Smiths Gazelle:

Smith's Gazelle Lionel Davidson,1974 Eben Smith David Forsyth,2021-09-21 David Forsyth recounts the life of Eben Smith an integral but little known figure in Colorado mining history Smith was one of the many fortune seekers who traveled to California during the gold rush and one of the few who found what he sought He moved to Colorado in 1860 with business partner Jerome Chaffee and over the next forty six years was involved in mining in nearly every major camp in the state from Central City to Cripple Creek and in the development of mines such as the Bobtail Little Jonny and Victor He was eulogized by the Denver Post and Denver Times as the dean of mining in Colorado The mining teams Smith formed with Chaffee and with industrialist David Moffat were among the most successful and respected in Colorado and many in the state held Smith in high regard Yet despite the credit he received during his lifetime for establishing Colorado s mining industry Smith has not received much attention from historians perhaps because he was content to leave public facing duties to his partners while he concerned himself with managing mine operations From Smith s early years and his labor in the mines to his rise to prominence as an investor and developer Forsyth shows how Smith used the mining and milling knowledge he acquired in California to become a leader in technological innovation in Colorado s mining industry Holstein Herd-book ,1885

Christel Fricke,Dagfinn Føllesdal,2013-05-02 Can we have objective knowledge of the world Can we understand what is morally right or wrong Yes to some extent This is the answer given by Adam Smith and Edmund Husserl Both rejected David Hume s skeptical account of what we can hope to understand But they held his empirical method in high regard inquiring into the way we perceive and emotionally experience the world into the nature and function of human empathy and sympathy and the role of the imagination in processes of intersubjective understanding The challenge is to overcome the natural constraints of perceptual and emotional experience and reach an agreement that is informed by the facts in the world and the nature of morality This collection of philosophical essays addresses an audience of Smith and Husserl scholars as well as everybody interested in theories of objective knowledge and proper morality which are informed by the way we perceive and think and communicate

Once the world's prairies grasslands steppes and tundra teemed with massive herds of game gazelle wild ass bison caribou and antelope Humans seeking to hunt these large fast moving herds devised a range of specialised traps that share many characteristics across all continents Typically consisting of guiding walls or lines of stones leading to an enclosure or trap game drives were designed for a mass killing Construction of the game drive organisation of the hunt and processing of the carcass often required group co operation and in many cases game drives have been linked to seasonal gatherings of otherwise scattered groups who may have used these occasions not only to hunt but also for social ritual and economic activities The Gazelle's Dream Game Drives of the Old and New Worlds is the first comparative study of game drives examining this mode of hunting across three continents and a broad range of periods The book describes the hunting of bison in North America reindeer in Scandinavia antelope in Tibet and an extensive array of examples from the greater Middle East from Egypt to Armenia The Gazelle's Dream will be of value to anyone with an interest in the history of hunting and wildlife management

The young daughter of an English born U S infantry officer on the post Civil War frontier Mary Leefe had the childhood of an army nomad accompanying the regiment from south Texas to the boundary with Canada In faithfully recording her varied experiences as a camp follower she offers extensive and unique memoirs on life as a child and adolescent in the twilight of the Indian fighting army She considered herself a part of her father's unit ever mindful of the heritage of noblesse oblige the honor of the army and esprit de corps of the regiment We were part and parcel of this and must never disgrace it Leefe's formative memories were of the death of the regimental colonel in battle with the Cheyennes and of the dangerous thrill of watching an Ute war dance When her father's company was assigned to guard Apache prisoners of war in Alabama she came to know and fear Geronimo whose terrible eyes haunted my dreams but she developed a lasting respect and admiration for such leaders as Chihuahua Nana and Naiche Leefe offers the reader much more than frontier anecdotes of a youth who comes of age in the fading West A largely uncritical observer Leefe was indeed a product of her place and time and so can report on the military community with affection humor and sympathetic understanding
