Study And Practice Of Meditation Leah Zahler, 2009-06-16 Study and Practice of Meditation gives a vivid and detailed account of the meditative practices necessary to develop a calm alert mind that is capable of penetrating the depths of reality. The Buddhist meditative states known as the concentrations and formless absorptions are best known in the West from Theravada scriptures and from Vasubandhu's Treasury of Manifest Knowledge. In this book the reader is exposed to Tibetan Buddhist views on the mental states attained through meditation as described by three contemporary Tibetan lamas. The book discusses the ways in which certain meditative states act as bases of the spiritual path as well as the nature of meditative calm and the prerequisites for cultivating and attaining it. In addition to reviewing and translating Tibetan sources, the author considers their major Indian antecedents and draws comparisons with Theravadin presentations. The Treasury of Knowledge: Books Two, Three, and Four Jamgon Kongtrul, 2010-08-16 Jamgon Kongtrul's ten volume Treasury of Knowledge is a unique encyclopedic masterpiece embodying the entire range of Buddhist teachings as they were preserved in Tibet. Tibetan Buddhist teachers expected their students to study Buddhist philosophical texts as well as practice reflection and meditation. Present day students have also realized that awakening has its source in study as well as in reflection and practice. Buddhism's Journey to Tibet presents Kongtrul's masterful history of Buddhism in India and Tibet. Beginning with the appearance of the Buddha in our world, Book Two describes the Buddha's life, his enlightenment, and what he taught. Book Three, from a multitude of Buddhist viewpoints, describes Buddhism's transmission to and preservation in Tibet. It is the focus of the main part of this volume. Book Four, which describes the scriptural transmissions and lineages of meditation practice as well as the Buddhist arts that together make up the world of Tibetan Buddhism. A Lamp to Illuminate the Five Stages Je Tsongkhapa, 2012-11-19 Tsongkhapa's A Lamp to Illuminate the Five Stages 1419 is a comprehensive presentation of the highest yoga class of Buddhist tantra, especially the key practices, the so-called five stages, pancakrama, of the advanced phase of Guhyasamaja tantra. Beginning with a thorough examination of the Indian sources, Tsongkhapa draws particularly from the writings of Nagarjuna, Aryadeva, Candrakirti, and Naropa to develop a definitive understanding of the Vajrayana completion stage. Whereas in the generation stage meditators visualize the Buddha in the form of the deity residing in a mandala palace, in the completion stage, discussed in the present volume, meditators transcend ordinary consciousness and actualize the state of a Buddha themselves. Among other things, Tsongkhapa's work covers the subtle human physiology of channels and winds along with the process of dying, the bardo, and rebirth. This definitive statement on Guhyasamaja tantra profoundly affected the course of Buddhist practice in Tibet. A Dream-Guided Meditation Model and the Personalized Method for Interpreting Dreams Evelyn M. third volume of the Dalai Lama's esteemed series Science and Philosophy in the Indian Buddhist Classics Science and Philosophy in the Indian Buddhist Classics compiles classical Buddhist explorations of the nature of the material world the human mind reason and liberation and puts them into context for the modern reader This ambitious four volume series a major resource for the history of ideas and especially the history of science and philosophy has been conceived by and compiled under the visionary supervision of His Holiness the Dalai Lama himself It is his view that the exploratory thinking of the great masters of classical India still has much that is of interest to us today whether we are Buddhist or not These volumes make those insights accessible In this third volume the focus turns to exploring the philosophical schools of India The practice of presenting the views of various schools of philosophy dates back to the first millennium in India when proponents of competing traditions would arrange the diverse sets of philosophical positions in a hierarchy culminating in their own school's superior tenets Centuries later relying on the Indian Buddhist treatises Tibet developed its own tradition of works on tenets grub mtha often centered on the four schools of Buddhist philosophy using them to demonstrate the philosophical evolution within their own tradition and within individual practitioners as they progressed through increasingly more subtle expressions of the true reality The present work follows in this venerable tradition but with a modern twist Like its predecessors it presents the views of seven non Buddhist schools those of the Samkhya Vaisheshika Nyaya Mimamsa Vedanta Jaina and Lokayata followed by the Buddhist Vaibhasika Sautrantika Cittamatra and Madhyamaka schools arranging them like steps on a ladder to the profound But rather than following in the sharply polemical approach of its ancient predecessors it strives to survey each tradition authentically relying on and citing the texts sacred to each allowing the different traditions to speak for themselves What it asks are the basic components of the world we experience What is the nature of their ultimate reality And how can we come to experience that for ourselves See how the rich spiritual traditions of India approached these key questions where they agreed and how they evolved through dialogue and debate This presentation of philosophical schools is introduced by His Holiness and is accompanied by an extensive introduction and survey by Professor Donald Lopez Jr of the University of Michigan who is uniquely qualified to communicate the scope and significance of this literary and spiritual heritage to modern readers
