A Traditionalist History of the Great War, Book II Alexander Wolfheze,2021-01-27 This book analyzes the world of 1914 by combining the approaches of traditionalist hermeneutics and 20th century geopolitics The juxtaposition of these two frameworks incorporated in the principles of Sacred Geography and Sea Power allows for a Traditionalist perspective on the choices facing the Ten Great Powers on the eve of the Great War The book s multifaceted approach follows the iconoclastic culture critique method of the Traditional School that was developed by Ren Gu non Frithjof Schuon and Julius Evola it shows the pre war world as essentially different from the post war world Thus the Ten Great Power protagonists of the Great War may be understood on their own terms rather than through a backward projection of politically correct values on the existentially different human life world of 1914 Dislodging the historical materialist progress premise that underpins contemporary academic historiography this book reasserts the highest claim of the Art of History meta narrative meaning The Collected Works of G.K. Chesterton Gilbert Keith Chesterton,1990 The topics of the 150 columns in the volume include The Real Problem with Religious Toleration The Modern Longing for Slavery America in a Rut The Ku Klux Klan and American Conservatism An Artist s Satire on War The Monster Called Man Volumes 27 through 37 are collected columns from The Illustrated London News Most of the weekly articles Chesterton wrote for The Illustrated London News have never been printed in book form until Ignatius Press undertook to do the collected works These volumes contain all of Chesterton s columns in The Illustrated London News beginning in 1905 The great majority have never appeared in book form Chesterton lovers will be delighted to find this treasure filled with jewels quite the match of his best writing

The New Negroes and Their Music Jon Michael Spencer,1997 Spencer s discussion encompasses the music and writings of a wide range of important figures including James Weldon Johnson Harry T Burleigh Roland Hayes Marian Anderson Alain Locke William Grant Still R Nathaniel Dett and Dorothy Maynor He argues that the singular accomplishment of the Harlem Renaissance composers and musicians was to achieve a two tiered mastery promoted by Johnson Locke the Harmon award and Crisis and Opportunity magazines A Warrior of the People Joe Starita,2016-11-01 An important and riveting story of a 19th century feminist and change agent put s the reader inside the very thoughts and emotions of La Flesche Chicago Tribune On March 14 1889 Susan La Flesche Picotte received her medical degree becoming the first Native American doctor in US history She earned her degree thirty one years before women could vote and thirty five years before Native Americans could become citizens in their own country By age twenty six this fragile but indomitable Omaha woman became the doctor to her tribe Overnight she acquired 1 244 patients scattered across 1 350 square miles of rolling countryside with few roads Her patients often were desperately poor and desperately sick tuberculosis small pox measles influenza families scattered miles apart whose last hope was a young woman who spoke their language and knew their customs This is the story of a Native American woman who effectively became the chief of an entrenched patriarchal tribe the story of a woman who crashed through thick walls of ethnic racial and gender prejudice then spent the rest of her life using a unique bicultural identity to improve the lot of her people physically emotionally politically and spiritually Joe Starita's A Warrior of the People is the moving biography of Susan La Flesche Picotte's inspirational life and dedication to public health and it will finally shine a light on her numerous accomplishments A layered nuanced portrait of this country's first Native American doctor La Flesche's story is moving and illuminating and Starita has done it justice Minneapolis Star Tribune

Social Anthropology Clifford Wilcox, 2011-12-31 Robert Redfield is remembered today primarily as an anthropologist but during his lifetime Redfield's cross disciplinary activity reflected a strong interest in infusing anthropological practice with sociological theory Like a handful of other anthropologists including A R Radcliffe Brown and Bronislaw Malinowski who shared his interests during the 1920s through 1930s his works came to define a new subfield known as social anthropology Redfield was distinct in being one of the first Americans to devote himself seriously to social anthropology a field dominated initially by British scholars He spent his career at the University of Chicago and his anthropology bore the distinct mark of sociology as developed and practiced at that institution Indeed Redfield played a major role in defining what has been called the second Chicago school of sociology This volume brings together Redfield's most important contributions to social anthropology During the 1920s sociology and anthropology constituted a single department at the University of Chicago Although most students concentrated on sociology or anthropology Redfield chose to pursue both fields with equal intensity He adopted as his central interest the leading problematic of the 1920s the study of social change Chicago School sociologists approached social change by examining zones of rapid transition within the city for example areas populated by recently arrived immigrants with the goal of elucidating general principles or dynamics of social transition Redfield's work can be seen as falling into three distinct theoretical categories 1 the study of social change or modernization 2 peasant studies and 3 the comparative study of civilizations Drawing from articles book excerpts and unpublished papers and letters this work presents Redfield's central contributions in each of these areas Seen as a whole this volume traces Redfield's seminal contributions to the early development of modernization theory and the interdisciplinary fields of peasant and comparative civilizations studies This is a monumental book on a highly influential figure The Primitive Mind and Modern Man John Alan Cohan, 2010-12-30 This book is in the field of trans cultural psychology and is intended for college courses in anthropology and psychology and general readership the book focuses on intriguing facts about primitive cultures around the world and provides insights into living traditions and different world views a principal theme of the book is that we can gain a better understanding of ourselves by a detour to other cultures the book shows how modern ways of thinking are parallel to those of primitive cultures and engages readers to become more aware of who they are As shown throughout the book there is not after all a very wide gulf between primitive and modern cultures the book covers many topics including animism shamanism totemism hunting and cultivation rituals altered states of consciousness envy and the evil eye how people deal with conflicts potlatches cargo cults how people satisfy the need for social approval culture bound syndromes folk medicine treatment of women raising of children nomadic peoples treatment of the dead and other topics The Canadian Forum, 1922 Includes critical reviews Invented indian James A. Clifton, The Cultural Construction of International Relations B. Jahn, 2016-01-18 The discipline of international relations deals with the problem of culture by defining world politics as a state of nature yet it ignores the fact that the concept of the state is itself a cultural product This book uncovers the history of this idea revealing its origins in the European conquest of America its crucial role in the emergence of the Enlightenment world view and its continuing negative consequences for our attempts to understand world politics Contemporary Moral and Social Issues, 2014-04-15 Contemporary Moral and Social Issues is a uniquely entertaining introduction that brings ethical thought to life It makes innovative use of engaging topically oriented original short fiction together with classic and influential readings and editorial discussion as a means of helping students think philosophically about ethical theory and practical ethical problems Introduces students to ethical theory and a range of practical moral issues through a combination of key primary texts clear editorial commentary and engaging original fiction Includes discussion of topics such as world poverty abortion animals the environment and genetic engineering containing
