The Multiparadigmatic Trend In Sociology Acta Universitatis Upsaliensis:

The Multiparadigmatic Trend in Sociology Ulf Himmelstrand,1987 Technological Change and Co-determination in Sweden Åke Sandberg,1992 It follows the renewal of labor law in the 1970s especially the laws on co determination laws that regulate and encourage joint involvement by union and management in the decision making process of the organization Sandberg and his colleagues present extensive case studies that discuss and analyze job design the present strategies and future role of unions employee participation and local union efforts to impact organizational and technological changes The dairy and the Postgiro cases impressively illustrate the interaction of local and central unions to influence the early stages of decision making and planning The engineering workshop and the sugar mill cases demonstrate that union leaders can empower and influence the workers concerned through informal collaboration relying on local resources to provide greater independence

Gendered Practices in Working Life Tuula Heiskanen, Liisa Rantalaiho, 2016-07-27 Gendered distinctions and differences in working life are produced by often hidden practices What are they like How do they work The book creates through its multidisciplinary approach and rich empirical data a wide perspective on gendered practices in working life from the level of labour market structures to the personal experiences of women and men Some taken for granted assumptions of gender in social sciences and feminist research are challenged by a view through the Nordic window

Bibliographie Internationale de Sociologie 1987 British Library of Political and Economic Science,1991 IBSS is the essential tool for librarians university departments research institutions and any public or private institution whose work requires access to up to date and comprehensive knowledge on the social sciences

Patterns of Societal Development in Iceland Ingimar Einarsson,1987 Social Theory and Evaluative Reasoning Edmund Dahlström,1995 Types of Ethnic Identity Responses to Ethnic Discrimination Azril Bacal,1994 Archaic Economy and Modern Society Eva B.

Ernfors, Rúnar Fr Ernfors,1990 The work is concerned with the contradiction between the gift and the commodity and the essentials of the corresponding modes of human being An answer is sought to how and why the gift is constituted as the essence of archaic mode of being and production A paradigm focusing on internal causes of underdevelopment is also presented According to that perspective the gift becomes a ghost in the modern machinery of the commodity in the present day Third World disturbing economy and administration from within In this alien context the gift effects a displacement of essence of economic relationships and appears now as corruption theft nepotism bribe deals shortly with basic archaic gift structures as expressed in various terms ranging from relations of sexes to those of ritual natures A key issue is the difference between archaic and modern mind and labour It is argued that the different modalities of archaic organization possess a different potency for development of the materially based relations The course of development runs towards relative independency of the economic from mentally based relations as erected on communication of social meaning and norms or petrified rules The gift society finally gives rise to its negation the commodity which through the dynamism and accomplishments of capital will hopefully give way to its own negation in human ethics ownness and reason as the principles of socio economic organization and planning and history and is concerned with basic rather than applied research The illustration of theoretical points often derives from the authors fieldwork among the Sinhalese and their experience of Bangladesian society Besides some major normative communicative relationships of the Sinhalese including the marriage system the traditional property system and the caste system are dealt with separately in selected fieldnotes towards the end of the work

Radioactive and Hazardous Waste Management in Sweden Rolf Lidskog, 1994

The Pillars of Apartheid Fred T. Hendricks, 1990 This is a study of the impact of Apartheid on the process of proletarianism in South Africa In particular it focuses on land tenure rural development schemes and the chieftancy as three pillars of Apartheid and as crucial elements of state intervention in the formation and control of the working class and the truncated access to land which affords reserve swellers lies at the heart of the problem By imposing a pseudo egalitarianism on Africans denying them the possibility of reaping sustenance from the soil this segregationist system of land tenure has shaped African proletarianization in the reserves Using the case of the West Mpondo Paramountcy under Chief Victor Poto the study explores the transition of the chieftancy from independence to subordination and links this political process to the transformation of Pondoland from a surplus producing area to a labour reservoir ostensibly designed to prevent the ecological decline of the reserves instead provided the indispensable infrastructure for the displacement of proletarians By dividing the land in reserves into residential arable forestry and grazing areas these schemes facilitated the creation of nucleated village settlement which were vital to the location and control of the working class and to Apartheid generally reserves are heavily dependent upon wage labour and that the fruits borne of rural labour cannot hope to meet the barest requirements for survival
