Strategic Behaviour in Water Resource Management Ariel Dinar,Jose Albiac,2012-05-16 Water resource management throughout the world is a very complicated issue involving various aspects and dimensions and a well coordinated set of policies A well designed water policy is a multi faceted concerted intervention which could be specific to just one set of political and physical socio economic conditions A framework to analyse the interaction between policy design and implementation can assist in improving both of these in various physical economic and political situations This book focuses on the interaction between policy making and strategic behaviour of policy makers water users and other stakeholders and how policy analysis and other analytical tools from the field of game theory and negotiation can improve policy design The book presents analysis by high level policy makers and policy analysts from various countries to share experience regarding specific policy issues that are relevant to almost any country in the world but may have been addressed differently in each country

Water Supply and Demand Management in the Galápagos Maria

Fernanda Reyes Perez,2017-11-10 Water resources in tourist islands have been severely threatened especially in the Gal pagos Islands where the increased local population has generated attractive income from the tourist services In addition the data regarding water supply and demand are scarce This study investigates water supply and demand in Santa Cruz the most populated island of Gal pagos The research encompasses a thorough assessment of the water supply crisis as well as the quantification of water demand from different categories domestic tourist restaurants and laundries through surveys in the absence of water metering Also specific water demand was assessed by installing 18 water meters The results yield a wide range of water consumption questioning the current assumption of water scarcity Furthermore a prognosis of water supply and demand was carried out and also several intervention strategies were proposed such as rainwater harvesting greywater recycling leakage reduction water meter installation water demand reduction as well as seawater desalination to cope with the future population growth Due to the fragility of the ecosystem these strategies were assessed through a Multi Criteria Decision Analysis considering environmental technical economic and social aspects as well as relevant stakeholders perspectives finally the water supply network of Puerto Ayora was evaluated in order to understand the need of the current intermittent supply regime A methodology was developed to estimate the overflow of the domestic roof tanks a common incidence amongst local population The results question the practicality of individual household storage The final results show that the current situation in terms of the lack of water quantity may not be real as it has been thought for the last decades The water issues refer more importantly to the water quality as well as to the lack of proper water management practices

Resilient Water Services and Systems: Petri Juuti, Harri Mattila, Riikka Rajala, Klaas Schwartz, Chad Staddon, 2019-08-15 Resilient Water Services and Systems The Foundation of Well Being provides an overarching framework on water and sanitation services and how they are coping with resilience aging infrastructure and climate change The Editors present conceptual evidence about resilience backed by case studies that demonstrate resilience in practice There are 13 case studies from Asia Africa Europe and North and South America providing informative perspectives from around the world This is a timely collection of historic and contemporary evidence that will have increasing relevance in the coming decades This volume will be of relevance to both scholars and practitioners Resilient water services are the key to water security across the world Sustaining them is a challenging task in high income countries where aging infrastructure is a critical issue and in low income countries where new infrastructure is needed and ability to pay is a more formidable barrier to success The editors have compiled a succinct analysis and assembled case studies that cover diverse regions and contexts From this book the reader will gain a wealth of knowledge about water services as well as rich vicarious experiences from the cases

Integrated Pollution Prevention and Control for the Municipal Water Cycle in a River Basin Context Alberto Galvis-Castaño, 2019-08-14 The protection of water resources from deterioration in quality by pollution discharges is probably the biggest challenge in sustainable water resources management in the recent decades In practice most countries have adopted pollution control strategies and measures which are based on end of pipe solutions wastewater treatment plants and adjustments to the regulations including taxes for wastewater discharges Conventional Strategy Although this approach involves very high costs on many occasions this strategy has been a complete failure The research described in this book contribute to the development of sustainable solutions for the previously outlined problem It was based on the validation of the Three Step Strategic Approach concept 3 SSA which includes 1 prevention or minimisation of waste production 2 treatment aimed at recovery and reuse of waste components and 3 disposal of remaining waste with stimulation of natural self purification of the receiving water body The study showed overall positive effects of the 3 SSA in comparison of Conventional Strategy on wastewater management in the Upper Basin 389 km of the Cauca river the second most important river in Colombia The Cost Benefit Analysis clearly favoured the 3 SSA generating a major impact on the river water quality at lower cost compared to the Conventional Strategy
