Pascual-Fernández, Cristina Pita, Maarten Bavinck, 2020-04-28 This book offers a comprehensive account of the status and dynamics of people participating in the small scale fisheries SSF of Europe It covers the situation of SSF in 25 coastal countries thereby providing a portrait of almost every coastal country on the continent and analyzing the recent evolution of the sector Small scale fisheries are argued to be extremely important in Europe as they provide employment and welfare while increasing food sovereignty and maintaining communities in coastal areas The recent worldwide focus on SSF derives from their environmental sustainability which distinguishes many of their activities from those of large scale fisheries This book analyses the diversity of SSF and shows how fishing communities have sometimes developed successful governing models demonstrating social and economic resilience While the book emphasizes the strengths of SSF and the synergies that occur with other marine sectors it also presents cases of failure in which collective action and policy have actually contributed to a weakening of the sector In this context the book shows how governmental policies toward SSF vary considerably from country to country in a way that is not entirely consistent with European policies sustainable small scale fisheries FAO commissioned these studies aiming to share experiences and promote the implementation of the Voluntary Guidelines for Securing Sustainable Small Scale Fisheries in the Context of Food Security and Poverty Eradication SSF Guidelines The case studies were also intended to promote participatory approaches in line with the SSF Guidelines principles and to promote increased interaction between research and fishing communities including the use of traditional knowledge and participatory research It is hoped that the case studies will inform policy and policy processes and in this way promote sustainable small scale fisheries according to the SSF Guidelines and the human rights based approach to development HRBA The case studies constitute a rich selection of experiences and are diverse not only with regard to their geographical setting but also in scope and approach They span from looking at one specific tool for sharing experiences the fisheries learning exchanges methodology in Madagascar and Mozambique or examining the enabling environment in a specific thematic area disaster risks in Bangladesh to regional policy formulation on small scale fisheries the SSF Guidelines protocol for Caribbean policies and reflection on how to use the SSF Guidelines in participatory processes the Myanmar step by step approach to discussions with small scale fisheries communities A few of the papers look at co management in some cases combining fisheries management and social development Senegal Uruguay and Nepal with one focusing on the role of small scale fisheries and community organizations India Generally the case studies refer to HRBA but perhaps because many of the activities have taken place in the past it seems that HRBA has rarely been consciously and explicitly implemented Still the case studies bear witness to a number of experiences and practices that are clearly steps in the right direction Key good practices emerging from the studies refer to among other things holistic approaches to co management and social responsibility broad engagement inclusiveness and partnerships the power of communication and gender equality and the role of women As more experience is gained our knowledge of how to go about implementing the SSF Guidelines will improve and nurture new and continued initiatives For the present and the future efforts should be made to apply HRBA while continuing to share experiences and good practices showing how to do so when implementing the SSF Guidelines
