Rhetoric And Marxism James Aune, 2019-06-26 This book is the first extended study about the relationship between Marxism and the rhetorical tradition Aune suggests that the classical texts of Marx and Engels wavered incoherently between positivist and romantic views of language and communication views made possible by the decline of the rhetorical tradition as a cultural force Though Western Marxism attempted to resolve this incoherence it lacked a satisfactory theory of its own Aune argues that the liberating impulse of Marxist tradition ultimately would be better served if we paid closer attention to the rhetorical history of the labor movement and to the role of public discourse in arousing or quieting revolutionary consciousness Encyclopedia of Communication Theory Stephen W. Rhetoric and Human Consciousness Craig R. Smith, 2017-04-12 For two decades students and instructors have relied on award winning author Craig Smith's detailed description and analysis of rhetorical theories and the historical contexts for major thinkers who advanced them He employs key themes from important philosophical schools in this well researched chronicle of rhetoric and human consciousness One is that rhetoric is a response to uncertainty The modern philosophers like the naturalists of ancient Greece and the Scholastics who preceded them tried to end uncertainty by combining the discoveries of science and psychology with rationalism Their aim was progress and a consensus among experts as to what truth is However where modernism proved ineffective rhetoric was revived to fill the breach Another significant theme is that different conceptions of human consciousness lead to different theories of rhetoric and for every major school of thought another school of thought forms in reaction Classic and contemporary examples demonstrate the usefulness of rhetorical theory especially its ability to inform and guide By providing probes for rhetorical criticism discussions also demonstrate that rhetorical criticism illustrates verifies and refines rhetorical theory Thus the synergistic relationship between theory and criticism in rhetoric is no different than in other arts Theory informs practice analysis of successful practice refines theory Smith's absorbing study has been expanded to include thorough treatments of rhetoric in the Romantic Era feminist and queer theory and historical context for the creation of rhetorical theory and its use in public address

Understanding African American Rhetoric Ronald L. Jackson II,Elaine B. Richardson,2014-05-22 This is an extraordinarily well balanced collection of essays focused on varied expressions of African American Rhetoric it also is a critical antidote to a preoccupation with Western Rhetoric as the arbiter of what counts for effective rhetoric Rather than impose Western terminology on African and African American rhetoric the essays in this volume seek to illumine rhetoric from within its own cultural expression thereby creating an understanding grounded in the culture s values The consequence is a richly detailed and well researched set of essays The contribution of African American rhetoric can no longer be rendered invisible through neglect of its tradition The essays in this volume neither seek to displace Western Rhetoric nor function as an uncritical paen to Afrocentricity and Africology This volume is both timely and essential timely in advancing a better understanding of the richly textured history that is expressed through African American discourse and essential as a counterpoint to the hegemonic influence of Greek and Roman rhetoric as the origin of rhetorical theory and practice Written in the spirit of a critical rhetoric this collection eschews traditional focus on public address and instead offers a rich array of texts in musical and other forms that address publics

Rhetoric and the Arts of Design

David S. Kaufer, Brian S. Butler, 2013-11-26 The design arts from the design of buildings and machines to software and interfaces are associated with types of knowledge and performance thought to be structured modular and systematic Such arts have become increasingly prestigious in our technocratic society Since Aristotle the art of rhetoric was conceived as a loosely structured practical art thought to be limited in the extent to which it could mimic more precise subject matters The art of rhetoric has been controversial since classical times but its status has sunk even lower since the industrial revolution a point when civic cultures began to cede authority and control to the cultures of specialized experts Many sympathizers of rhetoric have resisted its decline by calling for a civic art of public discourse to stand in opposition to a technocratic specialized discourse that has come increasingly to disenfranchise the ordinary citizen This is the first book to question the rhetoric technical knowledge split from a more fundamental perspective To get some perspective on what is at stake in rhetoric's traditional classification as a practical art the authors explore the distinction between practical and design arts enumerate the various criteria cited in the literature for qualifying a cluster of knowledge and performative skills to count as an art of design show how the knowledge and performative skills associated with the art of rhetoric meet the major requirements of design knowledge propose a general architecture of rhetorical design one descriptive both of civic address and specialized academic argument turn to the Lincoln Douglas debates to embody and provide some empirical support and illustration for their architecture demonstrate how Lincoln and Douglas can be thought of as expert designers whose rhetoric is highly structured and modular and explain how the rhetoric of both rhetorical agents can be represented in the layers and modules that one needs to display plans for buildings software or other design artifacts These layers and modules are not just post hoc annotations of the debates they also illuminate new and systematic ways for viewing the debates and by implication other specimens of rhetoric in terms of strategies of artistic production Kaufer and Butler conclude their presentation by citing some of the research and educational implications that follow from housing rhetoric within the family of design arts
