Library,1990

Special Bibliography Series ,1957 An Environmental History of the Middle Ages John Aberth,2013 The Middle Ages was a critical and formative time for Western approaches to our natural surroundings eeAn Environmental History of the Middle Ages is a unique and unprecedented cultural survey of attitudes towards the environment during this period Humankind e tm s relationship with the environment shifted gradually over time from a predominantly adversarial approach to something more overtly collaborative until a series of ecological crises in the late Middle Ages With the advent of shattering events such as the Great Famine and the Black Death considered efflorescences of the climate downturn known as the Little Ice Age that is comparable to our present global warming predicament medieval people began to think of and relate to their natural environment in new and more nuanced ways They now were made to be acutely aware of the consequences of human impacts upon the environment anticipating the cyclical new ecology approach of the modern world Exploring the entire medieval period from 500 to 1500 and ranging across the whole of Europe from England and Spain to the Baltic and Eastern Europe John Aberth focuses his study on three key areas the natural elements of air water and earth the forest and wild and domestic animals Through this multi faceted lens An Environmental History of the Middle Ages sheds fascinating new light on the medieval environmental mindset It will be essential reading for students scholars and all those interested in the Middle Ages

The Oxford Handbook of Anglo-Saxon Archaeology Helena Hamerow, David A. Hinton, Sally Crawford, 2011-03-31 Written by a team of experts and presenting the results of the most up to date research The Handbook of Anglo Saxon Archaeology will both stimulate and support further investigation into a society poised at the interface between prehistory and history

An Archaeological Study of the Bayeux Tapestry Trevor Rowley, 2016-12-19 An analysis of the famed medieval English tapestry through examination of the depicted landscapes towns castles and other structures An Archaeological Study of the Bayeux Tapestry provides a unique re examination of this famous piece of work through the historical geography and archaeology of the tapestry Trevor Rowley is the first author to have analyzed the tapestry through the landscapes buildings and structures shown such as towns and castles while comparing them to the landscapes buildings ruins and earthworks which can be seen today By comparing illustrated extracts from the tapestry to historical and contemporary illustrations maps and reconstructions Rowley is able to provide the reader with a unique visual setting against which they are able to place the events on the tapestry This approach allows Rowley to challenge a number of generally accepted assumptions regarding the location of several scenes in the tapestry most controversially suggesting that William may never have gone to Hastings at all Finally Rowley tackles the missing end of the tapestry suggesting the places and events which would have been depicted on this portion of William s journey to Westminster Praise for An Archaeological Study of the Bayeux Tapestry We all know what the Bayeux Tapestry celebrates in its iconic artwork but Trevor Rowley goes one step further and looks at the buildings and characters with a view actually identifying them Absolutely fascinating brings a whole new dimension to the study of this amazing artefact Books Monthly Rowley s arguments are copiously illustrated with details from the tapestry photographs and plans It results in very densely packed chapters well worth reading and you certainly will never look at that tea towel in the same way again Hexham Local History Society

Zöopedagogies Bonnie J. Erwin, 2018-12-07 The human protagonists of medieval romance are works in progress They are learners taught by an unexpected set of teachers non human animals including horses hawks lions and the various quarry of the hunt These creature teachers show humans how to be more perfectly human how to love fight survive and live according to medieval culture s highest ideals Z oopedagogies explores the pedagogical role of animals in medieval romance a genre whose fantastical elements enable animal characters to behave in ways inspired by but not limited to their real world actions Situated at the intersection of animal studies and medieval studies Z oopedagogies claims medieval roots for posthumanism by telling a new story about the role of animals in constructing Western culture Bonnie Erwin brings together a diverse array of texts including chivalric romances like Sir Gawain and the Green Knight and popular romances like Bevis of Hampton and

Richard Coer de Lyon She puts these into conversation with medieval texts on natural science horsemanship hawking and hunting that inform the representation of creatures who teach In so doing she reveals a rich and nuanced sense of animals as participants in interspecies collaborative culture making

Reengaging History Paul Maurice Clogan, 2005 Since its founding in 1943 Medievalia et Humanistica has won worldwide recognition as the first scholarly publication in America to devote itself entirely to medieval and Renaissance studies Since 1970 a new series sponsored by the Modern Language Association of America and edited by an international board of distinguished scholars and critics has published interdisciplinary articles In yearly hardbound volumes the new series publishes significant scholarship criticism and reviews treating all facets of medieval and Renaissance culture history art literature music science law economics and philosophy Volume thirty one in the new series contains six original and refereed articles that represent a reengagement with history They focus on a variety of topics ranging from reception theory in Andreas Capellanus and the ideal sovereign in Christine de Pizan to peasant rebel leaders in late medieval and early modern Europe Don Monson's article makes good usage of Jauss's reception theory and analyzes the third Dialogue of Book I Chapter 6 of De Amore in a thorough and intelligent way Important aspects of the relationship between scientific Latin treatises and Provençal courtly poetry are neatly demonstrated Karen Gross examines structural and thematic resemblances between the Aeneid and De Casibus arguing that Anchises' pageant of future Roman worthies Aen VI is connected to the frame structure of De casibus The author is interested in global similarities not local verbal echoes and believes that the structure resonances have implications for how Boccaccio understood the interaction between history and poetry between the living and the dead Especially thought provoking and original are the discussion of the motif of father son piety and commemoration and the contrast of Virgil's fortuna in Roman history and Boccaccio's in world history Daisy Delogu's article on Christine de Pizan is a timely one and also represents reengagement with history
