comprehensive coverage ranging from psycholinguistics and education to neurophysiology these studies highlight new Stefano Puglisi-Allegra, A. Oliverio, 2012-12-06 From a historical point of view the first studies on the response of the organism to stressful situations in general and on the psychobiology of stress in particular are probably those of Cannon and de la Paz the physiologists who showed in 1911 that the adrenal medulla and the sympathetic system are involved in emergency situations Cannon noted that the venous blood of cats frightened by barking dogs contained adrenaline a response of the organism which was prevented by adrenal ectomy or by section of the splanchnic nerve innervating the adrenal medulla Cannon suggested that the adrenal medulla was acting in concert with the sympathetic nervous system so that both systems were activated during stress The role of the sympathetic system in response to stressful events was later emphasized by the experiments carried out by Maickel et al 1967 and by Mason 1968 these authors clearly showed that stressors activate the sympathetic system causing it to release adrenaline and noradrenaline This line of research may be contrasted with that carried out by Hans Selve centered on of the adrenal cortex in the stress response Selve s findings and theories originated the role the so called hypothalamic pituitary adrenal cortex HPA model of stress in short during stress adrenocorticotropic hormone is released from cells of the anterior pituitary and elicits secretion of glucocorticoids from the adrenal cortex Lifeskills Dr. Redford Williams, Virginia Williams, 2010-06-09 Here are the eight skills this book will help you master 1 Identify your thoughts and feelings how to tap into your feelings especially the negative ones 2 Evaluate your negative feelings negative thoughts and options how to decide when to take action 3 Communicate better how to be a more effective listener and speaker 4 Empathize with others to understand their behavior how to appreciate a situation from someone else s point of view 5 Do problem solving how to define the problem generate alternatives and evaluate the outcomes 6 Practice assertion how to get others to do what you want 7 Practice acceptance how to back off without feeling like a failure 8 Emphasize the positive how to build better relationships using a proven ratio of positive to negative interactions Lifeskills shows how building better relationships is an essential part of preserving health and offers eight clear steps anyone can use to make that happen Psychopathology of Human Adaptation George Serban, 2012-12-06 Undoubtedly this symposium will prove to be an important landmark in the development of our understanding of the psychopathology of human adaptation in general as well as of the general adaptation syndrome and stress in particular It was organized to give an opportunity to an international group of experts on adaptation and stress research to present summaries of their research that could then later be exhaustively analyzed The carefully structured program brings out three major aspects of adapta tion to stress in experimental animals and man The first section deals with the neurophysiology of stress responses placing major emphasis upon the neuroanatomical and neurochemical aspects involved The second section is devoted to the psychology and psychopathology of adaptive learning motivation anxiety and stress The third section examines the role played by stress in the pathogenesis of mental diseases Many of the relevant subjects receive particularly detailed attention Among these the following are especially noteworthy The existence of reward and drive neurons Constitutional differences in physiological adaptations to stress and d tress Motivation mood and mental events in relation to adaptive processes Peripheral catecholamines and adaptation to underload and overload Selective corticoid and catecholamine several decades there has been a remarkable flourishing and diversification of research in psychology and psychiatry in the USSR What we have attempted to do in this symposium is to present a constructive critical overview of certain limited areas by arranging an interchange of observations and ideas between several American scientists knowledgeable in these fields and a psychologist and psychiatrist who obtained their education and working experience in the USSR We hope to be able to expand such symposia in the future so as to cover other important areas of these disciplines This monograph presents an eyewitness account of Pavlov by W Horsley Gantt one of three surviving students of Pavlov and to the best of my knowledge the only American who actually studied and worked with Pavlov It is a measure of Dr Gantt's devotion to the development of scientific psychiatry that he went to the USSR to spend six years in Pavlov's laboratory at a time of extreme economic hardship and political turmoil in that country and in the face of having to master a difficult language In his presentation Dr
