Best Practice Guide on the Management of Metals in Small Water Supplies Matthew Bower, Colin Hayes, 2016-04-15 The management of small water supplies presents a unique challenge globally in countries at all stages of development A combination of lack of resources limited understanding of the risks and poor expertise means that individuals and communities may face serious health risks from these supplies This is not only due to microbiological contamination but also from contamination by metals either due to natural or man made contamination of the source water or through leaching from plumbing materials due to inadequate conditioning and corrosion inhibition and use of inappropriate materials This Best Practice Guide aims to share best practice and experience from around the world on a practical level It looks at general issues relating to small supplies and ways of managing these adopting a Water Safety Plan approach to deliver sound and lasting improvements to quality Management techniques and treatment relating to specific metals will be covered from a theoretical and practical perspective to deliver a publication that will act as an authoritative guide for all those faced with the problem of ensuring the quality of a small water supply Varied case studies will help to illustrate issues and ways in which they have been resolved
