United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Labor and Public Welfare,1960 Producing and living the high-rise: New contexts, old questions? Manoel Rodrigues Alves,Manuel Appert,Christian Montès,2024-05-14 The purpose of the book is to assess the process of urban verticalization in different contexts through time to provide insight into the relationships between highrise design and the way inhabitants negotiate them in their everyday lives to assess how planners politicians and designers negotiate residential highrises in the strategies they develop for building the city and to introduce urban narratives and cartographies Verticalization although not new currently takes place in a very different context than post 1945 Today highrise residential buildings are more than architectural solutions they are commodities in a global market where capital flows are fixed by developers and municipalities Our exploration of residential verticalization is anchored in case studies revealing different types of local global negotiations in the design of the city and has been framed by three interrelated dynamics first the complex relationships within the financialization of real estate markets revealing differences in the types of local global negotiations in the construction of the neo liberal city secondly the most developed anchors residential verticalization in the processes of socio spatial differentiation within cities mostly identified as gentrification associated to processes of urban renewal and densification the third related to readings and interpretations of the urban landscape and social spatial practices and its iconographic and cartographic representations This book is of interest to academics students planners architects and urban studies professionals It shows that the chosen research object is an increasingly relevant angle of analysis of the contemporary city It also provides a better knowledge of the processes of residential verticalization their impact on the privatization of the urban space and on urban segregation or fragmentation

Hovels to High Rise Anne Power, 2021-03-23 Originally published in 1993 this book traces how governments in France Germany Britain Denmark and Ireland became involved in replacing industrial revolution urban slums with mass high rise high density concrete estates As the book considers each country s housing history and traditions and analyses the contrasting structures and systems it finds convergence of problems in the growing tensions of their most disadvantaged communities The book underlines the continuing drift towards deeper polarization an issue which has become ever more important in the multi lingual ethnically diverse urban societies of the 21st Century The book s detailed coverage of the historical political and social changes relating to housing within the various countries make it an important text for students and practitioners concerned with housing urban affairs social policy and administration Committee Prints United States.
