Sketchbook, 1946-1949 Julio Alpuy, 1946 Sketchbooks, 1946-1949 Max Frisch, 2022-05-20 A new translation of one of the earliest volumes of Max Frisch's innovative notebooks Throughout his life the great Swiss playwright and novelist Max Frisch 1911 1991 kept a series of diaries or sketchbooks as they came to be known in English First published in English translation in the 1970s these sketchbooks played a major role in establishing Frisch as according to the New York Times the most innovative varied and hard to categorize of all major contemporary authors His diaries said the Times read like novels and his best novels are written like diaries Now Seagull Books presents the first unabridged English translation of Sketchbooks 1946 1949 in a new translation by Simon Pare This edition reinstates material omitted from the 1977 edition including a screenplay for an unmade film In this first volume which covers the years 1946 to 1949 Frisch chronicles the intellectual and material situation in postwar Europe from the vantage point of a citizen of a neutral German speaking country His notes on travels to the scarred cities of Germany to Austria France Italy Prague Wroclaw and Warsaw paint a complex and stimulating picture of a continent emerging from the rubble as new fault lines are drawn between East and West As Frisch completes his final architectural projects and garners early success as a writer he reflects on theater language and writing and he sketches the outlines of plays including The Fire Raisers and Count derland Whatever experience he chronicles in the sketchbook whether it's a Bastille Day party an Italian fish market or a tightrope display amid the ruins of Frankfurt or an afternoon by Lake Zurich with Bertolt Brecht to take just a few examples his keen dramatist's eye immerses the reader in the setting while also probing the deeper significance and motivations underlying the scene This new translation will serve to draw out the immediacy and contemporary quality of Frisch's observations from the shadow of his status as a classic author bringing his work to life for a new audience Sketchbook 1946-1949 Max Frisch, 1977

Frisch Michael Butler, 2015-12-30 The Pieces from Berlin Michael Pye, 2007-12-18 In the great disorder of wartime Berlin Lucia Muller Rossi was an unofficial star mistress to an Ambassador the whole world to her young son and guardian of all the lovely things her Jewish friends were forced to leave behind as they took the trains to the death camps Sixty years later one of those fine pieces sits for sale in the window of Lucia's antiques shop and its true owner happens to pass by In that moment a whole lifetime of silence cracks open and Lucia's family face the wrenching duty of examining a past almost too horrifying to remember Photography and Place Donna West Brett, 2015-12-07 As a recording device photography plays a unique role in how we remember places and events that happened there This includes recording events as they happen or recording places where something occurred before the photograph was taken commonly referred to as aftermath photography This book presents a theoretical and historical analysis of German photography of place after 1945 It analyses how major historical ruptures in twentieth century Germany and associated places of trauma memory and history affected the visual field and the circumstances of looking These ruptures are used to generate a new reading of postwar German photography of place The analysis includes original research on world renowned German photographers such as Thomas Struth Thomas Demand Michael Schmidt Boris Becker and Thomas Ruff as well as photographers largely unknown in the Anglophone world

Reciprocities in the Nonfiction Novel John Russell, 2000 Nonfiction novels have usually been associated with the new journalism writers of the 1960s such as Tom Wolfe Norman Mailer and Truman Capote Yet this form has long commanded a key position in the literary canon as John Russell now reveals Russell identifies eleven major works not usually thought of as nonfiction novels such as Isak Dinesen's Out of Africa and E E Cummings's The Enormous Room to create a new definition of the genre He shows that journalistic writing is characterized by a reporter's proprietary stance which undermines reciprocity with subjects while true nonfiction novels feature greater reciprocity and also employ such techniques as circular narrative and bricolage Reciprocities in the Nonfiction Novel contributes to ongoing explorations of literary forms and offers wise commentary on how writing about real life can become art Improvising Out Loud Jeff Corey, 2017-05-16 Jeff Corey 1914

2002 made a name for himself in the 1940s as a character actor in films like Superman and The Mole Men 1951 Joan of Arc 1948 and The Killers 1946 Everything changed in 1951 when he was summoned before the House Un American Activities Committee Corey refused to name names and was promptly blacklisted which forced him to walk away from a vibrant livelihood as an actor and embark on a career as one of the industry's most revered acting instructors In Improvising Out Loud My Life Teaching Hollywood How to Act Corey recounts his extraordinary story Among the actors who would soon fill his classes were James Dean Kirk Douglas Jane Fonda Rob Reiner Jack Nicholson and Leonard Nimoy In 1962 when the blacklist ended Corey was one of the industry's first trailblazers to seamlessly reboot his acting career and secure roles in some of the classic films of the era including Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid 1969 True Grit 1969 and Little Big Man 1970 in which he starred as the infamous Wild Bill Hickok Throughout his life Corey sought to capture the human heart in conflict in terror in love and in all of its small triumphs His memoir which he wrote with his daughter Emily Corey provides a unique and personal perspective on the man whose teaching inspired some of Hollywood's biggest names to star in the roles that made them famous

Knowledge and Time Hans Primas, 2017-05-23 This is a unique volume by a unique scientist which combines conceptual formal and engineering approaches in a way that is rarely seen Its core is the relation between ways of learning and knowing on the one hand and different modes of time on the other Partial Boolean logic and the associated notion of complementarity are used to express this relation and mathematical tools of fundamental physics are used to formalize it Along the way many central philosophical problems are touched and addressed above all the mind/body problem Completed only shortly before the death of the author the text has been edited and annotated by the author's close collaborator Harald Atmanspacher

The Annual of Psychoanalysis, V. 19 Jerome A. Winer, 2013-05-13 Volume 19 of The Annual of Psychoanalysis turns to the ever intriguing relationship between Psychoanalysis and Art This introductory section begins with Donald Kuspit's scholarly reflections on the role of analysis in visual art and art criticism and then proceeds to a series of topical studies on Freud and art introduced by Harry Trosman Egyptologist Lorelei Corcoran explores the Egypt of Freud's imagination thereby illuminating our understanding of the archaeological metaphor Marion Tolpin offers new insights into Freud's analysis of the American writer Hilda Doolittle by focusing on the meaning of the Goddess Athene whose statue rested on Freud's desk to both analyst and analysand Stephen Toulmin examines Freud's artistic sensibility and places the historical significance of Freud's art collection in bold relief by looking at the many contemporary art objects Freud chose not to collect Danielle Knafo identifies key events in the early life of Austrian Expressionist Egon Schiele that were primary determinants of the content and form of his self portraits And Barbara Almond examines the spontaneous healing process depicted in Margaret Drabble's novel The Needle's Eye as an analogue to the kind of growth and development mobilized by the psychoanalytic process

Section II Psychoanalysis and Development begins with Barbara Fajardo's appreciation of the contribution of biology to analyzability she reviews findings from both infant research and biogenetic research that tend toward an understanding of constitution as resilience in development and subsequently in treatment Benjamin Garber adds to the psychoanalytic understanding of childhood learning disabilities by presenting the three and a half year analysis of a learning disabled child In a fascinating two part contribution Bridging the Chasm Between Developmental Theory and Clinical Theory Joseph Palombo sheds light on some of the knottiest problems in contemporary analysis including the relationship between childhood events and the reconstruction of those events in treatment In Section III Psychoanalysis and Empathy Mary Newsome presents case material in support of her claim that the analyst's empathic understanding catalyzes the coalescence of the patient's affect and aim that is the patient's capacity to believe in and then realize his ambitions The acquisition of the capacity she contends not only betokens a specific kind of structure formation but is the bedrock of emerging self cohesion Her challenging paper is thoughtfully discussed by David Terman and Jerome Winer

Section IV of The Annual offers Jerome Kavka's appreciation of the work of N. Lionel Blitzstein 1893-1952 Blitzstein the first Chicago psychoanalyst and one of America's most gifted clinicians and teachers anticipated modern concepts of narcissism in identifying narcissistic neuroses with special treatment requirements Morris Sklansky furthers our understanding of Blitzstein in his discussion of Kavka's essay Ranging across the analytic canvas with presentations as edifying as they are provocative volume 19 of The Annual of Psychoanalysis challenges readers to wrestle with issues at the cutting edge of the discipline It takes a well deserved place in the preeminent continuing series in the field
