Mike Conner, James D. Austin, Peter J. Taylor, 2022-01-04 All the information researchers students and practitioners need to conducted innovative state of the art research on small mammals Rodents and insectivores constitute the vast majority of mammals on our planet yet we often overlook the importance of this group As seed dispersers prey species and disease regulators these animals are critical to the functioning of our ecological systems While considerable material exists that describes these species there has been no dedicated guide explaining how to effectively research them until now Methods for Ecological Research on Terrestrial Small Mammals is a one stop resource compiling all the information readers need to conduct state of the art research on small terrestrial mammals across the globe The authors cover the full spectrum of issues from capture handling identification reproduction demography and taxonomy to behavior diet evolution diseases movements morphometrics and more They also highlight the latest techniques while carefully explaining the tried and tested methods needed to conduct rigorous scientific inquiries provide step by step examples and case studies demonstrating how the methods discussed can be used in actual research projects compare and contrast methodologies analytical techniques and software packages helping researchers determine which pathways and tools will yield the best results for their studies A comprehensive and invaluable resource Methods for Ecological Research on Terrestrial Small Mammals is a must have for any ecologist working on small mammals Small Mammals Burke Publishing Company, Limited, 1988 Small Mammals F. B. Golley, K. Petrusewicz, L. Ryszowski, 1975-09-25 This volume first published in 1975 looks at small mammal populations with emphasis being placed on their ecology and energy dynamics It discusses the most productive research techniques and research objectives The second part of the book deals with the roles of small mammals in ecosystems Drivers of small-mammal community structure in tropical savannas Bradley J. Bergstrom, Ara Monadjem, Christopher Richard Dickman, Emerson M. Vieira, 2023-06-06 Mammalogy Terry Vaughan, James Ryan, Nicholas Czaplewski, 2011-04-21 Newly revised and extensively updated the fifth edition of Mammalogy explains and clarifies the subject of mammalian biology as a unified whole taking care to discuss the latest and most fascinating discoveries in the field In recent years we witnessed significant changes in the taxonomy of mammals The authors kept pace with such changes and revised each chapter to reflect the most current data and statistics available New pedagogical elements including chapter outlines lists of key morphological characteristics and further reading sections help readers grasp the most important concepts and explore additional content on their own Book Jacket Small Mammals F. B. Golley, K. Petruszewicz, L. Ryszowski, 1975-09-25 The ability of small mammals to exploit environmental resources based upon a rapid adaptation to short term changes in population and or the environment as well as to a variety of local conditions implies a strong impact upon natural resources The role played by small mammal consumers in the flow of energy within natural and man modified ecosystems is therefore of equal importance to that of larger longer lived species which have been studied more intensively This volume first published in 1975 looks at small mammal populations with emphasis being placed on their ecology and energy dynamics It discusses the most productive research techniques and research objectives The second part of the book deals with the roles of small mammals in ecosystems ranging from the tropics to the tundra and special consideration is given to the impact of rodents on man Research workers in the fields of mammalogy and ecology will find this an essential book and agriculturists foresters and anyone concerned professionally with the control of small mammals will find much that is of value to their work General Technical Report RM. , 1988 Great Plains Wildlife Damage Control Workshop Proceedings , 1987 Wildlife Abstracts U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, 1954 Eighth Great Plains Wildlife Damage Control Workshop Proceedings Greg L. Schenbeck, Rose Cefkin, Daniel W. Uresk, 1988 Mammal Community Dynamics Cynthia J. Zabel, Robert G. Anthony, 2003-09-18 Conservation of mammals in the coniferous forests of western North America has shifted in recent years from species based strategies to community and ecosystem based strategies resulting in an increase in the available information on mammalian communities and their management This book provides a synthesis of the published literature on the role of forest mammals in community structure and function with emphasis on their management and conservation In addition to coverage of some of the charismatic megafauna such as grizzly bears gray wolves mountain lions elk and moose the book also provides a thorough treatment of small terrestrial mammals arboreal rodents bats medium sized carnivores and ungulates The unique blend of theoretical and practical concepts makes this book equally suitable for managers educators and research biologists who will find it a valuable reference to the recent literature on a vast array of topics on mammalian ecology Grand Teton National Park (N.P.), Bison and Elk Management Plan , 2005 Sustaining Young Forest Communities Cathryn Greenberg, Beverly Collins, Frank Thompson III, 2011-08-03 This edited volume addresses a rising concern among natural resource scientists and management professionals about decline of the many plant and animal species associated with early successional habitats especially within the Central Hardwood Region of the USA These open habitats with herbaceous shrub or young forest cover are disappearing as abandoned farmland pastures and cleared forest patches return to forest There are many questions about why what where and how to manage for early successional habitats In this book expert scientists and experienced land managers synthesize knowledge and original scientific work to address questions on such topics as wildlife water carbon sequestration natural versus managed disturbance future scenarios and sustainable creation and management of early successional habitat in a landscape context

Forests and Society Kristiina A. Vogt, 2007 This book which contains 8 chapters provides a framework for the general public forest managers and policy makers to understand what factors need to be included when working towards using and protecting the world's forests so that they can be sustained Topics covered include historical perceptions and use of forests the creation of today's forest landscapes by global societies decision making related to forests becoming democratic and globalized changing views about the ecology and conservation of forests the historical and continuing impacts of human disturbances i.e. air pollution climatic change salt injury introduced plants introduced insects introduced pathogens forest management activities and wars on forests the relevance of natural disturbances i.e. wildfires wind extreme temperature and moisture volcanic eruptions pathogens and insect and vertebrate pests in maintaining sustainable forests the relationship of human health to forest management and the relationship among forests humans and the carbon cycle Case studies from Australia Bolivia Botswana China Iceland India Indonesia Mexico Nepal Peru the Philippines Puerto Rico and the USA are also included

Land Condition Trend Analysis Avian Database: Ecological Guild-based Summaries, 1998 Land Condition Trend Analysis LCTA bird database documentation capabilities often are limited to the generation of installation wide species checklists estimates of relative abundance and evidence of breeding activity The conservation and characterization of biological diversity is becoming a management objective of both governmental and private organizations and as such more ecologically descriptive summaries are being required Ecological guild analyses have been proposed as a means to link wildlife to a specific biodiversity component and thus represents an option to military trainers in evaluating impacts to wildlife communities This report documents an LCTA database update that provides selected ecological attributes particularly for the nesting season for 676 bird species occurring within the continental United States This database upgrade provides land managers the capability to 1 generate ecological guild based summaries with no additional fieldwork 2 identify specific groups of birds most likely to be impacted by a spatially discrete training impact 3 customize the local database by adjusting individual attributes for species specific to the installation and 4 conveniently cross reference or simply convert all LCTA species codes to more globally recognized American Ornithological Union AOU numbers or the Bird Banding Laboratories Alpha codes
