The Hertfordshire Yeomanry Regiments Royal Artillery An Illustrated History The Field Regiments 19201946 Pt 1:

Armies of Empire Allan Converse, 2011-04-07 Armies of Empire uniquely reflects upon the experience of two divisions from different armies facing similar challenges in the Second World War The 9th Australian Division and the British 50th Northumbrian Division both saw long service and suffered heavy casualties and both encountered morale discipline and battlefield effectiveness problems In this illuminating comparative study of Australian and British divisions at war Allan Converse draws extensively on primary sources as well as recent scholarship on morale and combat efficiency His fresh approach questions the popular mythology surrounding the Australian Digger and the British Tommy and shows how it was a combination of leadership loyalty and tactics rather than intrinsic national qualities which resulted in victory for Churchill's armies

Ubique Richard Doherty, 2016-07-22 In Richard Doherty's latest book he looks at the wide ranging role of the Royal Artillery RA during the Second World War examining its state of preparedness in 1939 the many developments that were introduced during the War including aerial observation and self propelled artillery the growth of the regiment and its effectiveness in its many roles It is illustrated with stories of the actions of individuals from members of gun detachments to general officers During the Second World War the Germans assessed the Royal Artillery as the most professional arm of the British Army British gunners were accurate effective and efficient and provided fire support for their armoured and infantry colleagues that was better than that in any other army It is often claimed that British artillery came into its own after the Battle of El Alamein in late 1942 In the opening bombardment of Operation Lightfoot the massed artillery of the Eighth Army hammered Axis positions and severely damaged the enemy artillery s ability to react But this was not the first occasion on which the Eighth Army had massed its artillery it had done so with 200 guns along the Alamein Line in July and the effectiveness had long been recognised In fact the power of a concentrated shoot had been shown by one gunner regiment during the May 1940 Dunkirk campaign However the RA provided much more than field and medium artillery battlefield support Gunner regiments manned anti tank guns on the frontline and light anti aircraft guns in divisional regiments to defend against air attack at home and abroad The RA also helped to protect convoys that brought essential supplies to Britain and AA gunners had their finest hour when they destroyed the majority of the V 1 flying bombs launched against Britain from June 1944
