Stakeholders In Rural Development Critical Collaboration In State Ngo Partnerships:

Stakeholders in Rural Development John M. Riley, 2002 With its novel and practical approach to an issue of increasing importance in development John Riley describes and elaborates on a form of collaborative effort between governments and voluntary agencies which appear to be working in practice in what he calls critical collaboration Journal of Rural Development, 2005 Forests People and Power Oliver Springate-Baginski, Piers Blaikie, 2013-06-17 With tens of millions of hectares and hundreds of millions of lives in the balance the debate over who should control South Asia's forests is of tremendous political significance This book provides an insightful and thorough assessment of important forest management transitions currently underway MARK POFFENBERGER EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR OF COMMUNITY FORESTRY INTERNATIONAL The contributions in this volume not only breathe life into the field of writing and analysis related to forests they do so on the strength of extraordinarily insightful research Kudos to Springate Baginski and Blaikie for providing us with a set of thoroughly researched provocative studies that should be required reading not only for those interested in community forestry in south Asia but in resource governance anywhere ARUN AGRAWAL ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR OF NATURAL RESOURCES it challenges our assumptions of the benefits of participatory forest management and the role of forestry in poverty reduction It should be of interest to policy makers and to all those who have been involved with the struggle of transforming forestry over the decades DR MARY HOBLEY HOBLEY SHIELDS ASSOCIATES NATURAL RESOURCE MANAGEMENT AND PLANNING CONSULTANCY A rare combination of extensive field study social science insights and policy studies will be of immense value DR N C SAXENA MEMBER OF NATIONAL ADVISORY COUNCIL GOVERNMENT OF INDIA In recent decades participatory approaches to forest management have been introduced around the world This book assesses their implementation in the highly politicized environments of India and Nepal The authors critically examine the policy implementation processes and causal factors affecting livelihood impacts Considering narratives and field practice with data from over 60 study villages and over 1000 household interviews the book demonstrates why particular field outcomes have occurred and why policy reform often proves so difficult Research findings on which the book is based are already influencing policy in India and Nepal and the research and analysis have great relevance to forestry management in a wide range of countries Published with DFID performance of ngos with reference to women empowerment Dr J Saritha, Voluntary Sector and Rural Development Rajeeb Misra, 2008 Voluntary Sector and Rural Development systematically analyzes the theoretical background of non governmental organizations NGOs based on contemporary thoughts on the subject The book covers the concepts of development and rural development and devotes adequate space to the strategies adopted to rural development in India including an analysis of the themes of various rural development programs under India's First to Tenth Five Year Plan The findings contain many significant observations on the functioning of NGOs The book constitutes the author's seminal contribution in studying the strategy for poverty removal and rural development The idea contained here is not only fresh but in all appearances pragmatic as well It points to the role of three forces in the civil society authority voluntarism and profit It asserts that programs designed to work in a social system without integrating the above three forces will not succeed fully The book also charts out a strategy for adoption by program implementation agencies

Empowering Asian Youth through Volunteering Elaine Suk Ching Liu, 2019-09-09 This book describes the origin development and current state of volunteerism in Asia and Hong Kong It also presents a field tested model of empowering through volunteerism namely the CYEP at City University that involves youth governmental and non governmental agencies and their clients in a rapidly changing society Volunteerism is then described as a win win situation for all stakeholders actors Volunteerism converges the needs the struggles the personal motives and the aspirations of the volunteers together with the dreams and the difficulties of the clients the expertise of the professionals and the lack of resources of the agencies the new values emerging in society the effects of globalization and the new policies This book presents actual Asian case examples with the voices of the people involved on the CYEP volunteers officers service recipients who explain how volunteering changed their lives their values their attitudes toward social civic and political participation their ethics and sense of individual responsibility These stories from the frontlines can be adopted and or adopted for use by other institutions but it is also the chance for understanding the emergence of volunteering in Asia overall and its future direction

Civil Society and Democratization in India Sarbeswar Sahoo, 2013-04-26 Developing a distinctive theoretical framework on civil society this book examines how Non Governmental Organizations NGOs contribute towards democratization in India and what conditions facilitate or inhibit their contribution It assesses three different kinds of politics within civil society liberal pluralist neo Marxist and communitarian which have had different implications in relation to democratization By making use of in depth empirical analysis and comparative case studies of three developmental NGOs that work among the tribal communities in the socio historical context of south Rajasthan the book shows that civil society is not necessarily a democratizing force but that it can have contradictory consequences in relation to democratization It discusses how the democratic effect of civil society is not a result of the stock of social capital in the community but is contingent upon the kinds of ideologies and interests that are present or ascendant not just within the institutions of civil society but also within the state The book delivers new insights on NGOs democratization civil society the state political society tribal politics politics of Hindu Nationalism international development aid and grassroots social movements in India It enables readers to understand better the multifaceted nature of civil society its relationship with the state and its implications for development and democratization
