Edwards,2010-06-10 The Korean War has often been regarded as a forgotten war although that is certainly unfair It was if anything a rather crucial war within the ambit of the Cold War started by North Korea in 1950 and although the bulk of the fighting was over by 1954 peace has never been concluded and the two sides still face off over the demilitarized zone On the other side of the zone is South Korea which has since become a very prosperous and democratic country while North Korea has achieved relatively little So that war is certainly not forgotten by the Koreans And given the large number of deaths and casualties it is still remembered by many in the United States and other allies as well as China and the Soviet Union This Historical Dictionary of the Korean War now in its second edition does much to jolt our memory and inform us about the war This is done first in a lengthy chronology tracking the war but also the path to war and what happened after The introduction covers the war as a whole trying to make sense of it The dictionary section provides all of the necessary details on significant persons places and events battles and other engagements military units and material as well as the political economic and social background There are also maps and a list of acronyms This is really the ideal source for information in addition to which it also has an extensive bibliography International Conflict in the Asia-Pacific Jacob Bercovitch,Mikio Oishi,2010-06-23 This book analyses four major long standing and intractable conflicts in the Asia Pacific region the Korean Peninsula the Taiwan Strait the South China Sea Spratly Islands and India Pakistan and aims to identify the mechanisms used to manage these conflicts International Conflict in the Asia Pacific brings together in one volume four major international conflicts that have shaped the region and studies how they evolved and how best to manage them The book seeks to find a pattern common to the four conflicts and their management as well as taking note of variations among them hereby aiming to establish what might be called the Asia Pacific way of managing intractable conflicts This book will of much interest to students of international conflict management Asian politics security studies and IR in general Jacob Bercovitch is Professor of International Relations in the Political Science Department at the University of Canterbury in New Zealand Widely regarded as one of the most influential scholars in the field of international conflict resolution he is author of more than 15 books and numerous articles Mikio Oishi is a Visiting Fellow with the National Centre for Peace and Conflict Studies NCPACS University of Otago and a Research Fellow with Political Science Programme of University of Canterbury A Revolutionary War Elwood L.
