films. Neame also shares stories of his participation in non-genre ventures like Quatermass and the Pit, The Anniversary, Demons of the Mind and Fear in the Night. Includes 16 pages of photos. W.S. Van Dyke's Journal W. S. Van Dyke, 1996 White Shadows in the South Seas was a pioneering undertaking for a major studio at that time. Sending a fairly large company to a remote and relatively primitive area to film a fictional film with Hollywood actors interspersed with the local inhabitants was most unusual if not unique. And there were the risks in having two directors with entirely different approaches at the helm of one film. Thorold Dickinson and the British Cinema Jeffrey Richards, 1997-08-29 Explores in detail every aspect of the life and career of Thorold Dickinson 1903-1984 who has been called the major lost talent of the British film industry. Hugo Friedhofer Linda Danly, 1999-06-17 New in Paperback Surveys the impressive career of Hugo Friedhofer, one of Hollywood's extraordinary composers of music for the movies. The composer of music for over 120 films Friedhofer earned 9 Oscar nominations and received the award for his masterful score to The Best Years of Our Lives in 1946 His life is examined through essays personal letters and interviews with film historians and friends of the composer and an oral history with Friedhofer himself Paperback edition available July 2002
