The Language Of Fiction Essays In Criticism And Verbal Analysis Of The English Novel:

Language of Fiction David Lodge, 2002 Now including a new introduction from the author this major work from one of England's finest living writers is essential reading for all those who care about the creation and appreciation of literature

Language of Fiction David Lodge, 1966 The Cambridge Companion to the Twentieth-Century English Novel Robert L. Caserio, 2009-04-30 The twentieth century English novel encompasses a vast body of work and one of the most important and most widely read genres of literature Balancing close readings of particular novels with a comprehensive survey of the last century of published fiction this Companion introduces readers to more than a hundred major and minor novelists It demonstrates continuities in novel writing that bridge the century's pre and post War halves and presents leading critical ideas about English fiction's themes and forms The essays examine the endurance of modernist style throughout the century the role of nationality and the contested role of the English language in all its forms and the relationships between realism and other fictional modes fantasy romance science fiction Students scholars and readers will find this Companion an indispensable guide to the history of the English novel

The Poetics of Novels M. Axelrod, 1999-09-17 The Poetics of Novels deals with the fundamentals of novel writing and the execution of such and though it engages specific notions of literary and cultural theory it privileges the architectonics of the texts themselves as it crosses boundaries of both time and culture Novels include Austen's Northanger Abbey Beckett's Company Brontë's Wuthering Heights Cervantes' Don Quixote Flaubert's Madame Bovary Hamsun's Hunger Hardy's Tess of the D'Urbervilles Lispector's Hour of the Star and Smart's By Grand Central Station I Sat Down and Wept

Class in Turn-of-the-Century Novels of Gissing, James, Hardy and Wells Christine DeVine, 2017-11-30 This book argues that due to political and ideological shifts in the last decades of the nineteenth century a time when the class system in England was in a state of flux a new depiction of social class was possible in the English novel Late century writers such as Gissing James Hardy and Wells question the middle class Victorian views of class that had dominated the novel for decades By disrupting traditional novelistic conventions these writers reveal the ideology of the historical moment in which those conventions obtained thereby questioning the naturalness of class assumed by earlier middle class Victorian writers The book contextualizes novels by these writers within their historical moment with reference to relevant maps journalism artwork or photography and specific historical events It illuminates the relationship between fiction and history in late nineteenth and early twentieth century fiction and especially the relationship between changing depictions of class and the development of realism Examining the nineteenth century English novel through the lens of social class allows the twenty first century critic and student not only to understand the issues at stake in much Victorian fiction but also to recognize powerful present day vestiges of this social class system

New Life Of Charlotte Bronte Tom Winnifrith,1988-05-04

Irving's Dialogism in the Alhambra Mohamed Dellal,2024-12-06 Cross culture and or multiculturalism have become catchwords and phrases in certain studies within academia but they have mostly become battle grounds for contestation and convergence with contestation of identity cultural authenticity and or supremacy and hegemony Yet over and above all these skirmishes convergence tends to win the day as it struggles for a cosmopolitan culture and polity albeit very difficult to achieve The present work follows the same line of thought by trying to bring a new perspective into what it calls cultural dialogism inherent in the corpus of texts borrowed from The Alhambra by W Irving The texts selected display a dual characteristic the first is addressed as organic in the sense that the texts reflect some eight hundred years of natural copulation between Muslim culture brought up by Muslim conquerors to the Andalusian Christendom the second underlines a volition on the part of the author to merge the culture by intruding into the structures of the language and the texts The present work intends to show that these characteristic hybridities transgress the generic boundaries as well as the cultural one producing a brassage breaking the fixity of the boundaries cultural and other causing brisures and sutures This endows the texts with a certain liminality that makes it difficult to authenticate them as belonging to either culture

The Novel and the New Ethics Dorothy J. Hale,2020-11-24 For a generation of contemporary Anglo American novelists the question Why write has been answered with a renewed will to believe in the ethical value of literature Dissatisfied with postmodernist parody and pastiche a broad array of novelist critics including J M Coetzee Toni Morrison Zadie Smith Gish Jen Ian McEwan and Jonathan

Franzen champion the novel as the literary genre most qualified to illuminate individual ethical action and decision making within complex and diverse social worlds Key to this contemporary vision of the novel's ethical power is the task of knowing and being responsible to people different from oneself and so thoroughly have contemporary novelists devoted themselves to the ethics of otherness that this ethics frequently sets the terms for plot characterization and theme In The Novel and the New Ethics literary critic Dorothy J Hale investigates how the contemporary emphasis on literature's social relevance sparks a new ethical description of the novel's social value that is in fact rooted in the modernist notion of narrative form This new ethics of the contemporary moment has its origin in the new idea of novelistic form that Henry James inaugurated and which was consolidated through the modernist narrative experiments and was developed over the course of the twentieth century In Hale's reading the art of the novel becomes defined with increasing explicitness as an aesthetics of alterity made visible as a formalist ethics In fact it is this commitment to otherness as a narrative act which has conferred on the genre an artistic intensity and richness that extends to the novel's every word The Case For a Humanistic Poetics Daniel R.

Schwarz,1990-06-18 An attempt to define a humanistic and pluralistic ideology of reading which takes recent theory into account By the same author as The Humanistic Heritage Critical Theories on the English Novel from James through Hillis Miller and Reading Joyce's Ulysses Routledge Revivals: Style and Stylistics \(1969\) Graham Hough,2018-08-06 First published in 1969 Professor Hough's work examines stylistics the bridge between linguistics and literary criticism The book gives a short survey of stylistics from a literary point of view and tries to answer the question of how much stylistics contributes to the understanding of literature It brings together continental European work on stylistics and Anglo American critical writing which has a similar purpose though usually under a different name In calling the attention of the student of literature to trains of thought with which he is not generally familiar and with detailed analysis on different literary styles and methods Professor Hough provides important critical insights Trees in Nineteenth-Century English Fiction Anna Burton,2021-03-28 This is a book about a longstanding network of writers and writings that celebrate the aesthetic socio political scientific ecological geographical and historical value of trees and tree spaces in the landscape and it is a study of the effect of this tree writing upon the novel form in the long nineteenth century Trees in Nineteenth Century English Fiction The Silvicultural Novel identifies the picturesque thinker William Gilpin as a significant influence in this literary and environmental tradition Remarks on Forest Scenery 1791 is formed by Gilpin's own observations of trees forests and his New Forest home specifically but it is also the product of tree stories collected from travellers and historians that came before him This study tracks the impact of this accumulating arboreal discourse upon nineteenth century environmental writers such as John Claudius Loudon Jacob George Strutt William Howitt and Mary Roberts and its influence on varied dialogues surrounding natural history agriculture landscaping deforestation and public health Building upon this concept of an ongoing silvicultural discussion the monograph examines how novelists in the realist mode engage with this discourse and use their understanding of arboreal space and its cultural worth in order to transform their own fictional environments Through their novelistic framing of single trees clumps forests ancient woodlands and man made plantations Jane Austen Elizabeth Gaskell and Thomas Hardy feature as authors of particular interest Collectively in their environmental representations these novelists engage with a broad range of silvicultural conversation in their writing of space at the beginning middle and end of the nineteenth century This book will be of great interest to students researchers and academics working in the environmental humanities long nineteenth century literature nature writing and environmental literature environmental history ecocriticism and literature and science scholarship How Literature Works Kenneth Quinn,1992-07-21 In How Literature Works important issues of literary theory are vividly illustrated by application to a wide variety of texts many quoted and discussed at length The theoretical aspects covered include the structural characteristics of literary texts the psychology of the reading process and the social function of literature The book also deals with such general questions as the relationship between literary texts and objective prose and the relationship between poems written to work as songs and those in which the lyric form is used to develop an argument the singing and the speaking voice , Religious Experience and the Modernist Novel Pericles Lewis,2010-01-07 Considers the development of modernism in the novel in relation to changing attitudes to religion The Sympathetic Response Mary Ellen Doyle,1981 S C N Presents fresh insights into Eliot s fiction by concentrating on her rhetoric The author illuminates the theory of rhetoric by showing how one writer applied it and developed her craft from her early novels to her master piece Paradox and Post-Christianity; Hardy's Engagements with Religious Tradition and the Bible □□□□,1999-12 The True Story of the Novel Margaret Anne Doody,1996 An erudite intelligent and imaginative work of literary scholarship With vivacity grace and wit Doody traces the history of the novel from the ancient novels of Apuleium and Heliodorus through the Renaissance fictions of Boccaccio Cervantes and Rabelais to the official birth of the novel in 18th century England BOSTON GLOBE 39 illustrations

The Unsung Artistry of George Orwell Loraine Saunders,2016-02-24 In a timely and radically new reappraisal of George Orwell s fiction Loraine Saunders reads Orwell s novels as tales of successful emancipation rather than as chronicles of failure Contending that Orwell s novels have been undervalued as works of art she offers extensive textual analysis to reveal an author who is in far more control of his prose than has been appreciated Persuasively demonstrating that Orwell s novels of the 1930s such as A Clergyman s Daughter and Keep the Aspidochelone Flying are no less important as literature than Animal Farm and Nineteen Eighty Four Saunders argues they have been victims of a critical tradition whose practitioners have misunderstood Orwell s narrative style failed to appreciate Orwell s political stance and were predisposed to find little merit in Orwell s novels Saunders devotes significant attention to George Gissing s influence on Orwell particularly with regard to his representations of women She also examines Orwell s socialism in the context of the political climate of the 1930s finding that Orwell in his successful negotiation of the fine balance between art and propaganda had much more in common with

Charlie Chaplin than with writers like Stephen Spender or W H Auden As a result of Saunders s detailed and accessible analysis which illuminates how Orwell harmonized allegory with documentary polyphonic voice with monophonic and elegy with comedy Orwell s contributions to the genre of political fiction are finally recognized
