Bose,Paul Tiessen,1987-01-01 The Colbeck collection was formed over half a century ago by the Bournemouth bookseller Norman Colbeck Focusing primarily on British essayists and poets of the nineteenth century from the Romantic Movement through the Edwardian era the collection features nearly 500 authors and lists over 13 000 works Entries are alphabetically arranged by author with copious notes on the condition and binding of each copy Nine appendices provide listings of selected periodicals series publications anthologies yearbooks and topical works Happy England Marcus Bourne Huish,1909 The Making of Women Artists in Victorian England Jo Devereux,2016-08-02 When women were admitted to the Royal Academy Schools in 1860 female art students gained a foothold in the most conservative art institution in England The Royal Female College of Art the South Kensington Schools and the Slade School of Fine Art also produced increasing numbers of women artists Their entry into a male dominated art world altered the perspective of other artists and the public They came from disparate levels of society Princess Louise the fourth daughter of Queen Victoria studied sculpture at the National Art Training School yet they all shared ambition talent and courage Analyzing their education and careers this book argues that the women who attended the art schools during the 1860s and 1870s including Kate Greenaway Elizabeth Butler Helen Allingham Evelyn De Morgan and Henrietta Rae produced work that would accommodate yet subtly challenge the orthodoxies of the fine art establishment Without their contributions Victorian art would be not simply the poorer but hardly recognizable to us today Happy England As Painted by Helen Allingham, R. W. S - Primary Source Edition Helen Paterson Allingham,Marcus Bourne Huish,2013-10 This is a reproduction of a book published before 1923 This book may have occasional imperfections such as missing or blurred pages poor pictures errant marks etc that were either part of the original artifact or were introduced by the scanning process We believe this work is culturally important and despite the imperfections have elected to bring it back into print as part of our continuing commitment to the preservation of printed works worldwide We appreciate your understanding of the imperfections in the preservation process and hope you enjoy this valuable book Women, Art and

Money in Late Victorian and Edwardian England Maria Quirk, 2019-05-16 Women Art and Money in England establishes the importance of women artists commercial dealings to their professional identities and reputations in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Grounded in economic social and art history the book draws on and synthesises data from a broad range of documentary and archival sources to present a comprehensive history of women artists professional status and business relationships within the complex and changing art market of late Victorian England By providing new insights into the routines and incomes of women artists and the spaces where they created exhibited and sold their art this book challenges established ideas about what women had to do to be considered professional artists More important than a Royal Academy education or membership to exhibiting societies was a woman s ability to sell her work This meant that women had strong incentive to paint in saleable popular and middlebrow genres which reinforced prejudices towards women s naturally inferior artistic ability prejudices that continued far into the twentieth century From shining a light on the difficult to trace pecuniary arrangements of little researched artists like Ethel Mortlock to offering new and direct comparisons between the incomes earned by male and female artists and the genres commissions and exhibitions that earned women the most money Women Art and Money is a timely contribution to the history of women s working lives that is relevant to a number of scholarly disciplines
