Favorites of Fortune Patrice L. R. Higonnet, David S. Landes, Henry Rosovsky, 1991 A galaxy of distinguished international economists and historians pit economic history against the shaky assumptions of the classical economic theory of natural growth Their explanations consider the factors of technology entrepreneurialism and paths to economic growth but each reflects an ideological wave of explanation that has marked the last two hundred years The Urban Predicament

William Gorham, Nathan Glazer, Consensus and Compromise Yvonne Scruggs-Leftwich, 2006-02-23 A Partnership to Conserve America's Communities was the name President Jimmy Carter gave the first National Urban Policy when he presented it to Congress in March 1978 Based on the personal knowledge of the author Yvonne Scruggs Leftwich who was the executive director of the policy process and the historical archives she preserved this book analyzes the actions of Carter HUD Secretary Patricia Roberts Harris other Cabinet members and the professionals leading the process The focus is on the dynamics of the interactions among federal bureaucrats public officials urban advocates and scholars that characterized the policy's development Focusing on the process rather than the substantive policies Consensus and Compromise outlines the negotiation of power principles and priorities necessary to ensure the successful creation of the first National Urban Policy

City Douglas W. Rae, 2008-10-01 How did neighborhood groceries parish halls factories and even saloons contribute more to urban vitality than did the fiscal might of postwar urban renewal With a novelist's eye for telling detail Douglas Rae depicts the features that contributed most to city life in the early urbanist decades of the twentieth century Rae's subject is New Haven Connecticut but the lessons he draws apply to many American cities City Urbanism and Its End begins with a richly textured portrait of New Haven in the early twentieth century a period of centralized manufacturing civic vitality and mixed use neighborhoods As social and economic conditions changed the city confronted its end of urbanism first during the Depression and then very aggressively during the mayoral reign of Richard C Lee 1954-70 when New Haven led the nation in urban renewal spending But government spending has repeatedly failed to restore urban vitality Rae argues that strategies for the urban future should focus on nurturing the unplanned civic engagements that make mixed use city life so appealing and so civilized Cities need not reach their old peaks of population or look like thriving suburbs to be once again splendid places for human beings to live and work Garbage In The Cities Martin V. Melosi, 2004-11-26 As recently as the 1880s most American cities had no effective means of collecting and removing the mountains of garbage refuse and manure over a thousand tons a day in New York City alone that clogged streets and overwhelmed the senses of residents In his landmark study Garbage in the Cities Martin Melosi offered the first history of efforts begun in the Progressive Era to clean up this mess Since it was first published Garbage in the Cities has remained one of the best historical treatments of the subject This thoroughly revised and updated edition includes two new chapters that expand the discussion of developments since World War I It also offers a discussion of the reception of the first edition and an examination of the ways solid waste management has become more federally regulated in the last quarter of the twentieth century Melosi traces the rise of sanitation engineering accurately describes the scope and changing nature of the refuse problem in U S cities reveals the sometimes hidden connections between industrialization and pollution and discusses the social agendas behind many early cleanliness programs Absolutely essential reading for historians policy analysts and sociologists Garbage in the Cities offers a vibrant and insightful analysis of this fascinating topic 1974 Annual Supplement Joan Schmitz Bergholt, 2013-12-21
