

REFERENDUM

Communism

VS

Democracy

Economic System

Communism advocates for a classless society where the means of production are collectively owned and controlled by the community.

Democracy does not prescribe a specific economic system and can exist alongside various economic models, including capitalism and socialism.

Ownership And Property Rights

Communism promotes the abolition of private property and advocates for the collective ownership of resources, means of production, and wealth.

Democracy recognizes and upholds private property rights and allows individuals to own and control assets within the legal framework.

Political Power

Communism emphasizes the concentration of political power in the hands of a centralized government or a single ruling party.

Democracy, on the other hand, distributes political power among citizens through voting and allows for the existence of multiple political parties.

Individual Rights And Freedoms

Communism often subordinates individual rights and freedoms to the collective interests of society.

Democracy places a significant emphasis on protecting individual rights, including freedom of speech, religion, assembly, and other.

Social Equality

Communism strives for social and economic equality, seeking to eliminate class distinctions and income disparities.

Democracy, while it may advocate for social justice and equality, does not necessarily mandate complete economic equality and recognizes individual differences in wealth and social status.

Decision-Making Process

Decisions regarding economic planning, resource allocation, and social policies are often made by a central authority or a small group of leaders.

Democracy involves a participatory decision-making process where citizens have the right to vote, elect representatives, and participate in the formation of policies through public debate and discourse.
