Arnold-de-Simone, 2013-10-16

Mediating Memory in the Museum is a contribution to an emerging field of research that is situated at the interface between memory studies and museum studies It highlights the role of museums in the proliferation of the so called memory boom as well as the influence of memory discourses on international trends in museum cultures Dark Tourism and Pilgrimage Daniel H. Olson, Maximiliano E. Korstanje, 2019-12-21

In recent years there has been a growth in both the practice and research of dark tourism the phenomenon of visiting sites of tragedy or disaster Expanding on this trend this book examines dark tourism through the new lens of pilgrimage It focuses on dark tourism sites as pilgrimage destinations dark tourists as pilgrims and pilgrimage as a form of dark tourism Taking a broad definition of pilgrimage so as to consider aspects of both religious and non religious travel that might be considered pilgrimage like it covers theories and histories of dark tourism and pilgrimage pilgrimage to dark tourism sites and experience design A key resource for researchers and students of heritage tourism and pilgrimage this book will also be of great interest to those studying anthropology religious studies and related social science subjects Tourism, Culture and Regeneration Melanie K. Smith, 2007

Sustainable and integrated regeneration in the context of culture and tourism is explored for the first time within this book The text is enhanced by international case studies Exhibiting Slavery Vivian Nun Halloran, 2009-10-23

Exhibiting Slavery examines the ways in which Caribbean postmodern historical novels about slavery written in Spanish English and French function as virtual museums simultaneously showcasing and curating a collection of primary documents within their pages As Vivian Nun Halloran attests these novels highlight narrative objects extraneous to their plot such as excerpts from the work of earlier writers allusions to specific works of art the uniforms of maroon armies assembled in preparation of a military offensive and accounts of slavery's negative impact on the traditional family unit in Africa or the United States In doing so they demand that their readers go beyond the pages of the books to sort out fact from fiction and consider what relationship these featured objects have to slavery and to contemporary life The self referential function of these texts produces a museum effect that simultaneously teaches and entertains their readers prompting them to continue their own research beyond and outside the text
