The Last Stop Writing From Comstock Prison:

The Last Stop Joseph Bruchac, 1974      The Political Uses of Literature Benjamin Kohlmann, Ivana Perica, 2024-01-11

Drawing on a global history of politicized writing this book explores literature's utility as a mode of activism and aesthetic engagement with the political challenges of the current moment. The question of literature's uses has recently become a key topic of academic and public debate. Paradoxically however these conversations often tend to bypass the rich history of engagements with literature's distinctly political uses that form such a powerful current of 20th and 21st century artistic production and critical theoretical reflection. The Political Uses of Literature reopens discussion of literature's political and activist genealogies along several interrelated lines. As a foundational moment it draws attention to the important body of interwar politicized literature and to debates about literature's ability to intervene in social reality. It then traces the mobilization of related conversations and artistic practices across several historical conjunctures most notably the committed literature of the 1960s and our own present. In mapping out these geographically and artistically diverse traditions including case studies from the Americas Europe Africa India and Russia contributors advance critical discussions in the field making questions pertaining to politicized art newly compelling to a broader and more diverse readership. Most importantly this volume insists on the need to think about literature's political uses today at a time when it has become increasingly difficult to imagine any kind of political efficacy for art even as the need to do so is growing more and more acute. Literature may not proffer easy answers to our political problems but as this collection suggests the writing of the 20th century holds out aesthetic resources for a renewed engagement with the dilemmas that face us now.      When the Smoke Cleared Celes

Tisdale, 2022-10-17 Following the Attica prison uprising in September 1971 Celes Tisdale a poet and then professor at Buffalo State College began leading poetry workshops with those incarcerated at Attica. Tisdale's workshop created a space of radical Black creativity and solidarity in which poets who lived through the uprising were able to turn their experiences into poetry. The poems written by Tisdale's students were published as Betcha Ain't Poems from Attica in 1974. When the Smoke Cleared contains the entirety of Betcha Ain't, Tisdale's own poems and journal entries from the three years he taught at Attica, a previously unpublished collection of poems by Attica poets and a critical introduction by poet Mark Nowak. In addition to the poetry Tisdale's journal entries give readers a unique opportunity to experience what it was like to enter Attica as an educator and return week after week to discuss poetry. When the Smoke Cleared showcases these poets' achievements, their desire for self-determination and their historical role as storytellers of Black life in a prison monitored exclusively by white guards and administrators.      Social Poetics Mark Nowak, 2020-03-10 Social Poetics documents the imaginative militancy and emergent solidarities of a new insurgent working class poetry community rising up across the globe. Part autobiography, part literary criticism, part Marxist theory, Social Poetics presents a people's history of the poetry workshop from the founding director of the Worker Writers School. Nowak illustrates not just what poetry means but what it does to and for people.
