The Language Of Difference:

The Language Difference Paulin G. Djité, 2011 This book asks whether language makes a difference when it comes to development and whether there is a perceptible difference in development between countries that is attributable to their choice of language It answers these questions by comparing the role of language in Africa and in Southeast Asia Cambodia the Lao PDR Myanmar and Viet Nam

At Translation's Edge Nataša Durovicova, Patrice Petro, Lorena Terando, 2019-06-14 Since the 1970s the field of Translation Studies has entered into dialogue with an array of other disciplines sustaining a close but contentious relationship with literary translation At Translation s Edge expands this interdisciplinary dialogue by taking up questions of translation across sub fields and within disciplines including film and media studies comparative literature history and education among others For the contributors to this volume translation is understood in its most expansive transdisciplinary sense translation as exchange migration and mobility including cross cultural communication and media circulation Whether exploring the Universal Declaration of Human Rights or silent film intertitles this volume brings together the work of scholars aiming to address the edges of Translation Studies while engaging with major and minor languages colonial and post colonial studies feminism and disability studies and theories of globalization and empire

The Atoms Of Language Mark C Baker, 2008-08-05 Whether all human languages are fundamentally the same or different has been a subject of debate for ages This problem has deep philosophical implications If languages are all the same it implies a fundamental commonality and thus the mutual intelligibility of human thought We are now on the verge of answering this question Using a twenty year old theory proposed by the world's greatest living linguist Noam Chomsky researchers have found that the similarities among languages are more profound than the differences Languages whose grammars seem completely incompatible may in fact be structurally almost identical except for a difference in one simple rule The discovery of these rules and how they may vary promises to yield a linguistic equivalent of the Periodic Table of the Elements a single framework by which we can understand the fundamental structure of all human language This is a landmark breakthrough both within linguistics which will thereby become a full fledged science for the first time and in our understanding of the human mind

Racing Translingualism in Composition Tom Do, Karen Rowan, 2022-09-15 Racing Translingualism provides both theoretical and pedagogical reconsiderations of the translingual approach to language diversity by addressing the intersections of race and translingualism This collection extends the disciplinary conversations about translingualism by foregrounding the role race and racism play in the construction and maintenance of language differences In doing so the contributors examine the co naturalization of race and language in order to theorize a race conscious translingual praxis The book begins by offering generative critiques of translingualism centering on the ways in which the approach's democratic orientation to language avoids issues of race language and power and appeals to colorblind racist tropes of equal opportunity Following these critiques contributors demonstrate the important intersections of race and translingualism by drawing upon voices typically marginalized by monolingual language ideologies and pedagogies Finally Racing Translingualism concludes by attending to the pedagogical implications of a race conscious translingual praxis in writing and literacy education Making the case for race conscious rather than colorblind theories and pedagogies Racing Translingualism offers a unique take on how translingualism is theorized and practiced and moves the
