Social Control Of Religious Zeal A Study:

The Social Control of Religious Zeal Jon Miller, 1994 How has the organization of the Christian missionary movement managed to persist for almost two centuries Jon Miller covers the activities of the Evangelical Missionary Society of Basel Switzerland from 1828 to 1918 as it struggled to bring its Pietist religious beliefs to the people of the Gold Coast of West Africa The mission gave different social classes an opportunity to interact in a way that would have been unlikely in Europe Many of the missionaries became socially mobile over the generations through their evangelical work In matters of governance Pietist beliefs called for concentrated power at the center That discipline channeled the zeal of the missionaries but it alienated ordinary members and suppressed their initiative while at the same time allowing creativity among eccentric nonconformists Miller interprets these contradictions explores their consequences at home and abroad and explains how the mission persisted despite the personal pain its members experienced The mission remains active and influential in Africa to this day This study of the passage of an organization through time will interest organizational sociologists sociologists of religion and students of social theory and social change Research in the Social Scientific Study of Religion Ralph L.

Introduction to the Sociology of Missions Robert L. Montgomery, 1999-11-30 While much work has been done to apply anthropological insights to the study of missions the sociological perspective has been generally neglected by missiologists This volume defines the sociology of missions as a discrete subdiscipline within the sociology of religion and provides a working set of conceptual resources for those involved in mission work to use in furthering their understanding of their task The author reviews the major areas of sociology that are most relevant to missions and presents his findings as a basis for discussion and a stimulus to further exploration of relevant sociological concepts and theories One of his main goals is to increase dialogue between missiologists and sociologists of religion by providing the former with a sociological perspective and the latter with a deeper understanding of the missionary enterprise

From Mission to Modernity Paul Sedra, 2011-03-30 In this pioneering account of Egyptian educational history Paul Sedra describes how the Egyptian state under Muhammad Ali Pasha sought to forge a new relationship with children during the nineteenth century Through the introduction of modern forms of education brought to Egypt by evangelical missions the state aimed to ensure children's loyal service to the state whether through conscription or forced labour However these schemes of educational reform most prominently Joseph Lancaster's monitorial system led to unforeseen consequences as students in Egypt's new modern schools resisted efforts to control their behaviour in creative and complex ways and these acts of resistance themselves led to new forms of political identity Tracing the development of a distinctly Egyptian modernity From Mission to Modernity is indispensable for all those interested in Egyptian history and the history of modern education and reform

Pietism and Community in Europe and North America, 1650-1850, 2010-10-25 Pietist movements challenged traditional forms of religious community group formation and ecclesiology Where many older accounts have emphasized the individual and subjective nature of Pietists to the exclusion of community one of the hallmarks of Pietism has been the creation of groups and experimentation with new forms of religious association and sociality The essays presented here reflect the diverse ways in which Pietists struggled with the tension between the separation from the world and the formation of new communities from the seventeenth to the nineteenth century in Europe and North America Presenting a range of methodological perspectives the authors explore the processes of community formation the function of communicative networks and the diversity of Pietist communities within the context of early modern religious and cultural history Religious History and Culture Series Volume 4 Subseries Editors Joris van Eijnatten Fred van Lieburg Gender and Conversion Narratives in the Nineteenth Century Kirsten Rüther, Angelika Schaser, 2016-03-03 Addressing an important social and political issue which is still much debated today this volume explores the connections between religious conversions and gendered identity against the backdrop of a world undergoing significant social transformations Adopting a collaborative approach to their research the authors explore the connections and differences in conversion experiences tracing the local and regional rootedness of individual conversions as reflected in conversion narratives in three different locations Germany and German missions in South Africa and colonial Australia at a time of massive social changes in the 1860s Beginning with the representation of religious experiences in so called conversion narratives the authors explore the social embeddedness of religious conversions and inquire how people related to their social surroundings and in particular to gender order and gender practices before during and after their conversion With a concluding reflective essay on comparative methods of history writing and transnational perspectives on conversion this book offers a fresh perspective on historical debates about religious change gender and social relations      An Indian to the Indians? Reinhard Wendt,2006 Preface in German abstracts in English and German      Gendered Missions Mary Taylor Huber,Nancy Lutkehaus,1999 Explores the roles and expectations of women and men in Christian missionary experience      African Modernities and Mobilities Nkwi, Walter Gam,2015-05-10 In this book Walter Gam Nkwi documents the complexities and nuances embedded in African modernities and mobilities which have been overlooked in historical discourses in Africa and Cameroon Using an ethnographic historical approach and drawing on the intricacies of what it has meant to be and belong in Kom an ethnic community in the Northwest Region of Cameroon since 1800 he explores the discourses and practices of kfaang as central to any understanding of mobility and modernity in Kom Cameroon and Africa at large The book unveils the emic understanding of modernity through the history and ethnography of kfaang and its technologies and illustrates how these terminologies were conceived and perceived by the Kom people in their social and physical mobilities It documents and analyzes the historical processes involved in bringing about and making kfaang a defining feature of everyday life in Kom and among Kom subjects      Preserving Order Amid Chaos John Rhodes Paige,2000-11-01 To say that education in Africa is under stress is all too obvious News reports from that continent seem to describe only war and violence poverty and malnutrition corruption and mismanagement or natural disasters that destroy or threaten already frail infrastructures most news from Africa is bad news When an education system survives in a country like Uganda long subjected to the whims of despotic leadership it warrants an investigation This book tells the story of four senior secondary schools during a time of war and intractable social conflict examining a complex topic through multiple perspectives such as documentary history oral history ethnography and organization theory The author develops a broad picture of the Amin Obote years and the accompanying political and social chaos in Uganda while at the same time filling in the crucial details essential for developing an understanding of school survival in the Kaborole District The author's intensive field work gives this study a unique dimension by preserving a record of African voices students teachers parents alumni board members community leaders a rich tableau of the local conditions for school survival emerges At the same time the discussion is situated within the larger Ugandan historical and political context thus offering an excellent example of the application of multiple research perspectives to a complex social cultural and political setting     The Growth of the Brethren Movement: National and International Experiences Neil T. R.

Dickson, Tim Grass, 2006-12-01 The essays in this book have been contributed in honour of Dr H H Rowdon a teacher of several generations of students at the London Bible College and a historian of the Brethren movement The book includes reflections on the historiography of the Brethren but it is their character and growth which form the principal focus The writers make original contributions to national regional or local histories and at the same time raise wider themes and issues on topics such as revivalism in New Zealand and the Orkney Islands or paternalism and missionary endeavor in Zambia Leading features of the Brethren are discussed through papers on several seminal figures such as Anthony Norris Groves John Eliot Howard and George Muller Above all the opportunities and problems represented by the worldwide growth of the movement are looked at with reference to a number of countries among them Britain Germany Jamaica and Angola or to individual congregations in places as diverse as Birmingham Singapore and Tasmania Over the whole world concludes Prof D W Bebbington in his contribution Brethren played a distinctive role as evangelicals of the evangelicals     Institutions and Organizations W. Richard Scott, 2008 Introduction Early institutionalists Institutional theory meets organization studies Crafting an analytic framework I three pillars of institutions Constructing an analytic framework II content agency carriers and levels Institutional construction Institutionalization Institutional processes and organizations Institutional processes and organization fields An overview and a caution
