Hirst, 2010-01-21 First published in 1976 this book is concerned with the nature of classification in the social sciences Its thesis is that classifications are dependent upon and are derived from theoretical explanations Classification is not a theoretically neutral typification or ordering of social forms This is because objects classified societies social institutions are not given to knowledge independently of the categories which construct them and because the categories of classification are themselves the products of theories

Islam in the Modern World (RLE Politics of Islam) Denis MacEoin, Ahmed Al-Shahi, 2013-07-24 In recent years events in the Islamic world have captured the attention of the West to an unprecedented degree However much of the media coverage of events like the Islamic revolution in Iran has merely reinforced current prejudices and misconceptions about Islam This collection of essays by specialists in a variety of disciplines gives an impressionistic overview of contemporary Islam Different areas of Islamic life are singled out for special attention these include the problem of relations between Islam and the West the role of the Sufi orders and the revival of religious fundamentalism Islam and the feminine Islamic economics and Islamic architecture Geographically the essays cover a wide area ranging over Sudan Turkey Iran Egypt and Saudi Arabia Each discussion should appeal to the layman and specialist alike and collectively they bring together a comprehensive range of material not often covered in one volume Above all they cut across the stereotypes of Islam found in the popular media to reveal facets of a complex living tradition often unsuspected in the West First published in 1983

Radical Issues in Criminology Pat Carlen, Mike Collison, 1980-01-01 This collection of essays deals with central issues relating to the rule of law individual rights and the politics of penal reform The issues examined include juvenile justice criminal violence feminism and criminology civil liberties police powers justice in prisons and the necessity for social life to be regulated by law The emphasis throughout is upon specific concrete problems and the formulation of possible solutions In marked contrast to many radical criminologists who have fashioned utopian visions of a socialist society untroubled by problems of social regulation each contributor to this book focuses sharply upon tangible problems and workable alternatives By eschewing global theories of either crime or law and by avoiding generalized radical recipes for change these essays provide an important counter balance to recent libertarian anarchistic and utopian trends in modern criminology

Domination and Power Peter Miller, 2019-11-21 First published in 1987 Our understanding of the nature of power in western societies is currently undergoing a major reassessment The significance of this reassessment emerges forcefully through comparing the writings of the principal exponents of Critical Theory Max Horkheimer Herbert Marcuse and Jürgen Habermas with those of Michel Foucault Peter Miller suggests that these two traditions embody fundamentally distinct philosophical and sociological principles He grounds his analysis in the concepts of domination Critical Theory and power Foucault Miller identifies the notion of subjectivity as central to a differentiation of the respective approaches of Critical Theory and Foucault For Critical Theory it is the repression of subjectivity which provides the evidence of domination and the rationale for its critique while for Foucault subjectivity in western societies is fabricated through power and linked to the deployment of specific knowledges Miller shows that despite the achievements of Critical Theory in bringing to light the repressive nature of advanced industrial societies its thinking is inadequate as a basis for future analysis and critique He argues that Foucault s genealogy of the modern subject which highlights the role of the human sciences in its fabrication is a more fruitful basis for charting and investigating the mode of operation of contemporary forms of power The book includes a survey of all published works by Foucault up to the time of his death in 1984 and commentaries on the writings of Max Horkheimer Herbert Marcuse and J rgen Habermas
