Editorial Note

MINERALIZATION ABOUT THE NORTH EQUATOR, which methods employed in interpretation. Nevertheless, other structures of geographic thought can differ without loss of consistency, and the discipline has permanently established national and international character. This is especially obvious in geographic thought, for a number of fields within scientific geography, such as the United States, is an independent organization of both characteristics.

Like most contributions to the history of scientific disciplines, Singer's Assessing monograph also contains a combination of detached notes and personal commitments. The former quality is evident in her choice to let French geographers speak for themselves; the latter is revealed in her attempts to capture the spirit of the French school and to set out, clearly, and approach significant players in its evolution. In both regards, Singer's Assessing has made a considerable contribution to the history of French geography. It is a volume as useful as it is to read, and it is a pleasure to recommend it.

Society And Milieu In The French Geographic Tradition

Jeanne Haffner

Society And Milieu In The French Geographic Tradition:

Society and Milieu in the French Geographic Tradition Anne Buttimer,1971 Society and Milieu in the French Geographic Tradition Anne Buttimer,1971 American Anthropology, 1971-1995 Regna Darnell,2002-01-01 American anthropology in the late twentieth century interrogated and depicted the worlds of others past and present in subtle and incisive ways while increasingly questioning its own authority to do so Marxist symbolic and structuralist thought shaped the fieldwork and conclusions of many researchers around the globe Practicing anthropology blossomed and grew rapidly as a subdiscipline in its own right There emerged a keener appreciation of both the history of the discipline and the histories of those studied Archaeologists witnessed a resurgence of interest in the concept of culture The American Anthropologist also made systematic efforts to represent the field as a whole with biological anthropology and linguistics particularly adept at crossing subdiscipline boundaries Proliferation of specialized areas within sociocultural anthropology encouraged work across the subdisciplines The thirty selections in this volume reflect the notable trends and accomplishments in American anthropology during the closing decades of the millennium An introduction by Regna Darnell offers a historical background and critical context that enable readers to better understand the changes and continuity in American anthropology during this time The Human Experience of Space and Place Anne Buttimer,David Seamon,2015-06-03 Humanistic geography is one of the major emerging themes which has recently dominated geographic writing Anne Buttimer has been one of the leading figures in the rise of humanistic geography and the research students she collected round her at Clark University in the 1970s constituted something of a school of humanistic geographers This school developed a significantly new style of geographical inquiry giving special emphasis to people s experience of place space and environment and often using philosophical and subjective methodology This collection of essays first published in 1980 brings together this school and offers insight into philosophical and practical issues concerning the human experience of environments An extensive range of topics are discussed and the aim throughout is to weave analytical and critical thought into a more comprehensive understanding of lived experience This book will be of interest to students of human geography Geography and the Human Spirit Anne Buttimer,2023-05-30 What does it mean to dwell Every civilization has a story to tell according to Anne Buttimer and exploring those stories brings fresh light to modern ideas about the relationship between humanity and its environment In Geography and the Human Spirit Buttimer ranges widely from Plato to Barry Lopez from the Upanishads to Goethe taking an interdisciplinary look at the ways in which human beings have turned to natural science theology and myth to form visions of the earth as a human habitat Landscapes of Housing Jeanne Haffner,2021-09-29 In the twenty first century housing has become a site of ecological experimentation and environmental remediation From the vantage point of contemporary architecture conservation concerns and emergent building science technologies support one another with new processes and materials deployed to reduce energy usage water consumption and carbon dioxide emissions Landscapes of

Housing examines this trend in historical perspective arguing for a more considered environmental vision that includes the organic social and cultural dimensions of landscape By shifting the focus from architecture the book highlights and critiques the relationship between dwelling and landscape itself Contributors from a wide range of international perspectives propose a more integrative ecology that includes history culture society and materiality in addition to technology within contemporary ecological housing programs This book will be a resource for upper level students academics and researchers in landscape architecture interested in the social and political implications of ecological housing

Circulation in Third World

Countries R Mansell Prothero, Murray Chapman, 2012-06-25 Circulation is common in Third World countries and involves reciprocal flows of people goods and ideas The essays in this volume first published in 1985 discuss concepts associated with circulation in its various forms and they present empirical evidence based on field work from holistic ecological social and economic points of view Contributions from Latin America the Caribbean Africa Asia and the Pacific come from an international group of authors representing a variety of disciplines in the social sciences All who are concerned with social and economic development need to recognise the importance of circulation at all levels of society and polity

Place

Tim Cresswell, 2014-08-29 Thoroughly revised and updated this text introduces students of human geography and allied disciplines to the fundamental concept of place combining discussion about everyday uses of the term with the complex theoretical debates that have grown up around it A thoroughly revised and updated edition of this highly successful short introduction to place Features a new chapter on the use of place in non geographical arenas such as in ecological theory art theory and practice philosophy and social theory Combines discussion about everyday uses of the term place with the more complex theoretical debates that have grown up around it Uses familiar stories drawn from the news popular culture and everyday life as a way to explain abstract ideas and debates Traces the development of the concept from the 1950s through its subsequent appropriation by cultural geographers and the linking of place to politics

Becoming French Dana Kristofor Lindaman, 2016-07-01 Becoming French explores the geographical shift that occurs in French society during the first four decades of France's Third Republic government Dana Kristofor Lindaman provides the historical context that led to the explosion of geographic interest at the end of the nineteenth century exploring the ways that the work of the geographers Paul Vidal de la Blache and Elisée Reclus served as a conceptual basis for abstract notions of the nation such as la Patrie Lindaman then uses Reclus's formulation of the earth as une organisme terrestre terrestrial organism to read Jules Verne's Voyage au centre de la terre Journey to the Center of the Earth as a journey to the center of the individual self Finally he traces the geographic narrative of G. Bruno's Tour de la France par deux enfants in particular the way that Bruno's work incorporates the geographic thought of Vidal de la Blache to discover the organic ties that bind readers through the shared experience of reading the text

International Migration and the Social Sciences

E. Vasta, V. Vuddamalay, 2006-06-13 How have Australia France and Germany engaged with immigration and ethnic diversity Are there national stereotypes that have blocked effective policy making and exacerbated conflicts This book looks at the role of the social sciences in national discourses of migration and how scholars can explain how migration is shaping global society Humanistic Geography (RLE Social & Cultural Geography) David Ley, Marwyn Samuels, 2014-01-23 Humanistic geography now has an established position in the intellectual development of contemporary geography However there has so far been little attempt to draw together the humanistic approach in one broad statement This book by the leading figures in the field provides a platform for the exposition of humanistic geography in all its aspects

The Geography of the Everyday Rob Sullivan, 2017-12-15 Anthropologists psychologists feminists and sociologists have long studied the everyday the quotidian the taken for granted however geographers have lagged behind in engaging with this slippery aspect of reality Now Rob Sullivan makes the case for geography as a powerful conceptual framework for seeing the everyday anew and for pushing back against its givenness its capacity to so fade into the background that it controls us in dangerously unexamined ways Drawing on a number of theorists Foucault Goffman Marx Lefebvre H gerstrand and others Sullivan unpacks the concepts and perceived realities that structure everyday life while grounding them in real world cases such as Nigeria's troubled oil network the working poor in the United States China's urban villages and ultra high end housing in London and Cairo In examining the everyday from a geographical perspective Sullivan ranges widely across time space history geography Marxian reproduction the body and the geographical mind The everyday Sullivan suggests is where change occurs and where resistance to change can begin By locating the everyday through geography we can help to make change possible Whatever the issue be it struggles over race LGBT rights class inequality or global warming the transformations required to achieve social justice all begin with transformation of the everyday order

The French Historical Revolution Peter Burke,2015-01-20 This book provides a critical history of the movement associated with the journal Annales from its foundation in 1929 to the present This movement has been the single most important force in the development of what is sometimes called the new history Renowned cultural historian Peter Burke distinguishes between four main generations in the development of the Annales School The first generation included Lucien Febvre and Marc Bloch who fought against the old historical establishment and founded the journal Annales to encourage interdisciplinary collaboration The second generation was dominated by Fernand Braudel whose magnificent work on the Mediterranean has become a modern classic The third generation deeply associated with the cultural turn in historical scholarship includes recently well known historians such as Emmanuel Le Roy Ladurie Jacques Le Goff and Georges Duby This new edition brings us right up to the present and contemplates the work of a fourth generation including practitioners such as Roger Chartier Serge Gruzinski and Jacques Revel This new generation continued much of the cultural focus of the previous Annales historians while diversifying further and becoming increasingly reflexive a move that owes much to the sociocultural theories of Michel Foucault Michel de Certeau and Pierre Bourdieu Wide ranging yet concise this new edition of a classic work of analysis of one of the most important historical movements of the twentieth century will be welcomed by students of history and other social sciences and by the interested general reader

Exploring Social Geography (Routledge Revivals) Peter A. Jackson,Susan J. Smith,2014-06-17 Exploring Social Geography first published in 1984 offers a challenging yet comprehensive introduction to the wealth of empirical research and theoretical debate that has developed in response to the advent of a social approach to the subject The argument emphasises the essentially spatial structure of social interaction and includes a succinct discussion of geographical research on segregation and interaction which has combined numerical analyses and qualitative ethnographic field research A distinctive view of social geography is adopted inspired by the Chicago school of North American pragmatism but also incorporating the formal sociological theories of Simmel and Weber Exploring Social Geography will be of value to students of urban geography in particular However it will also indicate a wide ranging and distinctive perspective for all students of the social sciences with a special interest in debates concerning urban ethnic racial anthropological and theoretical issues Geographers T. W. Freeman, 2015-12-14
