Stage Of Drawing Gesture And Act:

The Stage of Drawing Tate Gallery, Catherine De Zegher, Avis Newman, Drawing Center (New York, N.Y.), 2003-06-10 The Stage of Drawing presents remarkable works on paper selected by the artist Avis Newman from the prestigious collection of Tate London Including both well known and less familiar drawings from the mid 1700s to the 1970s by British and international artists this book and its accompanying exhibition offers the opportunity to view developments in drawing over the past three centuries The subjects addressed by the book range from literary and theatrical influences on such artists as Sir Joshua Reynolds William Blake and Henry Fuseli to the gestural act in 20th century drawing as seen in the work of Natalya Goncharova Francis Bacon Lucio Fontana Cy Twombly Blinky Palermo and Andy Warhol This book presents a unique view of drawing and its place in the history of art The Stage of Drawing, 2003 The Stage of Drawing: Gesture and Act Catherine De Zegher, Avis Newman, Drawing Center (New York, NY), 2003 Drawing Investigations Sarah Casey, Gerry Davies, 2020-06-11 Using close visual analysis of drawings artist interviews critical analysis and exegesis Drawing Investigations examines how artists use drawing as an investigative tool to reveal information that would otherwise remain unseen and unnoticed How does drawing add shape to ideas How does the artist accommodate to challenges and restraints of a particular environment To what extent is a drawing complementary and continuous with its subject and where is it disruptive and provocative Casey and Davies address these questions while focusing on artists working collaboratively and the use of drawing in challenging or unexpected environments Drawing Investigations evaluates the emergence of a way of thinking among an otherwise disconnected group of artists by exploring commonalities in the application of analytical drawing to the natural world urban environment social forces and lived experience Examples represent a spectrum of research in international contexts an oceanographic Institute in California the archives of Amsterdam s Rijksmuseum the Antarctic Survey geothermal research in Japan and the Kurdish diaspora in Iraq Issues are situated in the contemporary theory and practice of drawing including relationships to historical precedents By exploring drawing s capacity to capture and describe experience to sharpen visual faculties and to bridge embodied and conceptual knowledge Drawing Investigations offers a fresh critical perspective on contemporary drawing practice A Companion to Contemporary Drawing Kelly Chorpening, Rebecca Fortnum, 2020-11-24 The first university level textbook on the power condition and expanse of contemporary fine art drawing A Companion to Contemporary Drawing explores how 20th and 21st century artists have used drawing to understand and comment on the world Presenting contributions by both theorists and practitioners this unique textbook considers the place space and history of drawing and explores shifts in attitudes towards its practice over the years Twenty seven essays discuss how drawing emerges from the mind of the artist to question and reflect upon what they see feel and experience This book discusses key themes in contemporary drawing practice addresses the working conditions and context of artists and considers a wide range of personal social and political considerations that influence artistic choices Topics include the politics of eroticism in South American drawing anti capitalist drawing from Eastern Europe drawing and conceptual art feminist drawing and exhibitions that have put drawing practices at the centre of contemporary art This textbook Demonstrates ways contemporary issues and concerns are addressed through drawing Reveals how drawing is used to make powerful social and political statements Situates works by contemporary practitioners within the context of their historical moment Explores how contemporary art practices utilize drawing as both process and finished artifact Shows how concepts of observation representation and audience have changed dramatically in the digital era Establishes drawing as a mode of thought Part of the acclaimed Wiley Blackwell Companions to Art History series A Companion to Contemporary Drawing is a valuable text for students of fine art art history and curating and for practitioners working within contemporary fine art practice

Drawing Parallels Ray Lucas, 2019-04-29 Drawing Parallels expands your understanding of the workings of architects by looking at their work from an alternative perspective The book focuses on parallel projections such as axonometric isometric and oblique drawings Ray Lucas argues that by retracing the marks made by architects we can begin to engage more directly with their practice as it is only by redrawing the work that hidden aspects are revealed The practice of drawing offers significantly different insights not easily accessible through discourse analysis critical theory or observation Using James Stirling JJP Oud Peter Eisenman John Hejduk and Cedric Price as case studies Lucas highlights each architect's creative practices which he analyses with reference to Bergson's concepts of temporality and creativity discussing their manner in which creative problems are explored and solved The book also draws on a range of anthropological ideas including skilled practice and enchantment in order to explore why axonometrics are important to architecture and questions the degree to which the drawing convention influences the forms produced by architects With 60 black and white images to illustrate design development this book would be an essential read for academics and students of architecture with a particular interest in further understanding the inner workings of the architectural creative process

Observing by Hand Omar W. Nasim, 2022-12-22 Today we are all familiar with the iconic pictures of the nebulae produced by the Hubble Space Telescope's digital cameras But there was a time before the successful application of photography to the heavens in which scientists had to rely on handmade drawings of these mysterious phenomena Observing by Hand sheds entirely new light on the ways in which the production and reception of hand-drawn images of the nebulae in the nineteenth century contributed to astronomical observation Omar W Nasim investigates hundreds of unpublished observing books and paper records from six nineteenth century observers of the nebulae Sir John Herschel William Parsons the third Earl of Rosse William Lassell Ebenezer Porter Mason Ernst Wilhelm Leberecht Tempel and George Phillips Bond Nasim focuses on the ways in which these observers created and employed their drawings in data driven procedures from their choices of artistic materials and techniques to their practices and scientific observation He examines the ways in which the act of drawing complemented the acts of seeing and knowing as well as the ways that making pictures was connected to the production of scientific knowledge An impeccably researched carefully crafted and beautifully illustrated piece of historical work Observing by Hand will delight historians of science art and the book as well as astronomers and philosophers

The Oxford Handbook of the Archaeology of the Contemporary World Paul Graves-Brown, Rodney Harrison, Angela Piccini, 2013-10-17 It has been clear for many years that the ways in which archaeology is practised have been a direct product of a particular set of social cultural and historical circumstances archaeology is always carried out in the present More recently however many have begun to consider how archaeological techniques might be used to reflect more directly on the contemporary world itself how we might undertake archaeologies of as well as in the present This Handbook is the first comprehensive survey of an exciting and rapidly expanding sub field and provides an authoritative overview of the newly emerging focus on the archaeology of the present and recent past In addition to detailed archaeological case studies it includes essays by scholars working on the relationships of different disciplines to the archaeology of the contemporary world including anthropology psychology philosophy historical geography science and technology studies communications and media ethnoarchaeology forensic archaeology sociology film performance and contemporary art This volume seeks to explore the boundaries of an emerging sub discipline to develop a tool kit of concepts and methods which are applicable to this new field and to suggest important future trajectories for research It makes a significant intervention by drawing together scholars working on a broad range of themes approaches methods and case studies from diverse contexts in different parts of the world which have not previously been considered collectively

Daguerreotypes Lisa Saltzman, 2015-07-06 In the digital age photography confronts its future under the competing signs of ubiquity and obsolescence While technology has allowed amateurs and experts alike to create high quality photographs in the blink of an eye new electronic formats have severed the original photochemical link between image and subject At the same time recent cinematic photography has stretched the concept of photography and raised questions about its truth value as a documentary medium Despite this situation photography remains a stubbornly substantive form of evidence referenced by artists filmmakers and writers as a powerful emblem of truth photography has found its home in other media at precisely the moment of its own material demise By examining this idea of photography as articulated in literature film and the graphic novel Daguerreotypes demonstrates how photography secures identity for figures with an otherwise unstable sense of self Lisa Saltzman argues that in many modern works the photograph asserts itself as a guarantor of identity whether genuine or fabricated From Roland Barthes's Camera Lucida to Ridley Scott's Blade Runner W G Sebald's Austerlitz to Alison Bechdel's Fun Home we find traces of photography's fugitive subjects throughout contemporary culture Ultimately Daguerreotypes reveals how the photograph at once personal memento and material witness has inspired a range of modern artistic and critical practices

Agency and Embodiment Carrie Noland, 2010-02-15 Arguing against the constructivist metaphor of bodily inscription dominant since Foucault Noland maintains that kinesthetic experience produced by acts of embodied gesturing places pressure on the conditioning a body receives encouraging variations in cultural practice that cannot otherwise be explained
