Fundamentals of Social Research, 6th Edition Earl Babbie, Jason D. Edgerton, 2023-01-30 The sixth Canadian edition of Fundamentals of Social Research provides students with a basis for understanding social scientific research methods within the contents of their own research projects published research they consume and the social world around us Learners will develop a conceptual and methodological toolbox for diagnosing highlighting and ultimately enriching important social problems This important skill set will be used for years to come whether that be as an academic activist businessperson or an engaged citizen in a democratic society The SAGE Handbook of Social Research Methods Pertti Alasuutari, Leonard Bickman, Julia Brannen, 2008-02-25 The SAGE Handbook of Social Research Methods is a must for every social science researcher It charts the new and evolving terrain of social research methodology covering qualitative quantitative and mixed methods in one volume The Handbook includes chapters on each phase of the research process research design methods of data collection and the processes of analyzing and interpreting data The volume maintains that there is much more to research than learning skills and techniques methodology involves the fit between theory research questions research design and analysis The book also includes several chapters that describe historical and current directions in social research debating crucial subjects such as qualitative versus quantitative paradigms how to judge the credibility of types of research and the increasingly topical issue of research ethics The Handbook serves as an invaluable resource for approaching research with an open mind This volume maps the field of social research methods using an approach that will prove valuable for both students and researchers Queer/Muslim/Canadian Momin Rahman, Maryam Khan, 2024-10-17 This book presents original qualitative research on the lives identities and experiences of queer Canadian Muslims and is the largest study to date on this population Presented through a queer intersectional framework the volume contains core evidence based chapters on the lived experience as well as the transnational politics of Islamophobia and LGBTQ rights promotion the research on Muslim attitudes to queer issues and the representations of queer Muslim issues within Canada Key issues covered include queer Muslim organizing how queer Muslims reconcile faith sexuality and gender identity through affirmative and liberatory frameworks and actions how Muslims in Canada respond to sexual and gender diversity The contributors also lay out future academic and research possibilities for further investigation and for the development of equity practices for recognizing and challenging the oppressions suffered by queer Muslims addressing the discussion to queer Muslims as well as mainstream LGBTQ groups and mainstream Muslim groups Principles of Social Research Methodology M. Rezaul Islam,Niaz Ahmed Khan,Rajendra Baikady,2022-10-26 This book is a definitive comprehensive understanding to social science research methodology It covers both qualitative and quantitative approaches The book covers the entire research process beginning with the conception of the research problem to publication of findings The text combines theory and practical application to familiarize the reader with the logic of research design the logic and techniques of data analysis and the fundamentals and implications of various data collection techniques Organized in seven sections and easy to read chapters the text emphasizes the importance of clearly defined research questions and well constructed practical explanations and illustrations A key contribution to the methodology literature the book is an authoritative resource for policymakers practitioners graduate and advanced research students and educators in all social science disciplines

West Coast Mission Ross A. Lockhart,2024-10-15 Vancouver British Columbia now reports no religion as its leading religious identity putting it in the vanguard of a trend happening across North America What does this mean for the Christian communities that continue to worship work and witness in this mostly secular city West Coast Mission seeks to uncover where Christianity in Vancouver is headed now that it is a minority belief system in the broader culture Drawing on a five year study of fourteen sites including church plants congregations and para church agencies Ross Lockhart describes how Christians in Vancouver are organizing their communities shaping their beliefs and expressing themselves in mission He finds that rather than simply declining Christianity in the city is adapting in response to immigration decolonization pluralism and social crises Christians are focusing on friendship and social connection in a culture that identifies as spiritual not religious on affordable housing as a missional concern on the communal value of environmental stewardship and on sharing the gospel in light of the destructive legacies of colonialism and residential schools West Coast Mission explores the evolving spectrum of religious identity in Vancouver and the significant cultural shifts taking place in how Christian mission and witness are approached in a secular city Research Methods in the Social and Health Sciences Ted Palys,Chris Atchison,2021-02-03 Research Methods in the Social and Health Sciences Research Decisions by Ted Palys and Chris

Atchison gives students a thorough thoughtful and highly readable introduction to the entire research process from start to finish. From its underlying premise that your research questions and objectives rather than any specific method should guide your research, this book discusses each step of the research process from limiting the scope of a literature review to navigating ethical considerations to deciding which methods are best suited for finding answers to specific research questions to how to analyze data and present findings. Readers are encouraged to think deeply about each step of the research process. The book promotes this deliberation by discussing the strengths and limitations of different methods and. Throughout the process, the authors provide many examples from their own and student research, sharing insights for research decisions arising from that experience. Readers will develop the skills to create solid research questions, perform literature reviews, identify appropriate data sources and methods, conduct research, analyze and interpret data, and translate the resulting knowledge generated from the research process to a wider audience. All core parts of the research process, by developing their knowledge and creating confidence in their own decision-making skills. After explaining the unique and often complementary strengths of qualitative and quantitative methods, students focus on what methods are best suited for finding answers to the research questions that interest them. Major types of research, including experiments, case studies, surveys, quasi-experiments, ethnographies, focus groups, participatory action research, and archival studies, all receive significant coverage. The text illustrates how these methods are enhanced by integrating them with 21st-century technologies and combining them in mixed methods projects. Chapters on constructing a research proposal and disseminating research bookend the process with concrete steps in between to support students designing their own original research projects. Study questions at the end of each chapter encourage students to think critically about the research process and how the choices a researcher makes will broaden or constrain what they can find. By the end of the text, social and health science students will feel confident in undertaking ethical and thoughtful research. Morbidity and Mortality Weekly Report, 1999

Kaandossiwin, 2nd Edition Kathleen E. Absolon (Minogizhigokwe), 2022-05-31T00:00:00Z. Indigenous methodologies have been silenced and obscured by the Western scientific means of knowledge production. In a challenge to this colonialist rejection of Indigenous knowledge, Anishinaabe researcher Kathleen Absolon describes how Indigenous researchers re-theorize and re-create methodologies. Indigenous knowledge resurgence is being informed by taking a second look at how research is grounded. Absolon consciously adds an emphasis on re- with a hyphen as a process of recovery of Kaandossiwin and Indigenous research. Understanding Indigenous methodologies as guided by Indigenous paradigms, worldviews, principles, processes, and contexts. Absolon argues that they are wholistic, relational, inter-relational, and interdependent with Indigenous philosophies, beliefs, and ways of life. In exploring the ways Indigenous researchers use Indigenous methodologies within mainstream academia, Kaandossiwin renders these methods visible and helps to guard other ways of knowing from colonial repression. This second edition features the author's reflections on her decade of research and teaching experience since the linguistics community The Neoliberal Diet Gerardo Otero, 2018-10-03 This remarkable comprehensive study of neoliberal agribusiness and the obesity epidemic is critical reading for food studies scholars Contemporary Sociology Obesity rates are rising across the United States and beyond While some claim that people simply eat too much energy dense food while exercising too little The Neoliberal Diet argues that the issue is larger than individual lifestyle choices Since the 1980s the shift toward neoliberal regulation has enabled agribusiness multinationals to thrive by selling a combination of meat and highly processed foods loaded with refined flour and sugars a diet that originated in the United States Drawing on extensive empirical data Gerardo Otero identifies the socioeconomic and political forces that created this diet which has been exported around the globe at the expense of people s health Otero shows how state level actions particularly subsidies for big farms and agribusiness have ensured the dominance of processed foods and made fresh foods inaccessible to many Comparing agrifood performance across several nations including the NAFTA region and correlating food access to class inequality he convincingly demonstrates the structural character of food production and the effect of inequality on individual food choices Resolving the global obesity crisis Otero concludes lies not in blaming individuals but in creating state level programs to reduce inequality and make healthier food accessible to all The Research Process Gary D. Bouma, Lori Wilkinson, Rod

Ling, 2008 The Canadian edition of The Research Process is a complete easy to read and simple to apply introduction to quantitative and qualitative research methods for undergraduate university students Drawing on the strengths of the previous editions it assumes little previous knowledge of research processes and takes a non statistical non mathematical approach Illustrations and examples are used extensively to explain the fundamental concepts of the research process and demonstrate its application Brand new Canadian research will make it interesting and relevant to Canadian students

Social Research Methods Harvey Russell Bernard, 2000 The author follows two chapters on the fundamentals of social science and social research with three on preparation two on interviewing one on scaling and two on relative advantages and methods of participative direct and indirect observation Social Research Methods Alan Bryman, 2012-01-19 Now in its fourth edition this market leading textbook continues to provide students with an excellent explanation and demonstration of the main theories and techniques in social research methods
