America Social Justice and Third World Education Timothy J. Scrase, 2021-12-12 First Published in 1997 In much of the comparative education literature questions of educational inequality and lack of educational opportunity in the developing world stand as perplexing complex and difficult problems Yet while inequality in education remains one of the most researched and written about topics in the discipline the question of social justice and its relationship to education remains implicit This volume aims to reverse this trend to make the issue of social justice both in theory and practice central and explicit

Economic Planning and Social Justice in Developing Countries Ozay Mehmet, 2014-05-12 First published in 1978 this book was written at a time when belief was high in Western guided economic development of the emerging countries The success of Marshall Plan in war torn Europe generated a US led optimism that with generous inflows of aid and technical assistance the Third World could be won over in the Cold War The author's direct experience as a young academic economist in Cyprus Malaysia Uganda and Liberia led him to question this general optimism the reality on the ground in the developing world did not seem to match Western optimism Theories and blueprints made in the West did not fit the requirements of developing countries Higher production and better income distribution were inseparable twin objectives of developing nations That meant production of a higher national output must at the same time promote social justice Investment must create adequate jobs so that new entrants into rapidly expanding labor force could be gainfully employed Yet the dominant Western theories of development at the time in particular the Trickle Down Theory of Growth prescribed Growth First Distribution Later strategy Similarly Import Substitution Industrialization theories were emphasized at the expense of export led growth Dualistic Growth theories preached urban biased anti rural development This book was written as a rebuttal of such faulty theorizing and misguided professional technical assistance and the book's message is no less valid today than in the 1970s

Third World Education Anthony R. Welch, 2002-05-03 This book debunks the argument that quality in education can only be achieved by limiting or trading off equality The quality of schooling is a major issue for Third World nations across the globe However there is no single measure which is universally accepted Whether it is as some economists might argue an issue of the number of desks per classroom or one of national sovereignty is widely disputed Defining equality in education becomes increasingly difficult in an era of globalization in which there exists a wide gap between rich and poor both within and between nations In the context of an international move towards New Right politics and neo liberal economic ideologies both the quality and equality of education are imperiled This book argues that any worthy definition of quality education must include the interests and participation of the underprivileged Widening Access to Education as Social Justice Akpovire Oduaran, Harbans S. Bhola, 2006-07-10 Among the greatest challenges of the twenty first century is that of providing adequate educational opportunities to all citizens of the globe The broad availability of such opportunities and the genuine ability to take advantage of them are fundamental components of any equitable society In examining how widening access to education contributes to social justice this anthology composes a tribute to the life and work of the Nigerian educationist Michael A Omolewa The twenty seven contributions to this volume discuss foundational issues related to the educational dimensions of social justice present overviews of approaches related to widening access and analyze case studies from around the world as well as consider future directions in education policy and research This thematic depth is matched by the geographic representativeness of the work with contributors coming from the global South and North Widening Access to Education as Social Justice speaks with a credible and powerful voice about how making greater formal and informal educational opportunities available to men and women young adults and children everywhere can help bring about more equitable ways of living together thereby fostering the goods of cultural diversity tolerance and respect along with the creativity and responsibility vital to bringing about actual social harmony

Education, Social Justice and the Legacy of Deakin University Richard Tinning, Karen Sirna, 2012-01-01 The late Joe Kincheloe once wrote that the amazing Deakin Mafia provided innovative and unprecedented critical scholarship on education for a few short years Informed by various theoretical perspectives eg critical theory neo Marxist poststructuralist postcolonial feminist critical literacy Bourdieuan Foucauldian key Deakin University scholars pursued their commitments to social justice through education A certain criticality characterised their work

Individually and collectively they created a national and international reputation for critical scholarship in education. Since that time the 1980s and 90s however most of the Deakin mafia have moved to senior academic posts elsewhere in Australia and internationally and their influence in educational research and discourse now continues as members of the Deakin diaspora. This collection is an account of the stories of many of these scholars. It will provide valuable reading for any scholar of education who is particularly interested in critical pedagogy and the critical project in education more generally. It also provides insights into what makes a faculty of education successful at a particular point in time.

The Political Economy of Global Citizenship Education Vanessa De Oliveira Andreotti, 2016-03-16. This edited collection offers analyses of global citizenship education within and across different national contexts. This book illustrates the contingency of definitions, the complexities of juxtaposing demands and priorities in different educational contexts and the difficulties and tensions of asking a question that is arguably one of the most pressing of our time: how should we live together in interdependent ecologies in a finite planet. In the discipline of education where market imperatives and the dictatorship of effective replicable results have laid siege to independent debates, this book aims to emphasize the importance of raising our intellectual game as educators to interrupt new and old problematic patterns of engagements, representations, uncomplicated solutions and conceptual straightjackets. Contributors to this volume address the tensions between homogenizing universalisms and parochial specificisms, ethnocentrism and relativism, deficit theorizations and romanticizations of difference, fantasies of supremacy and paralysis in guilt, the global and the local. The chapters take different approaches to map the origins, meanings, workings, ethics, politics and implications of initiatives, approaches and conceptual frameworks related to the ideas of globalization, citizenship and education in different sites of knowledge production. This book was originally published as a special issue of Globalisation, Societies and Education.

Social Justice Education for Teachers, 2008-01-01. Social Justice Education for Teachers Paulo Freire and the Possible Dream is a book that will help teachers in their commitment to and praxis of an education for social justice. The book traces the reception of Freire's ideas in the USA, Canada, Latin America, Europe, Asia, Africa and Australia and provides some glimpses of topical yet seminal interventions in the philosophy of education including studies of the relationships between Freire and Rousseau, Freire and Dewey or Freire and Gramsci. In addition, it addresses how Freire's ideas could be implemented in urban education both in the industrialized and developing world and how the debates about globalization today need to be addressed also with the politics of liberation as a possible dream. Three of the authors Moacir Gadotti, Carlos Alberto Torres and Jos Eustaquio Romo with the help of Paulo Freire created the first Paulo Freire Institute in São Paulo, Brazil in 1991 and worked very closely with Freire for more than two decades while the remaining scholars/activists are noted Freirean scholars and urban educators devoting their research, teaching and political activism to promote tools of conviviality and models of policy that will make this a better world, a less ugly world, a world in the words of Freire where it will be easier to love.
