The History Of Coaches:

The History of Coaches G.A. Thrupp, 2018-02-13 Reproduction of the original The History of Coaches George Athelstane Thrupp, 1877 A history of coaches and carriages The History of Coaches George Athelstane Thrupp, 2019-12-19 In The History of Coaches George Athelstane Thrupp provides an exhaustive examination of the development and cultural significance of coaches throughout history. The work meticulously traces the evolution of horse drawn carriages from their early origins in ancient civilizations to their prominence in the 19th century, showcasing Thrupp's adeptness in historical narrative and thorough research. The author employs a scholarly yet engaging literary style, utilizing both primary and secondary sources to contextualize the transportation innovations of different eras, illuminating the societal impacts and aesthetic transformations of coaching as both a means of transport and status symbol. George Athelstane Thrupp, a noted historian and authority on coach design and transport evolution, was heavily influenced by the burgeoning industrial landscape of Victorian England. His passion for transport systems and their societal implications is evident in this work, which not only reflects his academic rigor but also his deep appreciation for the intricacies of material culture. Thrupp's background in engineering and design aligns seamlessly with the thematic exploration of functionality and beauty in coach construction, imbuing the text with authoritative insight. The History of Coaches is a must-read for historians, transport enthusiasts, and anyone intrigued by the interplay between technology and society. Thrupp's thoroughness and passion elevate this work to a significant document in transport history, making it a valuable addition to any library and essential for understanding the evolution of personal and public transportation. In this enriched edition, we have carefully created added value for your reading experience. Hand-picked Memorable Quotes shine a spotlight on moments of literary brilliance. Excerpt: considerable advance from the clumsy vehicles of Queen Anne and George I's time. But during the reigns of George II and George III all our manufactures had received an immense impulse from the energy of the men of the time. Discoveries were continually being made in arts and manufactures. Books were written, experiments tried, and debates held in every workshop as to the best mode of construction and arrangements of all the parts and improvements by the artisans employed became a matter of course. It is true that with the increased wealth of England there was an increased demand for carriages; demand will always produce supply, but all must admit that the supply in those days was very good, and all the varied demands were met with considerable pains and ingenuity. In the year 1769 the Society of Arts had given sixty guineas to Mr T. Hunt for improvements in tying wheels, and twenty guineas to Mr Joseph Jacob of St Mary Axe for improved coach springs. This same Mr Jacob wrote a clever treatise on carriages in 1773, and in 1777 he repaired the city state coach. In 1772

the Society of Arts gave twenty guineas to Mr 78 INVENTION OF ELLIPTICAL SPRINGS W Bailey for improvements in the locking of waggons and in 1773 the Society of Arts had experiments made in the draught of carriages and rewarded a Mr Cuthbert Clarke with fifteen guineas for an essay on the height of wheels Later Dr Edgeworth in 1816 conducted a series of interesting experiments at Dublin with a view to ascertain the difference that high and low wheels long and short carriages and springs placed between the axles and the vehicles would have upon the draught of the vehicles In the year 1804 Mr Obadiah Elliot a coachmaker of Lambeth patented his The History of Coaches George Athelstane Thrupp,2022-10-27 This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant The History of Coaches, Etc.
