Older People in Modern Society Anthea Tinker, 2014-10-13 Older People in Modern Society is an established classic text in its field and through subsequent editions its reputation and that of its author has grown In this fourth and renamed edition Anthea Tinker synthesises and discusses a wide range of literature about older people drawing from fields such as medicine sociology and social policy and using primary source material to illustrate the text She also introduces a number of topics that have attained greater importance since publication of the third edition in 1992 for example continuing care and the abuse of older people Fractured Identities Harriet Bradley,2015-11-24 The gap between rich and poor included and excluded advantaged and disadvantaged is steadily growing as inequality becomes one of the most pressing issues of our times The new edition of this popular text explores current patterns of inequality in the context of increasing globalization world recession and neoliberal policies of austerity Within a framework of intersectionality Bradley discusses various theories and concepts for understanding inequalities of class gender ethnicity and age while an entirely new chapter touches on the social divisions arising from disabilities non heterosexual orientations and religious affiliation Bradley argues that processes of fracturing which complicate the way we as individuals identify and locate ourselves in relation to the rest of society exist alongside a tendency to social polarization at one end of the social hierarchy are the super rich at the other end long term unemployment and job insecurity are the fate of many especially the young In the reordering of the social hierarchy members of certain ethnic minority groups disabled people and particular segments of the working class suffer disproportionately while prevailing economic conditions threaten to offset the gains made by women in past decades Fractured Identities shows how only by understanding and challenging these developments can we hope to build a fairer and more socially inclusive society Innovative Management in Information and Production Junzo Watada,Bing Xu,Berlin Wu,2013-06-22 Innovative Management in Information and Production is based on the proceedings of the Third International Symposium on Innovative Management Information and Production This symposium is held by International Society of Management Engineers The symposium took place on October 8 10 in HCMC Vietnam This book examines recent innovative management of information and productions such as digital collection management and operations planning scheduling and control Dementia and Social Inclusion Anthea Innes,Carole Archibald,Charlie Murphy,2004-08-05 Examining important issues in dementia research and care that are often neglected the contributors to this book provide fresh perspectives on current practice The authors put dementia care into a socio cultural framework highlighting the impact of social change on dementia care over the last two decades and challenging current stereotypes Classical and Contemporary Sociological Theory Scott Appelrouth,Laura Desfor Edles,2020-08-13 Classical and Contemporary Sociological Theory Text and Readings provides students with the best of both worlds carefully edited excerpts from the original works of sociology s key thinkers accompanied by an analytical framework that discusses the lives ideas and historical circumstances of each theorist This unique format enables students to examine compare and contrast each theorist s major themes and concepts The Emotional Politics of the Alternative Left Joachim C. Häberlen,2018-09-20 Presents a fascinating account of the emotional politics and practices in the West German alternative left Ageing in Modern Society Dorothy Jerrome,2024-05-10 The twentieth century saw twin developments in Britain changes in the pattern of employment producing the institution of retirement and demographic changes resulting in an ageing population In the 1980s these phenomena stimulated interest and concern in political professional and academic circles The growing interest in ageing encouraged the development of social gerontology as a new area of intellectual activity in Britain Originally published in 1983 the chapters in Ageing in Modern Society draw attention to the changed circumstances in which ageing takes place at the subjective level at the level of care and provision and at the level of theory Some challenge prevailing notions about the characteristics needs and capacity of older people Others are about the changing perceptions of policy makers and practitioners The collection as a whole offers a view of social gerontology and illustrates the integration of theory and practice Taken together the contributions reflect the view that the contemporary experience of old age needs to be seen against a background of social change and cultural diversity

Modern English Society Judith Ryder, Harold Silver, 2024-01-01 First published in 1970 Modern English Society is primarily concerned with the period since the Great Exhibition of 1851 Judith Ryder and Harold Silver begin by surveying the consequences good and ill of industrialization and go on to explore the changing pattern of social relationships to which it gave rise They discuss such topics as the growth of towns and of large scale administration the development of welfare services the emergence of mass politics the mass media and mass production They show how social attitudes and the interpretation of historical facts are colored by our ideological views In the second half of the book they examine the structure and functioning of contemporary social institutions the family education the economic and political systems and assess their implications for the individual for specific social groups and for society as a whole This book will be of interest to students of history and sociology
