Sinosoviet Intervention In Africa:

Sino-Soviet Intervention in Africa Roger Pearson, 1977 Foreign Intervention in Africa Elizabeth Schmidt, 2013-03-25 This book chronicles foreign political and military interventions in Africa from 1956 to 2010 helping readers understand the historical roots of Africa's problems Sino-Soviet Conflict United States. Congress. House. Committee on Foreign Affairs. Subcommittee on the Far East and the Pacific, 1965 Reviews Sino Soviet ideological and border disputes and their possible impact on U S policy and military objectives in Vietnam Sino-Soviet Involvement in Sub-Saharan Africa Peter W. Colm, Karl F. Spielmann, 1977 China and the Soviet Union became involved in African affairs in the late 1950s and early 60s as various African countries achieved independence and coincidentally as the Sino Soviet split became increasingly bitter Sino Soviet differences influenced particularly the ideological approach of each country to African issues but direct competition was often not the major determinant of Chinese and Soviet policy In the early period Moscow tended to emphasize grandiose aid projects for radical governments in Africa while Peking tended to stress assistance to African insurgencies often to the detriment of its diplomatic objectives With the fall of Khrushchev and the outbreak of the Cultural Revolution in China both Moscow and Peking curtailed their African involvement The current phase of Sino Soviet involvement in Africa began in the early 1970s when Peking entered the UN and emerged from its Cultural Revolution isolationism China established or reestablished diplomatic relations with most African countries and initiated an economic aid program that became much more comprehensive than that of any other country Chinese policy was driven in part by its ideological aspiration to leadership in the Third World and in part by an effort to find allies against Soviet expansionism The End of China's Non-Intervention Policy in Africa Obert Hodzi, 2018-10-22 This book gives a compelling analysis and explanation of shifts in China's non intervention policy in Africa Systematically connecting the neoclassical realist theoretical logic with an empirical analysis of China's intervention in African civil wars the volume highlights a methodical interlink between theoretical and empirical analysis that takes into consideration the changing status of rising powers in the global system and its effect on their intervention behaviour Based on field research and expert interviews it provides a rigorous analysis of China's emergent intervention behaviour in some key African conflicts in Libya South Sudan and Mali and broadens the study of external interventions in civil wars to include the intervention behaviour of non Western rising powers Obert Hodzi is Visiting Researcher at the African Studies Center Boston University USA and Postdoctoral Researcher at the University of Helsinki Finland Sino-Soviet Conflict, Report ... by the Subcommittee on the Far East and the Pacific ... Together with Hearings Held March 10-31, 1965 United States. Congress. House. Foreign Affairs, 1965 Eastern Europe, the Soviet Union, and Africa Chris Saunders, Helder Adegar Fonseca, Lena Dallywater, 2023-04-27 It is now widely recognised that a Cold War perspective falls short in unfolding the complex geographies of connections and the multipolarity of actions and transactions that were shaped through the movement of individuals and ideas from Africa to the East and from the East to Africa in the decades in which African countries moved to independence Adopting an interdisciplinary transregional perspective this volume casts new light on aspects of the role of Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union in the decolonisation of Africa Taking further themes explored in a collection of essays published by the editors in 2019 the twelve case studies by authors from South Africa Czech Republic Portugal Russia Hungary Italy Canada Serbia and Germany draw on new sources to explore the history of the ties that existed between African liberation movements and the socialist bloc some of which continue to influence relationships today Chapters contribute to three relevant main themes that resonate in a number of scholarly fields of inquiry ranging from Global Studies Transregional Studies Cold War Studies Global History to African Studies Eastern European Russian and Slavic Studies Reconsiderations Resources and Reverberations Drawing upon newly opened archives and combining transregional perspectives with sources in different languages chapters explicitly point out the shortcomings of past research and debates in the respective field They highlight new avenues which have been developing and which need to be further developed Reconsiderations Selected case studies address the resources of those being active and involved in decolonisation processes be it in East North West and South They reveal Which resources both material and intellectual are the actors drawing upon On the other hand From which resources are individuals on one side or the other reciprocally or intermittently intentionally kept away Resources Finally the third theme puts an emphasis on the historicity of the processes depicted Studies point to the gaps and dead ends of international support the paths that peter out but also to repercussions and reverberations up until today Reverberations Taken these three themes together the individual chapters contribute to the overall question of Which general historical narratives about the second half of the 20th century are changing based on these new research findings

The Sino-Soviet Dispute Alfred D. Low, 1976 Provides an analysis of the conflict between the Soviet Union and the People's Republic of China focusing on the polemics Attempts to trace and analyze Soviet and Chinese policies toward each other on the basis of available documents and general evidence Africa, Problems & Prospects United States. Department of the Army, 1977

China and Africa David H. Shinn, Joshua Eisenman, 2012-07-10 The People's Republic of China once limited its involvement in African affairs to building an occasional railroad or port supporting African liberation movements and loudly proclaiming socialist solidarity with the downtrodden of the continent Now Chinese diplomats and Chinese companies both state owned and private along with an influx of Chinese workers have spread throughout Africa This shift is one of the most important geopolitical phenomena of our time China and Africa A Century of Engagement presents a comprehensive view of the relationship between this powerful Asian nation and the countries of Africa This book the first of its kind to be published since the 1970s examines all facets of China's relationship with each of the fifty four African nations It reviews the history of China's relations with the continent looking back past the establishment of the People's Republic of China in 1949 It looks at a broad range of areas that define this relationship politics trade investment foreign aid military security and culture providing a significant historical backdrop for each David H Shinn and Joshua Eisenman s study combines careful observation meticulous data analysis and detailed understanding gained through diplomatic experience and extensive travel in China and Africa China and Africa demonstrates that while China s connection to Africa is different from that of Western nations it is no less complex Africans and Chinese are still developing their perceptions of each other and these changing views have both positive and negative dimensions

The Soviet Union in the Third World Robert H. Donaldson, 2022-12-28 The Soviet Union in the Third World 1981 analyses Soviet objectives in the developing world the instruments of foreign policy employed and their success and failure the implications of Soviet foreign policy for the international system in general and the US foreign and defence policies in particular Twenty leading specialists examine Soviet involvement in Latin America Africa the Middle East and Asia and discuss the subject from both security and economic perspectives

China and Taiwan in Africa Sabella O. Abidde, 2022-04-22 This edited volume discusses the contest and contestation between China and Taiwan for diplomatic recognition and supremacy on the African continent Written by a diverse group of international scholars this volume provides insight into five interlocking questions and areas the origins of China and Taiwan s continent wide competition for supremacy China and Taiwan s foreign policy towards Africa during and after the Cold War the shift in dominance from Taiwan to China the changing allegiances of African governments and the implications of ongoing China Africa Taiwan relations on the global system especially on countries in the Global South This book is divided into three parts Part One deals primarily with the early history of both Chinas on the continent Chapters in Part Two discuss the foreign policy of China and Taiwan toward the African continent Part Three focuses on the shifting alliances and diplomatic allegiance of African countries towards the People s Republic of China PRC and the Republic of China ROC Filling the gap in Africa China Taiwan studies this volume will be of interest to researchers and students in the social sciences especially political science comparative politics international relations foreign policy politics of developing nations area studies and Taiwanese Chinese studies

Competition and Compromise among Chinese Actors in Africa Niall Duggan, 2019-08-02 This book explains why conflict exists among Chinese foreign policy actors in Africa and argues against the concept that China has a grand strategy in relation to Africa It does so by examining Sino African relations by focusing on how China s Africa policy is constructed and implemented concluding that a large number of actors are active in its formulation and implementation The book argues that China's Hegemonic Political Discourse HPD the goal of achieving a Harmonious Society and later the Chinese Dream through the Scientific Concept of Development has dominated Chinese political discourse It is this HPD that acts as the structural imperative that allows for collective action in the Chinese foreign policy process in Africa rather than a Chinese grand strategy since the actors are unwilling to break the social norms of the collective process for fear of exclusion This book will be of great interest to China watchers and those eager to understand how China's rise will impact the developing world

Reinventing Regional Security Institutions in Asia and Africa Kei Koga, 2016-12-08 Regional security institutions play a significant role in shaping the behavior of existing and rising regional powers by nurturing security norms and rules monitoring state activities and sometimes imposing sanctions thereby formulating the configuration of regional security dynamics Yet their security roles and influence do not remain constant Their raison d'être objectives and functions experience sporadic changes and some institutions upgrade military functions for peacekeeping operations while others limit their functions to political and security dialogues The question is why and how do these variances in institutional change emerge This book explores the mechanisms of institutional change focusing on regional security institutions led by non great powers It constructs a theoretical model for institutional change that provides a new understanding of their changing roles in regional security which has yet to be fully explored in the International Relations field In so doing the book illuminates why when and how each organization restructures its role function and influence Using case studies of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN the Economic Community of West African States ECOWAS and the Organization of African Unity OAU African Union AU it also sheds light on similarities and differences in institutional change between regional security institutions Problems of Communism, 1992 China in Africa Sabella O. Abidde, Tokunbo A. Ayoola, 2021-02-03

This book examines Sino African relations and their impact on Africa It argues that Africa's relationship with China has had a profound impact on key sectors in Africa economic and political development the media infrastructural development foreign direct investments loans debt peonage and international relations The authors also analyze the imperialist and neo colonialist implications of this relationship and discuss the degree to which the relationship is beneficial to Africa China and Africa Ian Taylor, 2007-01-24 With China's rise to the status of world power trade and political links between Africa and China have been escalating at an astonishing rate Ian Taylor an expert in this field gives a comprehensive assessment of relations between China and Africa
