Dark Horizons Tom Moylan, Raffaella Baccolini, 2003 Dark Horizons presents new essays on the dystopian turn of late twentieth century science fiction. Leading scholars discuss major dystopian traditions including cyberpunk and feminist utopian dystopian narratives as seen in works such as Octavia Butler's novel Xenogenesis and the film Fight Club. These essays draw out the ways in which contemporary science fiction literature and film has served as a prophetic vehicle for writers with ethical and political concerns.

The Atlantic Slave Trade Jeremy Black, 2022-12-30 Originally published as a collection in 2006, this volume discusses the development of the Atlantic slave trade in the seventeenth century, looking at issues such as how African societies reacted to the trade, the economic origins of black slavery in the British West Indies, and the growth of plantations responding to changes in European diet, particularly the rise of the sugar economy. The volume also has an introduction by the editor commenting on the contribution each essay makes.

Longman Companion to Slavery, Emancipation and Civil Rights Harry Harmer, 2014-06-11 This Companion provides the essential background to the defining fate of the African diaspora in the Americas and the Caribbean from the 15th to the 20th centuries. Central to the book are detailed chronologies on the development and decline of the slave trade, slavery in colonial North and South America, the Caribbean, and the United States, movements for emancipation, and the progress of black civil rights. Separate sections look at the long-running resistance against slavery and the black civil rights movements in the Americas and the Caribbean, with a comparative chronology of apartheid in South Africa. Supported by biographies of over 100 key individuals and a full glossary providing definitions of crucial terms, expressions, ideas, and events, this is required reading for anyone interested in the historical experience of slavery.

Critical White Studies Richard Delgado, Jean Stefancic, 1997-06-29 This work, drawn from sociology, law, history, cultural studies, and literature, presents an analysis of the emerging field of whiteness studies as the next step of critical race theory. When Men Revolt and Why James Chowning Davies, 1997-01-01 The environment within which humans interact has changed dramatically since the Industrial Revolution However their expectations stem from the same hopes and dreams people have had from the beginning of humankind When Men Revolt and Why encourages readers to look closer and more deeply into the relationships between humans and the institutions that have originated to help them realize their full potential The contributors not only examine people but also the need to change institutions that have outworn their usefulness When institutions inhibit rather than facilitate everyone's desire to live a full life the result is likely to be violence This book offers the ideas of many people who have tried to dig deeper into basic causes of violence Included in this volume are selections by Aristotle Tocqueville Marx and Engels and Brinton The ideas they espoused still hold vitality In his new introduction James Davies talks about the circumstances under which this book was originally published In Vietnam a people were fighting for their autonomy In the United States many Americans were protesting against American involvement in the Vietnam War Blacks were marching for their civil rights Women were fighting for equality Time has tempered these conflicts Davies maintains that we remain ignorant of the elemental forces that impel people and nations to resort to violence We are usually surprised by their anger and shocked by their violence Davies asserts that we need to learn more about how humans respond to change so as to prepare ourselves for such responses to change When Men Revolt and Why is as timely as ever as we deal with uncertainty in various areas of the world the former Yugoslavia the Middle East and Ireland among others It is especially pertinent for political scientists historians and sociologists
