Handbook of African American Health Anthony J. Lemelle, Wornie Reed, Sandra Taylor, 2011-08-09
 The U S Census Bureau reports particular demographic social and health conditions for African Americans
 Population wide the African American community has a higher mortality rate from cancer and diabetes than the rest of the population a higher infant mortality rate and a lower vaccination rate for influenza and pneumonia
 The contributions to this comprehensive Handbook of African American Health uncover the specific demographic conditions of the African American population and outline social interventions for both physical and mental health at the primary secondary and tertiary levels
 The 26 contributions to this comprehensive volume cover interventions for a diverse range of health problems including obesity and cardiovascular disease diabetes asthma and other respiratory diseases smoking alcohol and recreational drug abuse risky sexual behaviors cancer screening prevention and survivorship infant mortality community and interpersonal violence mental health
 From a healthcare standpoint it also examines specific interventions for treatment compliance health care access and community collaborations
 This volume will be an invaluable resource for researchers in medical sociology mental health studies public health health behavior and African American studies

The American Club Woman Magazine ,1916

Older African American Women Dorothy Smith-Ruiz, Marcia J. Watson-Vandiver, Debra C. Smith, 2025-03-20
 African American women have disproportionately high prevalence incidence and mortality rates for most health conditions in comparison to White women
 This book will explore some of the reasons for these disparities including problems within the health care system and societal institutions
 The disproportionately high number of COVID 19 deaths in the African American population especially among African American women have brought renewed attention to historical racial inequality and the role it plays in the daily lives of American women and black families in general
 Recommendations incorporate practical implications of this research including identifying social and financial supports unique to older African American women and determining strategies to strengthen the health needs of African American families which is also paramount to addressing economic social and racial disparities of this population
 Drawing on data from a variety of sources this book applies a systematic racism and intersectionality approach to how various social demographic economic and health variables influence the outcomes and the overall health status of older African American women
 As such it will appeal to scholars in Sociology Social Work Nursing Gerontology Social Policy Racial and Inequality Studies African American Studies Justice Studies Culture Ethnicity and Health Studies and Public Health

Narrative Journeys of Young Black Women with Eating Disorders Stephanie A. Hawthorne, 2019-11-29
 Narrative Journeys of Young Black Women with Eating Disorders
 A Hidden Community among Us explores how the realities of three young black women who have experienced eating disorders since childhood were transformed discussing the larger implications of disordered eating in underrepresented populations People of all ethnic gender and socioeconomic backgrounds are susceptible to their grips yet black women and children are experiencing eating disorders and suffering in silence due to shame and stigma Due to barriers such as the conventional thought that eating disorders do not occur in the black community they are often not acknowledged discussed or treated properly Stephanie Hawthorne argues that these women s lived experiences substantiate the need for culturally sensitive and inclusive prevention intervention and care when it comes to mental health and offers recommendations to schools clinicians parents and adolescents to accomplish this goal Scholars of communication mental health race studies education and medicine will find this book particularly useful
