The Language Of Contemporary Criticism Clarified:

The Language of Contemporary Criticism Clarified William Innes Homer, 1999 Homer's language is nontechnical and liberated from jargon. He has broken through the barriers of obscurity. Complex ideas are finally easy to understand. Book Jacket The Eloquence of the Vulgar Colin MacCabe, 2019-07-25 In The Eloquence of the Vulgar the distinguished academic Colin MacCabe reflects on cultural change from Shakespeare to Derek Jarman on the institutional forms of knowledge on the links between popular and elite art and on the role of the intellectual in contemporary life. A radical argument emerges from the book's diverse concerns. Cinema and television the new and democratic art forms of the twentieth century demand a fundamental rethinking of our concepts of language and culture. What is at stake is the very idea of a liberal and humane education.

Literary Criticism Gary Day, 2008-07-04 A THE Book of the Week Did you know that Aristotle thought the best tragedies were those which ended happily Or that the first mention of the motor car in literature may have been in 1791 in James Boswell's Life of Johnson Or that it was not unknown in the nineteenth century for book reviews to be 30 000 words long These are just a few of the fascinating facts to be found in this absorbing history of literary criticism. From the Ancient Greek period to the present day we learn about critics lives the times in which they lived and how the same problems of interpretation and valuation persist through the ages. In this lively and engaging book Gary Day questions whether the theory wars of recent years have lost sight of the actual literature and makes surprising connections between criticism and a range of subjects including the rise of money. General readers will appreciate this informative intriguing and often provocative.

Edward Said and the Authority of Literary Criticism Nicolas Vandeviver, 2019-09-26 This book examines the earliest writings of Edward Said and the foundations of what came to be known as postcolonial criticism in order to reveal how the groundbreaking author of Orientalism turned literary criticism into a form of political intervention. Tracing Said's shifting conceptions of literature and agency in relation to the history of American literary studies in the thirty years or so between the end of World War II and the last quarter of the twentieth century this book offers a rich and novel understanding of the critical practice of this indispensable figure and the institutional context from which it emerged. By combining broad scale literary history with granular attention to the vocabulary of criticism Nicolas Vandeviver brings to light the harmonizing of methodological conflicts that informs Said's approach to literature and argues that Said's enduring political significance is grounded in his practice as a literary critic.

Encyclopedia of Italian Literary Studies is a two volume reference book containing some 600 entries on all aspects of Italian literary culture. It includes analytical essays on authors and works from the most important figures of Italian literature to little known authors and works that are influential to the field. The Encyclopedia is distinguished by substantial articles on critics, themes, genres, schools, historical surveys and other topics related to the overall subject of Italian literary studies. The Encyclopedia also includes writers and subjects of contemporary interest such as those relating to journalism, film, media, children's literature, food and vernacular literatures. Entries consist of an essay on the topic and a bibliographic portion listing works for further reading and in the case of entries on individuals a brief biographical paragraph and list of works by the person. It will be useful to people without specialized knowledge of Italian literature as well as to scholars.

The Making of the Humanities Rens Bod, Jaap Maat, Thijs Weststeijn, 2025-10-01. This book is the first step towards the development of a comparative history of the humanities. Specialists in philology, musicology, art history, linguistics, literary theory and other disciplines highlight the intertwining of the various fields and their impact on the sciences. This first volume in the series The Making of the Humanities focuses on the early modern period. Different perspectives reveal how the humanities developed from the liberal arts via the curriculum of humanistic schools to modern disciplines. The authors show in particular how discoveries in the humanities contributed to a secular world view pointing up connections with the scientific revolution. The main themes are the humanities versus the sciences, the visual arts as liberal arts, humanism and heresy, language and poetics, linguists and logicians, philology and philosophy, the history of history. Contributions come from a selection of internationally renowned European and American scholars including Floris Cohen, David Cram and Ingrid Rowland. The book offers a wealth of insights for specialists, students and those interested in the humanities in a broad sense.
