Anheier,Adele Simmons,David Winder,2007-08-29 This book is the result of case studies conducted as part of the International Network on Strategic Philanthropy which focus on the role of philanthropy in the globalization process and in lesser developed economies Throughout they emphasize the lessons in innovation that can be taken from them and together demonstrate that emerging philanthropic institutions can develop their own methods and offer criteria that the Western world might learn from Unique Environmentalism Gunnar Grendstad,Per Selle,Kristin Stromsnes,Oystein Bortne,2006-11-28 their collective action The more unique the case the more we need to study it not only to understand the case itself but also to understand the structure and limits of environmentalism in general We hope that we have been able to show the value of this research strategy The way we have organized our study is different from the Rootes study 2003 This study emphasizes the importance of different environmental cultures and of political conjunctures in a single country of which different environmental groups take advantage We are not arguing against the fact that branches of environmentalism have features in common across countries e g animal rights and antinuclear movements However we would not go as far as the Rootes study We argue that looking at political conjunctures even if important does not tell the whole story Researchers need to understand the broader context in which political conjunctures and environmental culture operate
