THE PSYCHOLOGICAL IMPACT OF SOCIAL NETWORKS ON YOUTH DAVID SANDUA, 2024-01-18 This book is a comprehensive and insightful exploration of how social media ubiquitous in modern life is shaping the mental health of today's youth It addresses both the negative effects and positive aspects of these digital platforms offering a balanced and research based view With a focus on anxiety depression and self esteem the book not only identifies problems but also suggests strategies for healthier use of social networks It is essential reading for educators parents and youth providing critical insights and tools for navigating an increasingly digitally connected world This in depth analysis is key to understanding and mitigating the psychological risks associated with social networks while harnessing their benefits for the well being and social development of young people Family social networks and mental health service use among Vietnamese-Americans in multigenerational families Alvin Shiulain Lee, 2015 Social Media and Mental Health Allan House, Cathy Brennan, 2023-10-12 In an age when social media is a part of life there has been much debate about whether it is a force for good or evil Removing personal opinion from the discussion this book focusses on research findings to deliver a sorely needed account of the relationship between social media and mental health Written by experts from a range of disciplines this book provides a valuable overview of the field Beginning with research on the nature of social media and their use the book explores how social media influence mood body image and general health and how we can use social media positively It also explores the link between social media use and specific mental health disorders Discussion is grounded in the latest research to allow readers to make their own informed judgements A must read for professionals in social care education and mental health as well as interested general readers Social Networks and Mental Health David E. Biegel, 1985 This bibliography contains 1 340 annotated citations covering the period January to December 1982 It is designed for researchers practitioners policy makers and graduate students interested in social networks and mental health Approximately half of the citations resulted from a computerized literature search of four major data bases The remaining citations were developed through a painstaking examination of the bibliographies of books chapters and special issues of journals two unpublished bibliographies and the senior author's personal collection of material Mental Health, Social Media, and the Meta Dov Greenbaum , Nazanin Alavi, 2024-11-11 One of the most damaging externalities from the recent pandemic has been the rise in mental health issues Many psychiatric disorders have strong genetic components and although the extent of the genetic influence for many conditions has been extensively tested by genome wide association studies GWAS there remains much to be understood regarding the genetics of these health issues Twin studies for example have found a relatively high rate of inheritance for depression and anxiety disorders To better appreciate the role that genetics plays in these disorders it is useful to understand the extent to which other factors also contribute to the condition Other major contributing factors to mental disorders are the environment and psychological factors These environmental and psychological concerns have been further exacerbated by the growth of social media and the requirement especially for young adults and teenagers to always be on It is likely that the metaverse in whatever form it ultimately takes will further exacerbate these conditions On the other hand social media and the metaverse can be tools to help those suffering from mental health conditions Online therapists and bots can provide frontline care to those who can't or won't go to an in person therapy session AI can be employed to provide some forms of therapy in light of the growing demand for licensed therapists and the limited supply

Social Media and Youth Mental Health Vicki Harrison, M.S.W., Anne Collier, M.A., Steven Adelsheim, M.D., 2024-07-17 Early Detection of Mental Health Disorders by Social Media Monitoring Fabio Crestani, David E. Losada, Javier Parapar, 2022-09-14

eRisk stands for Early Risk Prediction on the Internet It is concerned with the exploration of techniques for the early detection of mental health disorders which manifest in the way people write and communicate on the internet in particular in user generated content e.g. Facebook Twitter or other social media Early detection technologies can be employed in several different areas but particularly in those related to health and safety For instance early alerts could be sent when the writing of a teenager starts showing increasing signs of depression or when a social media user starts showing suicidal inclinations or again when a potential offender starts publishing antisocial threats on a blog forum or social network eRisk has been the pioneer of a new interdisciplinary area of research that is potentially applicable to a wide variety of situations problems and personal profiles This book presents the best results of the first five years of the eRisk project which started in 2017 and developed into one of the most successful tracks of CLEF the Conference and Lab of the Evaluation Forum The SAGE Handbook of Social Network Analysis John Scott, Peter J. Carrington, 2011-10-07 This sparkling Handbook offers an unrivalled resource for those engaged in the cutting edge field of social network analysis Systematically it introduces readers to the key concepts substantive topics central methods and prime debates Among the specific areas covered are Network theory Interdisciplinary applications Online networks Corporate networks Lobbying networks Deviant networks Measuring devices Key Methodologies Software applications The result is a peerless resource for teachers and students which offers a critical survey of the origins basic issues and major debates The Handbook provides a one stop guide that will be used by readers for decades to come

What Matters for Health and Happiness Among the Older Adults in Asia Nai Peng Tey, Halimah Awang, Shekhar Chauhan, 2024-03-11 People want to live a healthy and happy later life A large body of literature shows the close association between health status and happiness and between health and active engagement in work exercise and social and religious activities However the causation between the two can run both ways and it is difficult to determine the causal effect with cross sectional data Various authors have shown the significant influence of socioeconomic factors and human needs on older people s health status and happiness A better understanding of the factors affecting healthy and happy aging is essential for policymaking to improve the well being of older people The availability of data from HRS family studies in several Asian countries CHARLS in China LASI in India JSTAR in Japan KLoSA in Korea IFLS in Indonesia HART in Thailand MARS in Malaysia and Longitudinal Study of Ageing and Health in Viet Nam see Gateway to Global Aging Data provides an excellent opportunity for researchers to examine factors affecting health and happiness among older adults within and across Asian countries This research topic aims to gather papers that investigate the socioeconomic attitudinal and behavioural factors affecting the health status and happiness life satisfaction of older adults in Asia The dependent variables may include physical health mental health disability ADL IADL cognitive functioning self rated health health expenditure feeling of happiness and life satisfaction The independent variables may be age gender marital status place of residence educational level active engagement work exercise social and religious activities family and social relationship and support outlook in life smoking drinking and access to and utilization of healthcare services etc Manuscripts can be based on individual countries or cross country analysis preferably using the panel data to establish the causal effects of the independent variables on the dependent variables

Computational Data and Social Networks Minh Hoàng Hà,Xingquan Zhu,My T. Thai,2024-02-28 This book constitutes the refereed conference proceedings of the 12th International Conference on Computational Data and Social Networks CSoNet 2023 held in Hanoi Vietnam in December 2023 The 23 full papers and 14 short papers presented in this book were carefully reviewed and selected from 64 submissions The papers are divided into the following topical sections machine learning and prediction optimization security and blockchain and network analysis Social Networks and Health Inequalities Andreas Klärner,Markus

Gamper,Sylvia Keim-Klärner,Irene Moor,Holger von der Lippe,Nico Vonneilich,2022-06-21 This open access book applies insights from the network perspective in health research to explain the reproduction of health inequalities It discusses the extant literature in this field that strongly correlates differences in social status with health behaviours and outcomes and add to this literature by providing a coherent theoretical explanation for the causes of these health inequalities It also shows that much research is needed on the precise factors and the social and socio psychological mechanisms that are at play in creating and cementing social inequalities in health behaviours While social support and social relations have received considerable attention within social and behavioural science research on health inequalities this book considers the whole network of interpersonal relations structures and influence mechanisms This is the perspective of the social network analytical approach which has recently gained much attention in health research The chapters of this book cover state of the art research open research questions and perspectives for future research The book provides network analyses on health inequalities from the perspective of sociology psychology and public health and is of interest to a wide range of scholars students and practitioners trying to understand how health inequalities are reproduced across generations

Education on Digital Cultural and Social Media Dr. S. Saileela and Dr. S. Kalaivani, 2019-11-27 In the globalization era social media become more popular in everyone's daily life with its user friendly and effective functions Social media support the people across the world in communicating meeting new people making socialization sharing knowledge learning different experiences and interacting with each other instead of distance and separation between persons Moreover social media can encourage the increasing of intercultural adaptation level of people who are facing different cultural experiences in new communities The study shows that people use social media to become more adaptable with the new cultures of the host countries and to preserve their connections with home countries

Social Inclusion and Mental Health Jed Boardman, Helen Killaspy, Gillian Mezey, 2022-12-08 People with mental health conditions are among the most socially excluded groups in society Mental health conditions are influenced by the social environment which in turn shapes our social and cultural responses to the people who experience them Much of what mental health practitioners do is essentially social and the effects of their interventions are hampered by the marginalised status of many of the people that they see This book documents the ways in which people with mental health conditions are excluded from participating in society and offers some pointers as to how this may be reversed It highlights the need to reduce mental health inequalities and to consider the importance of material inequalities and social injustices faced by people experiencing mental ill health Whilst the challenges are considerable and the solutions wide ranging mental health practitioners can play a significant role in facilitating the social inclusion of those with mental health conditions
