The Haunting Of Lamb House:

The Haunting of Lamb House Joan Aiken, 1993 A fictional account of the haunting of one of the most literary houses in history speculates on the supernatural dimensions of the house that inspired Henry James to write The Turn of the Screw

The role of "Lamb House" in Joan Aiken's novel "The Haunting of Lamb House" Philipp Röttgers, 2022-04-05 Seminar paper from the year 2015 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature grade 1.3 University of Bonn Institut für Anglistik Amerikanistik und Keltologie course Country Houses and Landscape Gardens language English abstract Haunted houses have become an own genre in literature The Haunting of Lamb House seems a classical haunted house story It is a novel written in 1991 by British author Joan Aiken and it deals with the real existing Lamb House in Rye Sussex First I will give a short overview over the real existing Lamb House in Rye in the neighbourhood of Aiken's birthplace and some information about its inhabitants which might be important for the story In the analysis I will give a definition of the haunted house and the whole genre that deals with haunted houses Then I will go through the story of the novel and point out the impact Lamb House has on its inhabitants and the way the house is presented Afterwards I will have a look at the historic background of the story Aiken has written In the conclusion I will also try to find out if Lamb House in the story represents a haunted house and if the novel fulfils the criteria for being a novel which fits into the genre of the haunted house Ghost

Stories by British and American Women Lynette Carpenter, Wendy K. Kolmar, 2015-01-28 Originally published in 1998 and covering a tradition ignored by most critics this bibliography assembles and documents a large body of supernatural fiction written by women in English from the end of the 18th century to the present These stories the work of women whose literary reputations personal histories and bodies of work vary widely challenge the narrow way in which supernatural literature has traditionally been regarded they indicate a much richer and more complex set of literary responses to the supernatural than has been hitherto acknowledged The writers included range from Ann Radcliffe and the Gothic novelists to Louisa May Alcott Charlotte Gilman and Edith Wharton to such modern writers as Elizabeth Bowen Jean Rhys Muriel Spark and A. S. Byatt The volume will be of interest to literary and cultural historians and of particular importance to women's studies scholars The Murder of Mr. Grebell Paul Kléber Monod, 2008-10-01 On a winter night in 1743 a local magistrate was stabbed to death in the churchyard of Rye by an angry butcher Why did this gruesome crime happen What does it reveal about the political economic and cultural patterns that existed in this small English port town To answer these questions this fascinating book takes us back to the mid sixteenth century when religious and social tensions began to fragment the quiet town of Rye and led to witch hunts riots and violent political confrontations Paul Monod examines events over the course of the next two centuries tracing the town's transition as it moved from narrowly focused Reformation norms to the more expansive ideas of the emerging commercial society In the process relations among the town's inhabitants were fundamentally altered The history of Rye mirrored that of the whole nation and it gives us an intriguing new perspective on Provocation and Negotiation. Gesche Ipsen, Timothy Mathews, Dragana Obradovic, 2013 This collection of essays takes on two of the most pressing questions that face the discipline of Comparative Literature today Why compare and Where do we go from here At a difficult economic time when universities all over the world once again have to justify the social as well as academic value of their work it is crucial that we consider the function of comparison itself in reaching across disciplinary and cultural boundaries The essays written for this book are by researchers from all over the world and range in topic from the problem of translating biblical Hebrew to modern atheism from Freud to Marlene van Niekerk from the formation of one person s identity to experiences of globalisation and the relation of history to fiction Together they display the ground breaking ideas which lie at the heart of an act as deceptively simple as comparing one piece of writing to another
