A close-up photograph of a Voortman industrial machine, likely a laser cutting head. The machine is primarily grey with red accents. The Voortman logo, consisting of a stylized 'V' inside a square, is prominently displayed on the left side of the grey upper housing. To the right of the logo, the brand name 'voortman' is written in a bold, white, sans-serif font. Below the housing, the internal components of the machine are visible, including a laser cutting head with a nozzle and various mechanical parts. The background is slightly blurred, showing other industrial structures and a yellow safety light on the left.
