for undergraduate students of English for their course on Women's Writings in the Nineteenth and Twentieth centuries this compact and well organized book provides both the history of the development of the short story in America and Britain and a comprehensive introduction to the modes and critical practices based on feminist thinking. It takes into account the strategies used by women writers and discusses the politics of reception and production keeping especially the gender issue in mind. The text is divided into three parts. Part I Introduction containing two chapters that deal with the development of the American short story and the resurgence of radical feminism in America. These provide the historical and the feminist frame within which the short stories by the Anglo American Women's Writers should be read. Part II gives four short stories: Kate Chopin's The Story of An Hour, Charlotte Perkins Gilman's The Yellow Wallpaper, Willa Cather's Coming Aphrodite and Katherine Mansfield's Bliss. Each short story is preceded by a critical introduction, detailed references for further reading and a biographical time line. Part III comprises three critical essays which provide sharp insights into the period in which the four women writers were writing. This book will be treasured not only by students but also by those who wish to study critically the feminist writings of the period. In addition it will enrich readers' understanding of American and British literary history and culture. The critical introduction to each short story traces the development of the form from its origins both historically and in terms of female literary contributions to its development. The chapter on Radical Feminism is mapped in the context of social, political and cultural development. The book provides historical, literary and biographical contexts of the writers and their short stories.

Archaeologies of an Uncertain Future Karen McPherson, 2006-12-15 An apocalyptic vision of planetary self destruction provided the context for many late twentieth century narratives. Women writers from Quebec and English Canada including Margaret Atwood, Madeleine Ouellette Michalska, Madeleine Gagnon, Betsy Warland, Marie Claire Blais and Nicole Brossard redefined their relationship to time and narrative in order to tell a different, perhaps more hopeful story. Using archaeology as a trope and a methodology, Karen McPherson's critical excavations of these women's writings pose questions about loss and mourning, survival and witnessing, devastation and writing, remembering and imagining.

Third Wave Feminism S. Gillis, G. Howie, R. Munford, 2007-04-17 This revised and expanded edition, new in paperback, provides a definitive collection on the current period in feminism known by many as the third wave. Three sections: genealogies and generations, locales and locations, politics and popular culture, interrogate the wave metaphor and, through questioning the generational account of feminism, indicate possible future trajectories for the feminist movement. New to this edition are an interview with Luce Irigaray, a foreword by Imelda Whelehan, as well as newly commissioned chapters.
