

THE SOCIAL PSYCHOLOGY OF AGGRESSION

Thoroughly revised and updated, this third edition offers a comprehensive and up-to-date overview of the social psychology of aggression, covering all the relevant major theories, individual differences, situational factors, and applied contexts.

Understanding the causes, forms, and consequences of aggression and violence is critical for dealing with these harmful forms of social behaviour. Addressing a range of sub-topics, the first part deals with the definition and measurement of aggression, presents major theories, examines the development of aggression and discusses individual and gender differences in aggressive behaviour. It covers the role of situational factors in eliciting aggression and the impact of exposure to violence in the media. The second part examines specific forms and manifestations of aggression, including chapters on aggression in everyday contexts and in the family, sexual aggression, intergroup aggression, and terrorism. The new edition also includes additional coverage of gender differences, gun violence, and terrorism, to reflect the latest research developments in the field.

Also discussing strategies for reducing and preventing aggression, this book is essential reading for students and researchers in psychology and related disciplines, as well as practitioners and policy makers.

Barbara Krahé is Professor of Social Psychology at the University of Potsdam, Germany. She was awarded the German Psychology Prize for her work on aggression in 2015 and has served as President of the International Society for Research on Aggression.

also many newer lines of research to which I will return below are represented in various chapters And finally I have included a separate unit on methods for the study of aggression a feature that I believe to be unique to the present volume In these ways I have attempted to produce a text that is as broad and eclectic in coverage as I could make it While the present volume grew in part out of my desire to produce what I thought might prove to be a useful teaching aid it also developed out of a second major motive During the past few years a large number of new and to me exciting lines of investigation have emerged in rapid order These have been extremely varied in scope including among many others such diverse topics as the effects of sexual arousal upon aggression the impact of environmental factors e g heat noise crowding upon such behavior interracial aggression and the influence of heightened self awareness Despite the fact that such topics have already generated a considerable amount of research they were not to my knowledge adequately represented in any existing volume Given this state of affairs it seemed to me that a reasonably comprehensive summary of this newer work might prove both useful and timely developmental interpersonal and cultural causes of aggression. Yet these findings have not been integrated into meaningful discussions about how to transform aggression research into practical applications. With so many answers to the question "What makes a person violent" there is surprisingly little insight into "How do we prevent violence". In this comprehensive book, editors Phillip R Shaver and Mario Mikulincer have assembled chapters from international experts to provide a broad based and multidisciplinary analysis of aggression and violence, their negative consequences and promising interventions. Five sections examine major theoretical perspectives, genetic and environmental determinants and the psychological and relational processes underlying human violence and aggression. The tone of the book is realistic in its investigation of violence as an inherent part of human genetics and interaction but hopeful in its exploration of research based interventions aimed at reducing violence in future generations. In its assessment of aggression and violence across individual, relational and societal levels, this book will engage a broad audience. This book is part of the Herzliya Series on Personality and Social Psychology. Phillip R Shaver PhD, a social and personality psychologist, is Distinguished Professor of Psychology at the University of California Davis. Before moving there he served on the faculties of Columbia University, New York University, University of Denver and State University of New York at Buffalo. He has coauthored and co edited numerous books. He is a member of the editorial boards of Attachment and Human Development, Personal Relationships, the Journal of Personality and Social Psychology and Emotion, and has served on grant review panels for the National Institutes of Health and the National Science Foundation. He has been executive officer of the Society of Experimental Social Psychology and is a fellow of both the American Psychological Association and the Association for Psychological Science. Dr Shaver received a Distinguished Career Award from the International Association for Relationship Research and has served as president of that organization. Mario Mikulincer PhD is professor of psychology and dean of the New School of Psychology at the Interdisciplinary Center in Herzliya, Israel. He has published 3 books and over 280 scholarly journal articles and book chapters. He is a member of the editorial boards of several scientific journals including the Journal of Personality and Social Psychology, Psychological Inquiry and Personality and Social Psychology Review, and has served as associate editor of two journals. Recently he was elected to serve as chief editor of the Journal of Social and Personal Relationships. He is a fellow of the Society for Personality and Social Psychology and the Association for Psychological Sciences.
