Sir Gawain and the Classical Tradition E.L. Ridsen, 2006-02-10 The 14th century English alliterative poem Sir Gawain and the Green Knight is admired for its morally complex plot and brilliant poetics A chivalric romance placed in an Arthurian setting it has since received acclaim for its commentary regarding important socio political and religious concerns The poem's technical brilliance blends psychological depth and vivid language to produce an effect widely considered superior to any other work of the time Although the poem is a combination of English alliterative meter romanticism and a wide ranging knowledge of Celtic lore continental materials and Latin classics the extent to which Classical antecedents affected or directed the poem is a point of continued controversy among literary scholars This collection of essays by scholars of diverse interests addresses this puzzling and fascinating question The introduction provides an expansive background for the topic and subsequent essays explore the extent to which classical Greek Roman Arabic Christian and Celtic influences are revealed in the poem's opening and closing allusions themes and composition Essays discuss the way in which the anonymous author of Sir Gawain employs figural echoes of classical materials cultural memoirs of past British tradition and romantic re-textualizations of Trojan and British literature It is argued that Sir Gawain may be understood as an Aeneas Achilles or Odysseus figure while the British situation in the 14th century may be understood as analogous to that of ancient Troy

addressed in current critical debate from the diverse areas of linguistics literature teaching methodology and translation In all the book becomes exceptional witness to all these developments being not foolhardy to predict that the dark old ages provide as ever foundations for stimulating new highlights and ideas isolation or incarceration most people move naturally from smaller to larger spaces and back again without giving the process much thought But paying attention to our own movement in space yields all sorts of sensory experiences from something relaxing to something terrifying or even astonishingly beautiful Our sense of expandable contractible space can influence how we process everything from Japanese gardens to mountain hikes and desert expanses Writers often expand or contract spaces around their characters for dramatic effect character building and even thematic purposes Marie de France used expanded spaces for adventure and travel and contracted spaces first for romance and then for spiritual devotion Chaucer used expanded spaces for adventure pilgrimage and danger and contracted spaces for conviviality and storytelling Dante and Milton created expansive cosmologies but focused on small spaces for both suffering and incredible spiritual achievement This study of literary spatiality yields fascinating results reflects useful techniques for reading and reminds us of the value of all sorts of different approaches to analysis and artistic enjoyment

Sexuality in the Middle Ages and Early Modern Times

Albrecht Classen, 2008-12-10 Sexuality is one of the most influential factors in human life. The responses to and reflections upon the manifestations of sexuality provide fascinating insights into fundamental aspects of medieval and early modern culture. This interdisciplinary volume with articles written by social historians, literary historians, musicologists, art historians, and historians of religion and mental history demonstrates how fruitful collaborative efforts can be in the exploration of essential features of human society. Practically every aspect of culture both in the Middle Ages and the early modern age was influenced and determined by sexuality, which hardly ever surfaces simply characterized by prurient interests. The treatment of sexuality in literature, chronicles, music, art, legal documents, and in scientific texts illuminates central concerns, anxieties, tensions, needs, fears, and problems in human society throughout times. Choice, 2005 2006 Massimo
