Vintage Tampa Signs and Scenes John V. Cinchett, 2009 During the 1950s the Cinchett Neon Sign Company came to be Tampa's best known sign maker When the city planned to build a zoo the mayor asked Cinchett to design the new sign Fried chicken king Colonel Sanders had the sign company create all the neon work for his first two Kentucky Fried Chicken restaurants in Central Florida and soon after other reputable businesses came calling Twin Cities Then and Now Larry Millett, 1996 Twin Cities Then and Now is an engaging startling and at times heartbreaking look at the dramatic evolution of landscapes in Minneapolis and St Paul Larry Millett author of Lost Twin Cities explores the changing appearances of Minneapolis and St Paul from the vantage point of their relatively static streets Seventy two historic photographs taken from the 1880s to the late 1950s are paired with Jerry Mathiason's elegant new black and white photographs to provide superb visual comparisons between then and now Millett's lively and informative essays examine the often astonishing changes wrought by time and circumstance Maps and detailed informational graphics provide orientation and identify hundreds of significant buildings and places in the photographs The North Carolina Filmography Jenny Henderson, 2017-07-21 In recent years North Carolina has been recognized as a popular filming location for feature films and television series such as Last of the Mohicans and Dawson's Creek Few people probably realize that the first feature film in the state was shot in 1912 This comprehensive reference book provides a complete listing of every film documentary short television program newsreel and promotional video in which at least some part was filmed in North Carolina through the year 2000 The entries contain the following information alternate titles the type of film feature film television episode etc studio cities counties scenes Biltmore House for example comments short synopses of the movies director producer co producer executive producer cinematographer writer music and casting credits additional crew and cast The Little Street Linda Stone-Ferrier, 2022-08-23 An interdisciplinary study of the central role that the neighborhood played in seventeenth century Dutch painting and culture The neighborhood was a principal organizing structure of Dutch cities in the seventeenth century and each had its own regulations administrators social networks events and diverse population of residents Linda Stone Ferrier argues that this sense of community contributed to the steady demand for pictures portraying aspects of this culture These paintings by such artists as Jan Steen and Pieter de Hooch reinforced the role and values of the neighborhood Through close readings of such works by Steen and De Hooch and among others Gerrit Dou Gabriel Metsu Jacob van Ruisdael and Johannes Vermeer Stone Ferrier deftly considers social history urban studies anthropology and women's studies in this penetrating exploration Her new interpretations of seventeenth century Dutch painting across genres scenes of streets domesticity professions and festivity challenge existing paradigms in Dutch art history History of Antioch Glanville Downey, 2015-12-08 The most complete account of the classical city of Antioch this study incorporates the findings of the excavations of 1932 1939 Dr Downey who participated in the excavations tells the story of the rise and fall of Antioch with

American Dreamscapes: Postcards from the Past Pasquale De Marco, 2025-08-10 American Dreamscapes Postcards from the Past is a journey through the world of American postcards From the bustling streets of New York City to the serene landscapes of the American West postcards have documented the people places and events that have shaped our nation's history In this book we will explore the different types of postcards that were produced the people who created them and the stories that they tell Along the way we will learn about the social and cultural history of the United States and we will gain a new appreciation for the power of the postcard Postcards were first introduced in the United States in the late 1800s At first they were used primarily as a way to send short messages to friends and family However as the popularity of postcards grew they began to be used for a variety of purposes Businesses used postcards to advertise their products and services schools used postcards to promote their programs and organizations used postcards to raise funds The golden age of postcards was the early 1900s During this time postcards were produced in vast quantities and they were sold everywhere from drug stores to department stores Postcards were also very affordable which made them accessible to people of all income levels As a result of their popularity postcards became a powerful force in American culture They helped to spread news and information they promoted tourism and they helped to create a sense of national identity Postcards also played a role in social and political movements For example postcards were used to promote the women's suffrage movement and the civil rights movement Today postcards are still produced and used although their popularity has declined somewhat in the digital age However postcards remain a valuable historical record of American life They offer a unique glimpse into the past and they can help us to understand the present American Dreamscapes Postcards from the Past is a celebration of the American postcard It is a book that will appeal to anyone interested in American history popular culture or photography If you like this book write a review

The Urban Archetypes of Jane Jacobs and Ebenezer Howard Abraham Akkerman, 2020-01-09 Ebenezer

Howard an Englishman and Jane Jacobs a naturalized Canadian personify the twentieth century's opposing outlooks on cities. Howard had envisaged small towns newly built from scratch fashioned on single family homes with small gardens. Jacobs embraced existing inner city neighbourhoods emphasizing the verve of the living street. From Howard's idea the American Dream of garden suburbs had emerged yet his conceptualization of a modern city received criticism for being uniform and alienated from the rest of the city. Similarly at the turn of the new century Jacobs inner city neighbourhoods came to be recognized as the result of commodification vacillating between poverty and newly discovered hubs of urban authenticity. Presenting Howard and Jacobs within a psychocultural context The Urban Archetypes of Jane Jacobs and Ebenezer Howard addresses our urban crisis in the recognition that city form is a gendered allegorical medium expressing femininity and masculinity within two founding features of the built environment void and volume. Both founding contrasts bring tensions but also the opportunities of fusion between pairs of urban polarities human scale against superscale gait against speed and spontaneity against surveillance. Jacobs and Howard in their respective attitudes have come to embrace the two ancient archetypes the Garden and the Citadel leaving it to future generations to blend their two contrarian stances. Manhattan's Chinatown Daniel Ostrow, David Ostrow, 2008. Manhattan's Chinatown is an enclave located in the oldest section of New York City Manhattan's Lower East Side. For most who reside there Chinatown serves as the quintessential microcosm. It is a place to do business buy groceries and raise families. For many Chinese immigrants it provides a stepping stone to a perceived better life that may only be achieved through hard work determination sacrifice and assimilation. Chinatown's main sources of income and employment lie in its many restaurants factories small shops and businesses. However for generations of New Yorkers and visitors Chinatown represents the very embodiment of exotica. With its ancient tenements temples fragrant food aromas neon signs colorful sites and sounds and aromatic curio shops it provides the ultimate journey of the senses revealing an energetic and vibrant world. Through vintage postcards Manhattan's Chinatown chronicles how this community has continually evolved over 150 years. Cultural Sociology Les Back, Andy Bennett, Laura Desfor Edles, Margaret Gibson, David Inglis, Ron Jacobs, Ian Woodward, 2012-03-05. Cultural Sociology: An Introduction is the first dedicated student textbook to address cultural sociology as a legitimate model for sociological thinking and research. Highly renowned authors present a rich overview of major sociological themes and the various empirical applications of cultural sociology. A timely introductory overview to this increasingly significant field which provides invaluable summaries of key studies and approaches within cultural sociology. Clearly written and designed with accessible summaries of thematic topics covering race class politics religion media fashion and music. International experts contribute chapters in their field of research including a chapter by David Chaney a founder of cultural sociology. Offers a unified set of theoretical and methodological tools for those wishing to apply a cultural sociological approach in their work. Collections of United States Joint Publications Research Service Translations in the Social Sciences Emanating from Communist China United States. Charles Werner Haxthausen,Heidrun Suhr,1990 Essays discuss how Berlin and its culture have been portrayed in literature poetry film cabaret and the visual arts Advances in GIS and Remote Sensing the Landscape Pattern of Land Cover on Urban Climate and Urban Ecology Pedzisai Kowe,Cletah Shoko,Steven Jerie,2023-11-24 The rapid urban expansion and associated land cover conversions in the last two decades call for an urgent need for developing advanced analytical and quantitative methods to manage the adverse impacts on urban ecology and climate. The lower landscape connectivity, higher land cover fragmentation and increase in higher surface temperatures in urban areas are largely a consequence of surface energy balance alteration triggered by the replacement of natural land covers like green spaces, wetlands with built areas and impervious surfaces. These spatial-temporal variability changes have detrimental and significant impacts on the local and regional urban climate challenges that require both new Geospatial Analytic approaches and new sources of data and information. Emerging Geospatial technologies: Big Data, Cloud Computing, Google Earth, Engines, Advanced Machine Learning Algorithms and Deep learning offer great opportunities to acquire ubiquitous spatial data, continuous observations and monitoring of the earth's surface, detect the spatiotemporal patterns of changes in the landscape and urban climate and make predictions and scenarios for future urban ecology and surface temperature trends. British Film Catalogue Denis Gifford, 2016-04-01. First published in 2001. The standard work on its subject, this resource includes every traceable British entertainment film from the inception of the silent cinema to the present day. Now this new edition includes a wholly original second volume devoted to non-fiction and documentary film, an area in which the British film industry has particularly excelled. All entries throughout this third edition have been revised and coverage has been extended through 1994. Together, these two volumes provide a unique authoritative source of information for historians, archivists, librarians and film scholars.
