Normativity Conor McHugh, Jonathan Way, Daniel Whiting, 2018-01-26 What should I do What should I think Traditionally ethicists tackle the first question while epistemologists tackle the second Philosophers have tended to investigate the issue of what to do independently of the issue of what to think that is to do ethics independently of epistemology and vice versa This collection of new essays by leading philosophers focuses on a central concern of both epistemology and ethics normativity Normativity is a matter of what one should or may do or think what one has reason or justification to do or to think what it is right or wrong to do or to think and so on The volume is innovative in drawing together issues from epistemology and ethics and in exploring neglected connections between epistemic and practical normativity It represents a burgeoning research programme in which epistemic and practical normativity are seen as two aspects of a single topic deeply interdependent and raising parallel questions

With Eyes Wide Open John W. Roberts, 2023-01-18 With Eyes Wide Open is the story of Quentin Marshall an African American man falsely charged with raping and murdering Carley Andrews a young White woman The action unfolds in a fictional town in the state of South Carolina in the late 1950s and early 1960s Despite his protestations of innocence Quentin is quickly tried found guilty and sentenced to death in the electric chair With Eyes Wide Open however is not just another story about the wrongful conviction of an innocent Black man It is a cautionary tale about the corrosive effects of systemic racism on the actions beliefs and decisions of oftentimes well intentioned people In the case of Quentin it facilitates the transformation of an innocent Black man into a guilty rapist murderer The story is told through a series of overlapping monologues delivered by individuals who report on the action as it unfolds Some of the narrators are individuals who actively participate in the process of victimizing Quentin while others are passive victims whose lives are impacted by what happens to him Collectively their points of view provide glimpses into the motivations of the different actors who either actively participate vehemently oppose or passively stand by with eyes wide open as an innocent man fights for his life within a system indifferent to his existence
