The Child in Society Hazel R Wright, 2014-11-17 The child has a very special place in society and society defines and shapes childhood Understanding childhood is essential to early years students and this book offers a great introduction Taking a thematic approach chapters cover Historical and Cultural Perspectives Policy and Economic Perspectives

Psychological and Biological Perspectives Contemporary Views Each chapter prompts you to reflect on core issues and interrogate your practice and attitudes towards children in your care This fantastic foundation will help you to begin to understand the relationship between the child and society The Child as Citizen Felton Earls,2011-06-09 Marking the 20th anniversary of the United Nations General Assembly's adoption of the Convention on the Rights of the Child CRC this volume of the ANNALS considers conceptual legal and practical issues related to the realization of children as citizens Children in State Care June Thoburn,2017-03-02 This volume brings together a selection of the most influential and informative English language refereed journal articles on children in out of home care their birth relatives and carers The articles which include empirical research and critiques of policy and practice are mainly from the UK and USA but include some coverage of child placement policy and practice in Australia and mainland Europe The volume starts with a joint introductory chapter by the two distinguished authors one American one British reviewing the state of knowledge on children in care and drawing attention to other important sources not included as chapters Fathering Behaviors Wade C. Mackey,2012-12-06 Like the lines of a secret map made dimly apparent by the chemical potion brushed on a piece of paper from a child's detective kit the outlines of what may be a substantial behavioral biology of human life seem to be coming clear From genetic science at its most molecular to demography with its assessment of the vital experience of massive populations there is a growing understanding of the various ways in which the human species reveals underlying commonalities of experience through the life cycle and over the web of interactions that constitutes the basic matter of social life At the same time research has been successful in two superficially and contradictory directions first in showing the enormous variation in human arrangements and consciousness across and within cultures and second in showing the similarity between cultures as far as basic processes of physiology neurophysiology and even so-called life are concerned But the contradiction only exists in the absence of an understanding of the fact that in a species living under as many ecological historical and economic niches as Homo sapiens cultural variation is what one would naturally expect Sex and Gender H. T. Wilson,1989 This book shows how different a focus on gender is from one on sex whether in scholarly thinking professional activity or public policy making It indicates how incorrect contemporary renditions of the difference between them is provides an explanation of this tension and difference based on the critical analysis of key institutions and shows the serious consequences of this confusion for women in particular across a wide range of institutional processes and practices in North America and Western Europe This confusion out of the failure to understand adequately the historical origins of sex as a civil designation in a political economy and in state taxation and census concerns and the corollary determination of spokesmen for the emerging capitalist and industrial nation state to extirpate the last vestiges of gender given its tie to a pre industrial kinship system found in towns and local communities This is a forcefully written study which integrates material from a vast range of disciplines and professional practices It also seeks to integrate salient work in women's and feminist studies into a critique of key institutions and practices if advanced industrial societies it uses critical theory and makes this available to students and practitioners as well as scholars and academics Society of Former Special Agents of the FBI Turner Publishing, 1998-06 The Browning Society's Papers Browning Society (London, England), 1885 Postcolonial Approaches to Latin American Children's Literature Ann González, 2018-01-31 In this volume González explores how the effects of a traumatic colonial experience are re-presented to Latin American children today almost two centuries after the dismantling of colonialism proper Central to this study is the argument that the historical constraints of colonialism neocolonialism and postcolonialism have generated certain repeating themes and literary strategies in children's literature throughout the Spanish speaking Americas From the outset of Spanish domination fundamental tensions emerged between the colonizers and native groups that still exist to this day Rather than a felicitous mixing of these two opposing groups the mestizo is caught between contrasting worldviews contending explanations of reality and different values beliefs and epistemologies that is different ways of seeing and knowing Postcolonial subjects experience these contending cultural beliefs and practices as a double bind a no win situation in which they feel pressured by mutually exclusive expectations and imperatives Latin American mestizos therefore are inevitably conflicted Despite the vastness of the geography in question and the innumerable variations in regional histories oral traditions and natural settings these contradictory demands create a pervasive dynamic that penetrates the very fabric of society showing up intentionally or not in the stories passed from generation to generation as well as in new stories written or adapted for Spanish speaking children The goal of this study therefore is to examine a variety of children's texts from the region to determine how national and hemispheric perceptions of reality identity and values are passed to the next generation This book will appeal to scholars in the fields of Latin American literary and cultural studies children's literature postcolonial studies and comparative literature
