The Motor Car and Popular Culture in the Twentieth Century David Thoms, Len Holden, 2016-12-05 This is a multidisciplinary analysis of the relationship between the motor car and popular culture in the 20th century which brings together original essays by academics in the UK North America and Australia The contributors write from a wide range of disciplinary perspectives including semiotics social history literary and film criticism and musicology Three main themes are addressed the car as a cultural image its impact on leisure and entertainment and the cultural significance of the processes of manufacturing and selling cars

Young People in the Workplace Christina Cregan, 1999 Based on a five stage survey of a large cohort of early school leavers carried out in London over the years 1978 81 examines patterns of continuity and change with respect to gaining work and training promotion opportunities reasons for union membership quit decisions and job mapping behaviour and its outcomes

Market, State and Feminism Sue Hatt, Linda Watson-Brown, 2000-01-01 This text offers an interdisciplinary critique of the free market backlash the view that free market economics can improve the position status and well being of women

Why Men Don't Iron Anne Moir, Bill Moir, 2003

Age Discrimination John Macnicol, 2006-01-12 Age discrimination is a highly topical issue in all industrialised societies against a background of concerns about shortening working lives and ageing populations in the future Based upon detailed research and adopting an interdisciplinary approach this unique study traces the history of the age discrimination debate in Britain and the USA since the 1930s It critically analyses the concepts of ageism in social relations and age discrimination in employment Case studies on generational equity and health care rationing by age are followed by an analysis of the British government's initiatives against age discrimination in employment The book then traces the history of the debate on health status and old age addressing the question of whether working capacity has improved sufficiently to justify calls to delay retirement and extend working lives It concludes with a detailed examination of the origins and subsequent working of the USA's 1967 Age Discrimination in Employment Act

Marital Breakdown among British Asians Kaveri Qureshi, 2016-09-11 Shortlisted for the BSA Philip Abrams Memorial Prize 2017 Against long standing characterizations of British Asians as flying the flag for traditional life this book identifies an increase in marital breakdown and argues to reorient debates about conservatism and authoritarianism in British Asian families Qureshi draws on a rich ethnographic study of marital breakdown among working class Pakistani Muslims in order to unpick the grounds of marital conflict the manoeuvres couples undertake in staying together their interactions with divorce laws and their moral reasonings about post divorce family life Marital Breakdown among British Asians argues against individualization approaches demonstrating the embeddedness of couples in extended family relations whilst at the same time showing that Pakistani marriages and divorces do not deviate in all respects from wider marital separation trajectories in Britain Providing new insights into how marital breakdown is changing the contours of British Asian families this book will be essential reading for scholars and students clinicians working in couple or family therapy social workers and legal practitioners Legal Convergence in the Enlarged Europe of the New Millennium Paul L.C. Torremans, 2021-10-11 Three years ago the Faculty of Law and Administration of the University of Silesia and the Faculty of Law of the University of Leicester embarked on a joint research and academic co operation programme with the support of the British Council in Warsaw The programme resulted in the organisation of two academic conferences one in Leicester and one in Katowice This book is the tangible result of these conferences The content of the book reflects the wide ranging nature of the collaboration between the two Faculties Environmental law public international law intellectual and cultural property law are the main areas that are covered but certain issues of constitutional law European law social law company law and legal education are also addressed The main strength of this book is found in its breadth of coverage and the detailed examination of key issues such as the rights of minorities the transboundary movement of waste in Europe and the environmental problems which it creates the theft and illegal exportation of cultural property and the convergence of the droit d auteur and copyright traditions Older People in Modern Society Anthea Tinker, 2014-10-13 Older People in Modern Society is an established classic text in its field and through subsequent editions its reputation and that of its author has grown In this fourth and renamed edition Anthea Tinker synthesises and discusses a wide range of literature about older people drawing from fields such as medicine sociology and social policy and using primary source material to illustrate the text She also introduces a number of topics that have attained greater importance since publication of the third edition in 1992 for example continuing care and the abuse of older people Trusting Medicine Patricia Illingworth, 2018-12-07 Providing a fascinating overview of healthcare spending and cost containment mechanisms in the US this book explores the consequences of managed care for the community with particular attention paid to doctor patient relationships The author studies this significant relationship from a social perspective arguing that shifting financial risk onto doctors in a profit making system seriously damages patient trust In addition this undermines overall social capital which in turn has been linked to health outcomes Including case study examples and policy implications this insightful text explores an important though little discussed outcome of healthcare reform and will be a welcome addition to the current healthcare literature
